Mackintosh's Masterwork Charles Rennie Mackintosh, 2004 Of the many practitioners of art nouveau in Great Britain Charles Rennie Mackintosh 1868 1928 has outlasted them all His work bridged the more ornate style of the later nineteenth century and the forms of international modernism that followed Like Frank Lloyd Wright with whom he is frequently compared he is known for so thoroughly integrating art and decoration that the two became inseparable His work has been honored by a major exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and his designs have proliferated to such an extent that they can be found reproduced in posters prints jewelry and even new buildings His most important project was the Glasgow School of Art which still functions as a highly prestigious art school This glorious building is visited each year by thousands of tourists from around the world Built over a dozen years beginning in 1897 the Glasgow School of Art is Mackintosh's greatest and most influential legacy This completely redesigned and heavily illustrated edition of Mackintosh's Masterwork has been greatly expanded and contains newly discovered material about both the early life of the architect and the formative years in which his plans for the School of Art were executed

Experiencing Architecture in the Nineteenth Century Edward Gillin, H. Horatio Joyce, 2018-10-18 Bringing together fourteen original essays this collection opens up new perspectives on the architectural history of the nineteenth century by examining the buildings of the period through the lens of experience With a focus on the experience of the ordinary building user rather than simply on the intentions of the designer the book shows that new and important insights can be brought to our understanding of Victorian architecture The chapters present a range of ideas and new research some examining individual building case studies from grand hotels and clubhouses in New York to the parliament buildings of Westminster and others exploring conceptual questions about the nature of architectural experience whether sensory or otherwise Yet they share the premise that the idea of the experience of architecture took on a new and particular significance with the rise of industrial modernity and they examine what contemporary people both architects and non architects understood by this idea The insights in this volume extend beyond the study of Victorian architecture Together they suggest how experience might be used as a framework to produce a more convincingly historical account of the artefacts of architectural history
