Pelkey,Andrew L. Russell,Loring G. Robbins,2022-04-19 As recently as 1968 computer scientists were uncertain how best to interconnect even two computers The notion that within a few decades the challenge would be how to interconnect millions of computers around the globe was too far fetched to contemplate Yet by 1988 that is precisely what was happening The products and devices developed in the intervening years such as modems multiplexers local area networks and routers became the linchpins of the global digital society How did such revolutionary innovation occur This book tells the story of the entrepreneurs who were able to harness and join two factors the energy of computer science researchers supported by governments and universities and the tremendous commercial demand for Internetworking computers The centerpiece of this history comes from unpublished interviews from the late 1980s with over 80 computing industry pioneers including Paul Baran J C R Licklider Vint Cerf Robert Kahn Larry Roberts and Robert Metcalfe These individuals give us unique insights into the creation of multi billion dollar markets for computer communications equipment and they reveal how entrepreneurs struggled with failure uncertainty and the limits of knowledge Paradoxes in Food Chains and Networks J.H. Trienekens,S.W.F. Omta,2023-08-28 This publication contains the proceedings of the 5th international conference on chain and network management in agribusiness and the food industry Papers will focus on the paradoxes caused by conflicting interests in the fields of economics and ethics technology and environment legislation and internationalisation etc The modern consumer demands highquality products in broad assortments throughout the year and for competitive prices Society imposes constraints on companies in order to economize on the use of resources ensure animal friendly and safe production and restrict pollution Together with technological developments and increased international competition these demands have changed the production trade and distribution of food products beyond recognition Demand is no longer confined to local or regional supply The food industry is now swiftly becoming an interconnected system with a large variety of complex relationships This is changing the way food is brought to the market Currently even fresh produce shipped from halfway around the world can be offered at competitive prices These developments are accompanied by national and international regulations and legislation in the area of food quality and safety In response to these changes business strategies must now focus not only on traditional economical and technological interests but also on topical issues such as the safety and healthfulness of food products animal friendliness the environment etc To effectively address paradoxical demands facing businesses many problems and opportunities must be approached from a multi disciplinary perspective and trade offs must be made between different aspects of production trade and the distribution of food Directory of Special Libraries and Information Centers ,2009 Computer Industry Almanac Karen Petska-Juliussen,Egil Juliussen,K Petska-Juliussen,1996-12 Network World ,1991-02-25 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations Readers are responsible for designing implementing and managing the voice data and video systems their companies use to support everything from business critical applications to employee collaboration and electronic commerce Whitaker's Book List ,1988 Network World ,1993-10-04 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations Readers are responsible for designing implementing and managing the voice data and video systems their companies use to support everything from business critical applications to employee collaboration and electronic commerce Handbook of Research on Venture Capital Hans Landström,2007 Provides an overview of the various facets of venture capital and their related issues This book surveys venture capital as a research field and explores

Gibson,2017-07-04 The step dancing of the Scotch Gaels in Nova Scotia is the last living example of a form of dance that waned following the great emigrations to Canada that ended in 1845 The Scotch Gael has been reported as loving dance but step dancing in Scotland had all but disappeared by 1945 One must look to Gaelic Nova Scotia Cape Breton and Antigonish County to find this tradition Gaelic Cape Breton Step Dancing the first study of its kind gives this art form and the people and culture associated with it the prominence they have long deserved Gaelic Scotland s cultural record is by and large pre literate and references to dance have had to be sought in Gaelic songs many of which were transcribed on paper by those who knew their culture might be lost with the decline of their language The improved Scottish culture depended proudly on the teaching of dancing and the literate learning and transmission of music in accompaniment Relying on fieldwork in Nova Scotia and on mentions of dance in Gaelic song and verse in Scotland and Nova Scotia John Gibson traces the historical roots of step dancing particularly the older forms of dancing originating in the Gaelic speaking Scottish Highlands He also places the current tradition as a development and part of the much larger British and European percussive dance tradition With insight collected through written sources tales songs manuscripts book references interviews and conversations Gaelic Cape Breton Step Dancing brings an important aspect of Gaelic history to the forefront of cultural debate
