influenced and he probes the inspirations for such widely recognized characters as the barber valet Figaro the lordly Count Almaviva and the beautiful but deceived Rosine Not neglecting Beaumarchais s many other pursuits ranging from an endeavour to gain a contract for selling African slaves to an attempt to place his mistress as a spy in the bed of King Charles III Lord Thomas provides a highly entertaining view of a vital moment in Madrid s history and in the creative life of the energetic Beaumarchais

The History of Everyday Life Alf Ludtke, 2018-11-20 Alltagsgeschichte or the history of everyday life emerged during the 1980s as the most interesting new field among West German historians and more recently their East German colleagues Partly in reaction to the modernization theory pervading West German social history in the 1970s practitioners of alltagsgeschichte stressed the complexities of popular experience paying particular attention for instance to the relationship of the German working class to Nazism Now the first English translation of a key volume of essays Alltagsgeschichte Zur Rekonstruktion historischer Erfahrungen und Lebensweisen presents this approach and shows how it cuts across the boundaries of established disciplines The result is a work of great methodological theoretical and historiographical significance as well as a substantive contribution to German studies Introduced by Alf Ludtke the volume includes two empirical essays one by Lutz Niethammer on life courses of East Germans after 1945 and one by Ludtke on modes of accepting fascism among German workers The remaining five essays are theoretical Hans Medick writes on ethnological ways of knowledge as a challenge to social history Peter Schttler on mentalities ideologies and discourses and alltagsgeschichte Dorothee Wierling on gender relations and alltagsgeschichte Wolfgang Kaschuba on popular culture and workers culture as symbolic orders and Harald Dehne on the challenge alltagsgeschichte posed for Marxist Leninist historiography in East Germany

American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies Making History Richard Cohen, 2022-04-19 A supremely entertaining The New Yorker exploration of who gets to record the world's history from Julius Caesar to William Shakespeare to Ken Burns and how their biases influence our understanding about the past. There are many stories we can spin about previous ages but which accounts get told and by whom? Is there even such a thing as objective history? In this witty, wise and elegant The Spectator book Richard Cohen reveals how professional historians and other equally significant witnesses such as the writers of the Bible, novelists and political propagandists influence what becomes the accepted record. Cohen argues for example that some historians are practitioners of Bad History and twist reality to glorify themselves or their country. Scholarly, lively, quotable, up to date and fun. Hilary Mantel, author of the bestselling Thomas Cromwell trilogy. Making History investigates the published works and private utterances of our greatest chroniclers to discover the agendas that informed their and our views of the world. From the origins of history writing when such an activity itself seemed revolutionary through to television and the digital age, Cohen brings captivating figures to vivid light from Thucydides and Tacitus to Voltaire and Gibbon, Winston Churchill and Henry Louis Gates. Rich in complex truths and surprising anecdotes, the result is a revealing exploration of both the aims and art of history making, one that will lead us to rethink how we learn about our past and about ourselves.

The Columbia History of Twentieth-century French Thought Lawrence D. Kritzman, Brian J. Reilly, 2006 Unrivalled in its scope and depth, The Columbia History of Twentieth Century French Thought assesses the intellectual figures, movements and publications that helped shape and define fields as diverse as history and historiography, psychoanalysis, film, literary theory, cognitive and life sciences, literary criticism, philosophy and economics. More than two hundred entries by leading intellectuals discuss developments in French thought on such subjects as pacifism, fashion, gastronomy, technology and urbanism. Contributors include prominent French thinkers, many of whom have played an integral role in the development of French thought, and American, British and Canadian scholars who have been vital in the dissemination of French ideas.

Christopher Dawson Joseph T. Stuart, 2022-01-14 The English historian Christopher Dawson (1889-1970) was the first Catholic Studies professor at Harvard University and has been described as one of the foremost Catholic thinkers of modern times. Joseph T. Stuart argues that through Dawson's study of world cultures he acquired a cultural mind by which he attempted to integrate knowledge according to four implicit rules: intellectual architecture, boundary thinking, intellectual asceticism and intellectual bridges. Dawson responded to the cultural fragmentation after the Great War (1914-1918) through this multilayered approach to culture, which was an instantiation of John Henry Newman's philosophical habit of mind. Stuart demonstrates how Dawson formed his cultural mind practicing an interdisciplinary science of culture involving anthropology, sociology, history and comparative religion, and applied his cultural thinking to problems in politics and education.

Mythistory Joseph Mali, 2003-05 Ever since Herodotus declared in Histories that to preserve the memories of the great achievements of the Greeks and other nations he would count on their own stories historians have debated whether and how they should deal with myth Most have sided with Thucydides who denounced myth as unscientific and banished it from historiography In Mythistory Joseph Mali revives this oldest controversy in historiography Contesting the conventional opposition between myth and history Mali advocates instead for a historiography that reconciles the two and recognizes the crucial role that myth plays in the construction of personal and communal identities The task of historiography he argues is to illuminate not eliminate these fictions by showing how they have passed into and shaped historical reality Drawing on the works of modern theorists and artists of myth such as Nietzsche and Wittgenstein Joyce and Eliot Mali redefines modern historiography and relates it to the older notion and tradition of mythistory Tracing the origins and transformations of this historiographical tradition from the ancient world to the modern Mali shows how Livy and Machiavelli sought to recover true history from uncertain myth and how Vico and Michelet then reversed this pattern of inquiry seeking instead to recover a deeper and truer myth from uncertain history In the heart of Mythistory Mali turns his attention to four thinkers who rediscovered myth in and for modern cultural history Jacob Burckhardt Aby Warburg Ernst Kantorowicz and Walter Benjamin His elaboration of the different biographical and historiographical routes by which all four sought to account for the persistence and significance of myth in Western civilization opens up new perspectives for an alternative intellectual history of modernity one that may better explain the proliferation of mythic imageries of redemption in our secular all too secular times

The Sentimental Life of International Law Gerry Simpson, 2021-11-11 The Sentimental Life of International Law is about our age old longing for a decent international society and the ways of seeing being and speaking that might help us achieve that aim This book asks how international lawyers might engage in a professional practice that has become to adapt a title of Janet Malcolm s both difficult and impossible It suggests that international lawyers are disabled by the governing idioms of international lawyering and proposes that they may be re enabled by speaking different sorts of international law or by speaking international law in different sorts of ways In this methodologically diverse and unusually personal account Gerry Simpson brings to the surface international law s hidden literary prose and offers a critical and redemptive account of the field He does so in a series of chapters on international law s bathetic underpinnings its friendly relations the neurotic foundations of its underlying social order its screened off comic dispositions its anti method and the life worlds of its practitioners Finally the book closes with a chapter in which international law is re envisioned through the practice of gardening All of this is put forward as a contribution to the project of making international law again a compelling language for our times

Myth, Symbol and Colonial Encounter Jennifer Reid, 1995 From the time of the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713 people of British origin have shared the area of New Brunswick Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island traditionally called Acadia with Eastern Canada s Algonkian speaking peoples the Mi kmaq Despite nearly three centuries of interaction these communities have largely remained alienated from one another What were the differences between Mi kmaq and British structures of valuation What were the consequences of Acadia's colonization for both Mi'kmaq and British people. By examining the symbolic and mythic lives of these peoples, Reid considers the eighteenth and nineteenth century roots of this alienation and suggests that interaction between British and Mi'kmaq during the period was substantially determined by each group's fundamental religious need to feel rooted to feel at home in Acadia.
