

The image is a composite. The top half shows a city skyline, likely New York City, with various skyscrapers silhouetted against a dramatic, orange and yellow sunset sky. The bottom half shows a large crowd of people walking away from the camera on a wooden pier or boardwalk that extends into a body of water. The overall mood is contemplative and urban.

A matter of judgment is one with some uncertainty about the answer and where we allow for the possibility that reasonable and competent people might disagree.

Matter For Judgment:

Kant and the Philosophy of Mind Anil Gomes, Andrew Stephenson, 2017-06-30 The essays in this volume explore those aspects of Kant's writings which concern issues in the philosophy of mind. These issues are central to any understanding of Kant's critical philosophy and they bear upon contemporary discussions in the philosophy of mind. Fourteen specially written essays address such questions as: What role does mental processing play in Kant's account of intuition? What kinds of empirical models can be given of these operations? In what sense and in what ways are intuitions object dependent? How should we understand the nature of the imagination? What is inner sense and what does it mean to say that time is the form of inner sense? Can we cognize ourselves through inner sense? How do we self ascribe our beliefs and what role does self consciousness play in our judgments? Is the will involved in judging? What kind of knowledge can we have of the self? And what kind of knowledge of the self does Kant proscribe? These essays showcase the depth of Kant's writings in the philosophy of mind and the centrality of those writings to his wider philosophical project. Moreover they show the continued relevance of Kant's writings to contemporary debates about the nature of mind and self.

Recognition and Enforcement of Judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters Anselmo Reyes, 2019-09-19 This collection offers a study of the regimes for the recognition and enforcement of foreign commercial judgments in 15 Asian jurisdictions: mainland China, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Singapore, Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Indonesia, Sri Lanka, and India. For practising lawyers, the book is intended as a practical guide to current law and procedures for enforcing judgments in the selected jurisdictions. However, it does not stop at describing current law and practice. Of interest to academics and students, it also analyses the common principles of the enforcement regimes across the jurisdictions and identifies what should be regarded as the norm for enforcement in Asian countries for the purpose of attracting foreign direct investment and catalysing rapid economic development. In light of the common principles identified, the book explores how laws in Asia may generally be improved to enable judgments to be more readily enforced while ensuring that legitimate concerns over indirect jurisdiction, due process, and domestic public policy are respected and addressed. With this in mind, the book discusses the potential impact that the adoption of the 2005 Hague Convention on Choice of Court Agreements might have on Asian jurisdictions; it also considers the potential impact of the convention for the enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters presently being drafted by the Hague Conference on Private International Law. This timely book argues that it is imperative to adopt a uniform system for the recognition and enforcement of judgments throughout Asia if there is to be traction for the enhanced cross border commerce that is expected to result from endeavours such as the ASEAN Economic Community, AEC, the Belt and Road Initiative, BRI, CPTPP, also known as TPP 11, and RCEP.
