Making Maps , How Maps Work Alan M. MacEachren, 2004-06-21 Now available in paperback for the first time this classic work presents a cognitive semiotic framework for understanding how maps work as powerful abstract and synthetic spatial representations Explored are the ways in which the many representational choices inherent in mapping interact with information processing and knowledge construction and how the resulting insights can be used to make informed symbolization and design decisions A new preface to the paperback edition situates the book within the context of contemporary technologies As the nature of maps continues to evolve Alan MacEachren emphasizes the ongoing need to think systematically about the ways people interact with and use spatial information The Basics of Process Mapping Robert Damelio, 2011-05-11 This book provides how to guidance and examples for three types of maps namely relationship map cross functional process map and flowchart It helps readers to effectively apply all three types of maps to make work visible at the organization process and job performer levels Map Worlds Will C. van den Hoonaard, 2013-09-21 Map Worlds plots a journey of discovery through the world of women map makers from the golden age of cartography in the sixteenth century Low Countries to tactile maps in contemporary Brazil Author Will C van den Hoonaard examines the history of women in the profession sets out the situation of women in technical fields and cartography related organizations and outlines the challenges they face in their careers Map Worlds explores women as colourists in early times describes the major houses of cartographic production and delves into the economic function of intermarriages among cartographic houses and families It relates how in later centuries working from the margins women produced maps to record painful tribal memories or sought to remedy social injustices Much later one woman so changed the way we think about continents that the shift has been likened to the Copernican revolution Other women created order and wonder about the lunar landscape and still others turned the art and science of making maps inside out exposing the hidden unconscious and subliminal text of maps Shared by all these map makers are themes of social justice and making maps work for the betterment of humanity

Missional Map-Making Alan Roxburgh, 2010-02-08 Guidance for church leaders to develop their own maps and chart new paths toward stronger more vibrant and more missional congregations In the burgeoning missional church movement churches are seeking to become less focused on programs for members and more oriented toward outreach to people who are not already in church This fundamental shift in what a congregation is and does and thinks is challenging for leaders and congregants Using the metaphor of map making the book explains the perspective and skills needed to lead congregations and denominations in a time of radical change over unfamiliar terrain as churches change their focus from internal to external Offers a clear guide for leaders wanting to transition to a missional church model Written by Alan Roxburgh a prominent expert and practitioner in the missional movement Guides leaders seeking to create new maps for leadership and church organization and focus A Volume in the popular Leadership Network Series This book is written to be accessible to all
