The Many Faces of Italy Jean Valbonne, 1973

The Many Faces of Christ Michele Bacci, 2014-03-15 Thanks to current portrayals of Jesus of Nazareth we are apt to think of him as having long hair and a short beard But the holy scriptures do not describe Christ's physiognomy and his representations are inconsistent in early Christian and medieval arts How did this long haired archetype come to be accepted in the late ninth century as the standard iconography of the Son of God To answer this question The Many Faces of Christ examines the complex historical and cultural dynamics underlying the making and final establishment of Christ's image between late antiquity and the early Renaissance Taking into account a broad spectrum of iconographic and textual sources Michele Bacci describes the process of creating Christ's image against the backdrop of ancient and biblical conceptions of beauty and physicality as indicators of moral ascetic or messianic qualities He investigates the increasingly dominant role played by visual experience in Christian religious practice which promoted belief in the existence of ancient documents depicting Christ's appearance and he shows how this resulted in the shaping of portrait like images that were said to be true to life. With glances at analogous progressions in the Jewish Muslim Buddhist Hindu Jain and Taoist traditions this beautifully illustrated book will be of interest to specialists of Late Antique Byzantine and medieval studies as well as anyone interested in the shifting controversial conceptions of the historical figure of Jesus Christ.

Murder in Renaissance Italy Trevor Dean, K. J. P. Lowe, 2017-07-13 This invaluable collection explores the many faces of murder and its cultural presences across the Italian peninsula between 1350 and 1650. These shape the content in different ways: the faces of homicide range from the ordinary to the sensational, from the professional to the accidental, from the domestic to the public, while the cultural presence of homicide is revealed through new studies of sculpture, paintings and popular literature. Dealing with a range of murders and informed by the latest criminological research on homicide, it brings together new research by an international team of specialists on a broad range of themes: different kinds of killers by gender, occupation and situation; different kinds of victim by ethnicity, gender and status; and different kinds of evidence: legal, judicial, literary and pictorial. It will be an indispensable resource for students of Renaissance Italy, late medieval, early modern crime and violence and homicide studies.

Hemingway and Italy Mark Cirino, Mark P. Ott, 2025-06-03 Exploring the importance of Ernest Hemingway's time in Italy to his writing and legacy. From his World War I service in Italy through his transformational return visits during the decades that followed, Ernest Hemingway's Italian experiences were fundamental to his artistic development. Hemingway and Italy offers essays from top scholars, exciting new voices and people who knew Hemingway during his Italian days, examining how his adopted homeland shaped his writing and his legacy. The collection addresses Hemingway's many Italys: the terrain and people he encountered during his life and the country he transposed into his fiction. Contributors analyze Hemingway's Italian works including A Farewell to Arms, Across the River and into the Trees, lesser known short stories, fables and even a previously unpublished Hemingway sketch Torcello Piece. The essays provide fresh insights on Hemingway's Italian life, career and imagination. Contributors: Giacomo Ivancich, Ruggero Caumo, Scott Donaldson, Sergio Perosa, Rosella Mamoli, Zorzi Davide, Lorigliola Alberto, Lena Miriam, B. Mandel, Michael Kim, Roos John, D. Schwetman, Adam Long, Marina Gradoli, Piero Ambrogio, Pozzi Kirk, Curnutt Cam, Cobb Kei, Katsui.

The Many Faces of Multilingualism Piotr Romanowski, Martin Guardado, 2020-10-12 Multilingualism has become an increasingly common global phenomenon, especially in the last two decades. Therefore, multilingual programmes have now been regarded as a cornerstone of education systems in many countries around the world. Learning multiple languages helps us plug into a globalised world and strengthen links with a multitude of speakers from a diversified reality we live in. Thanks to the researched cases described in the chapters, further developments aimed at fostering multilingual practices in the contemporary world will be enhanced. The chapters included in the present volume provide an overview of current theory, research and practice in the field. They deal with such prominent research topics as multilingual education, language policies, language contact, identity of multilingual speakers to name only a few The selected chapters focus on the numerous and heterogeneous relations between languages They also incorporate a series of contextualized studies with diverse research designs applied in different settings across the globe This volume constitutes a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly material on multilingualism from twelve different countries It is a thought provoking collection that provides a series of rich insights into the way multilingualism is practised in international contexts It is ideally designed for academics upper level students educators professionals and practitioners seeking linguistic and pedagogical guidance on multilingualism

Face Perception across the Life-Span Bozana Meinhardt-Injac, Andrea Hildebrandt, 2017-03-17 Face perception is a highly evolved visual skills in humans This complex ability develops across the life span steeply rising in infancy refining across childhood and adolescence reaching highest levels in adulthood and declining in old age As such the development of face perception comprises multiple skills including sensory e g mechanisms of holistic configural and featural perception cognitive e g memory processing speed attentional control and also emotional and social e g reading and interpreting facial expression domains Whereas our understanding of specific functional domains involved in face perception is growing there is further pressing demand for a multidisciplinary approach toward a more integrated view describing how face perception ability relates to and develops with other domains of sensory and cognitive functioning In this research topic we bring together a collection of papers that provide a shot of the current state of the art of theorizing and investigating face perception from the perspective of multiple ability domains We would like to thank all authors for their valuable contributions that advanced our understanding of face and emotion perception across development
