Manual Of Herbarium Taxonomy Theory And Practice:

Manual of Herbarium Taxonomy E. F. de Vogel, 1987 The Herbarium Handbook Diane M. Bridson, Leonard Forman, Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, 1992 A Guide to Families of Common Flowering Plants in the Philippines Irma Remo Castro, 2006 This book is an introduction to the science of plant classification and identification or plant taxonomy. It defines terms used in describing a flowering plant and its parts and presents the characteristics of families of common flowering plants in the Philippines. For a clearer understanding, descriptions are supplemented by drawings and photographs of plants commonly found in gardens, parks, and vacant lots, which are used as examples and are therefore readily available for study. A section is also devoted to the establishment and maintenance of a herbarium. Writing African History John Edward Philips, 2006 A comprehensive evaluation of how to read African history. Writing African History is an essential work for anyone who wants to write or even seriously read African history. It will replace Daniel McCall's classic Africa in Time Perspective as the introduction to African history for the next generation and as a reference for professional historians, interested readers, and anyone who wants to understand how African history is written. Africa in Time Perspective was written in the 1960s when African history was a new field of research. This new book reflects the development of African history since then. It opens with a comprehensive introduction by Daniel McCall, followed by a chapter by the editor explaining what African history is and is not in the context of historical theory and the development of historical narrative in the humanities and social sciences. The first half of the book focuses on sources of historical data, while the second half examines different perspectives on history. The editor's final chapter explains how to combine various sorts of evidence into a coherent account of African history. Writing African History will become the most important guide to African history for the 21st century. Contributors: Bala Achi, Isaac Olawale, Albert Diedre, L. Badjo, Dorothea Bedigian, Barbara M. Cooper, Henry John Drewal, Christopher Ehret, Toyin Falola, David Henige, Joseph E. Holloway, John Hunwick, S. O. Y. Keita, William G. Martin, Daniel McCall, Susan Keech McIntosh, Donatien Dibwe, Dia Mwembu, Kathleen Sheldon, John Thornton, and Masao Yoshida. John Edwards Philips is professor of international society at Hirosaki University and author of Spurious Arabic Hausa and Colonial Nigeria. Madison University of Wisconsin African Studies Center, 2000. The Herbarium Handbook Leonard Forman, Diane Bridson, 1989 Describing Species Judith E. Winston, 1999 A basic practical manual for the process of describing new species, this desperately needed desk reference and guide to nomenclatural procedure and taxonomic writing serves as a Strunk & White of species description, covering both botanical and zoological codes of nomenclature. The Plant Diversity of Malesia P. Baas, K. Kalkman, R. Geesink, 2012-12-06 Although the only publication with a realistic claim to the title The plant diversity of Malesia is Flora Malesiana itself, we have hesitatingly chosen this title for the present proceedings volume. Past, present, and future work on the Flora Malesiana project was the subject of a successful symposium held in August 1989. This book contains only a selection of the papers presented at that meeting, yet it covers a much greater diversity of themes than just the inventory of botanical diversity. It even goes beyond the boundaries of the vast Flora Malesiana region in several of its chapters. The role of the founder of the Flora Malesiana Project, Professor C. G. G. J. van Steenis, repeatedly recurs in several chapters not only as director of and contributor to the project but also as a pioneer in the fields of Malesian vegetation conservation and biogeography and as an enlightened systematist whose ideas and practical recommendations for taxonomic delimitation still largely apply. Botanical information made available in regional and local floras is of vital importance for applications such as the exploitation of natural forests on a sustainable yield basis for establishing gene banks for the benefit of agriculture, forestry and horticulture and not in the least for nature conservation. Several chapters are devoted to these themes. Floristic studies are also at the basis of the biogeographical essays and vegetation studies included in this book.

Ecology of Kalimantan Kathy MacKinnon, Gusti Hatta, 2013-02-05. The Ecology of Kalimantan is a comprehensive ecological survey of one of Indonesia's largest and most diverse islands. This book presents a complete summary of our current scientific knowledge about Borneo including the rainforest and riverine habitats that are endangered by logging and industrial development along with a discussion of land use patterns and current problems. Kalimantan is the Indonesian portion of the huge island of Borneo. Kalimantan has played a key role in Indonesia's economic development and is a major earner of foreign revenue due to the island's rich natural resources: forests, oil, gas, coal and other minerals. In this book the authors argue that Kalimantan can be developed but within tight ecological constraints and with great care. This book remains a standard reference for scientists, anthropologists, writers and anyone interested in the region.

Contemporary Plant Systematics Dennis W. Woodland, 1997. CD ROM disk contains color 3 000 botanical images representing over 150 families and 850 genera of vascular plants.

Plant Taxonomy Rajni Gupta, 2012-01-01. Prithipalsingh, Indian taxonomist, contributed articles.

Care and Conservation of Natural History Collections David James Carter, Annette K. Walker, 1999. This book covers the physical care of botanical and zoological collections for scientific teaching and display purposes with emphasis on preservation for scientific value. A manual for curators and collections managers containing practical guidance, recommendations and advice across the whole field of natural history curation excluding palaeontology. A wide range of international experts with hands-on experience of collections have been chosen to contribute chapters on the care and conservation of both dried and fluid preserved collections of plant material, vertebrates and invertebrates. The emphasis is on remedial conservation, i.e. the employment of best practice to prevent or arrest the long-term deterioration of specimens to preserve their scientific and cultural worth. Special chapters will cover the fields of genetic material, pest control, the museum environment, policies and procedures with appendices on such topics as documentation and disaster planning. Practical manual containing guidance, recommendations and advice for natural history curation and conservation. Clearly presented, well illustrated including colour photographs and extensive references. Multi-contributor work by the best in their respective fields.
