nation states primarily due to their conspicuous failure to forge themselves into viable and cohesive multi national states The publishing of this book follows the authors conception of the Great Nation of Africa GNA Project This book is primarily intended to communicate the essence of that project to the appreciation of as many people worldwide as possible The GNA Project is essentially a blue print that details how this region could be transformed into a strong and prosperous nation Many of the ideas and concepts contained in this book can be applied to a wide range of situations world wide such as in building more cohesive nations effecting positive socio economic transformations and addressing conflicts be they social or armed So why should the agenda of effecting positive and lasting socio economic changes in AfSS be of interest to all Well sample this AfSS has more than 850 million residents Its population is estimated to stand at between 1 5 billion and 2 0 billion in the year 2050 Due to the legacy of colonization the currently widespread poor governance and inept leadership and the insidious effects of climate change large swathes of this region seem destined for total breakdown of socio political order As the recent piracy episodes near Somali coast have been proving time and again the larger international community will be affected by such breakdown of social order AfSS is well endowed in natural resources and a young vibrant population If appropriately nurtured and directed it has the potential to become one of the most important socio economic entities in the world For further information on the GNA Project please visit www TheGreatNation org

Hydrology and Water Resources of Africa M. Shahin, 2006-04-11 Africa the cradle of many old civilizations is the second largest world continent and the homeland of nearly one eighth of the world population Despite Africa s richness in natural resources the average income per person after excluding a few countries is the lowest all over the world and the percentage of inhabitants infected with contagious diseases is the highest Development of Africa to help accommodate the ever increasing population and secure a reasonable living standard to all inhabitants though an enormous challenge is extremely necessary Water is the artery of life without it all living creatures on earth cannot survive As such a thorough knowledge of the meteorological and hydrological processes influencing the yield and quality of the water resources surface and subsurface and their distribution and variability in time and space is unavoidable for the overall development of any part of the world It is highly probable that the said knowledge is at present a top priority to Africa a continent that has been for so long and probably still devastated by the endless ambitions of colonial powers not to forget the corruption and destruction practiced by the internal powers at least in some countries The present book Hydrology and Water Resources of Africa is written with the aim of bringing together in one volume a fair amount of knowledge any professional involved in hydrology and water resources of Africa needs to know

Books in Print ,1991 The Fabric of Peace in Africa Pamela Aall, Chester A. Crocker, 2017-06-05 Africa has experienced dozens of conflicts over a variety of issues during the past two decades Responding to these conflicts requires concerted action to manage the crises the violence the political discord and the humanitarian consequences of prolonged fighting It is also necessary to address the long term social and economic impacts of conflict to rebuild communities societies and states that have been torn apart To accomplish this requires the involvement of institutions and groups rarely considered in formal official African conflict management activities schools universities religious institutions media commercial enterprises legal institutions civil society groups youth women and migrants These groups and organizations have an important role to play in building a sense of identity fairness shared norms and cohesion between state and society all critical components of the fabric of peace and security in Africa This volume brings together leading experts from Africa Europe and North America to examine these critical social institutions and groups and consider how they can either improve or impede peaceful conflict resolution The overarching questions that are explored by the authors are What constitutes social cohesion and resilience in the face of conflict What are the threats to cohesion and resilience And how can the positive elements be fostered and by whom The second of two volumes on African conflict management capacity by the editors The Fabric of Peace in Africa Looking beyond the State opens new doors of understanding for students scholars and practitioners focused on strengthening peace in Africa the first volume Minding the Gap African Conflict Management in a Time of change focused on the role of mediation and peacekeeping in managing violence and political crises The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1875 Twentysomething Samantha Henig, Robin Marantz Henig, 2013-10-29 A mother daughter writing team reports on what's really up with kids today Science writer Robin Marantz Henig and her daughter journalist Samantha Henig offer a smart comprehensive look at what it's really like to be twentysomething and to what extent it's different for Millennials than it was for their Baby Boomer parents The Henigs combine the behavioral science literature for insights into how young people make choices about schooling career marriage and childbearing how they relate to parents friends and lovers and how technology both speeds everything up and slows everything down Packed with often surprising discoveries Twentysomething is a two generation conversation that will become the definitive book on being young in our time The fullest guide through this territory A densely researched report on the state of middleclass young people today drawn from several data sources and filtered through a comparative lens The New Yorker The Rough Guide to First-time Africa, 2007 Agricultural development: New perspectives in a changing world Otsuka, Keijiro, ed., Fan, Shenggen, ed., 2021-01-14 Agricultural Development New Perspectives in a Changing World is the first comprehensive exploration of key emerging issues facing developing country agriculture today from rapid urbanization to rural transformation to climate change In this four part volume top experts offer the latest research in the field of agricultural development Using new lenses to examine today's biggest challenges contributors address topics such as nutrition and health gender and household decision making agrifood value chains natural resource management and political economy The book also covers most developing regions providing a critical global perspective at a time when many pressing challenges extend beyond national borders Tying all this together Agricultural Development explores policy options and strategies for developing sustainable agriculture and reducing food insecurity and malnutrition The changing global landscape combined with new and better data technologies and understanding means that agriculture can and must contribute to a wider range of development outcomes than ever before including reducing poverty ensuring adequate nutrition creating strong food value chains improving environmental sustainability and promoting gender equity and equality Agricultural Development New Perspectives in a Changing World with its unprecedented breadth and scope will be an indispensable resource for the next generation of policymakers researchers and students dedicated to improving agriculture for global wellbeing      The Publishers Weekly, 1896      A Handbook of Comparative Librarianship Sylva Simsova, Monique MacKee, 1975      Complete Geography Alex Everett Frye, 1895      The Statesman's Year-Book J.
