Representation And Understanding Studies In Cognitive Science Language Thought And Culture:

Representation and Understanding Jerry Bobrow, 2014-06-28 Representation and Understanding Language Typology and Language Universals / Sprachtypologie und sprachliche Universalien / La typologie des langues et les universaux linguistiques. 1. Halbband Haspelmath Martin, 2008-07-14 No detailed description available for HASPELMATH ET AL LANG TYPOLOGY 1 TLBD HSK 20 1 E BOOK Language Typology and Language Universals Martin Haspelmath, 2001 This series of HANDBOOKS OF LINGUISTICS AND COMMUNICATION SCIENCE is designed to illuminate a field which not only includes general linguistics and the study of linguistics as applied to specific languages but also covers those more recent areas which have developed from the increasing body of research into the manifold forms of communicative action and interaction For classic linguistics there appears to be a need for a review of the state of the art which will provide a reference base for the rapid advances in research undertaken from a variety of theoretical standpoints while in the more recent branches of communication science the handbooks will give researchers both an overview and orientation To attain these objectives the series will aim for a standard comparable to that of the leading handbooks in other disciplines and to this end will strive for comprehensiveness theoretical explicitness reliable documentation of data and findings and up to date methodology The editors both of the series and of the individual volumes and the individual contributors are committed to this aim The languages of publication are English German and French The main aim of the series is to provide an appropriate account of the state of the art in the various areas of linguistics and communication science covered by each of the various handbooks however no inflexible pre set limits will be imposed on the scope of each volume The series is open ended and can thus take account of further developments in the field This conception coupled with the necessity of allowing adequate time for each volume to be prepared with the necessary care means that there is no set time table for the publication of the whole series Each volume will be a self contained work complete in itself The order in which the handbooks are published does not imply any rank ordering but is determined by the way in which the series is organized the editor of the whole series enlist a competent editor for each individual volume Once the principal editor for a volume has been found he or she then has a completely free hand in the choice of co editors and contributors The editors plan each volume independently of the others being governed only by general formal principles The series editor only intervene where questions of delineation between individual volumes are concerned It is felt that this modus operandi is best suited to achieving the objectives of the series namely to give a competent account of the present state of knowledge and of the perception of the problems in the area covered by each volume The Fictions of Language and the Languages of Fiction Monika Fludernik, 2003-12-16 Monika Fludernik presents a detailed analysis of free indirect discourse as it relates to narrative theory and the crucial problematic of how speech and thought are represented in fiction Building on the insights of Ann Banfield's Unspeakable Sentences Fludernik radically extends Banfield's model to accommodate evidence from conversational narrative non fictional prose and literary works from Chaucer to the present Fludernik's model subsumes earlier insights into the forms and functions of quotation and aligns them with discourse strategies observable in the oral language Drawing on a vast range of literature she provides an invaluable resource for researchers in the field and introduces English readers to extensive work on the subject in German as well as comparing the free indirect discourse features of German French and English This study effectively repositions the whole area between literature and linguistics opening up a new set of questions in narrative theory

Towards a 'Natural' Narratology Monika Fludernik, 2002-11 In this ground breaking work of synthesis Monika Fludernik combines insights from literary theory and linguistics to provide a challenging new theory of narrative This book is both an historical survey and theoretical study with the author drawing on an enormous range of examples from the earliest oral study to contemporary experimental fiction She uses these examples to prove that recent literature far from heralding the final collapse of narrative represents the epitome of a centuries long developmental process Modular Ontologies for Spatial Information Joana Hois, 2013 Spatial information describes types relations and various different aspects of space This PhD thesis investigates how modular ontologies can model spatial information Particularly different perspectives on space are analyzed A perspectival framework for spatial ontology modules is presented that allows the integration and combination of different facets of spatial information This work discusses perspectives on space by distinguishing and categorizing quantitative qualitative abstract domain specific and modal types of spatial information Application examples are presented for spatial natural language interpretation image recognition and architectural design The results are achieved by theoretical analyses of spatial domains as well as empirical and experimental findings from different disciplines related to the spatial domain Technically methods from formal ontology and ontological engineering are applied Studies in the Organization of Conversational Interaction Jim Schenkein, 2014-05-10 Studies in the Organization of Conversational Interaction examines the different features of conversational interaction which reflect a vigorous research paradigm for the study of natural conversations This book discusses the naturally occurring interactions that have been recorder and transcribed Organized into 10 chapters this book begins with an overview of the turn taking system for conversation and explains that the organization of taking turns at talk is one type of organization operative in conversation This text then discusses encounters with strangers that only conduct their business under the auspices of their official identity relations Other chapters consider the production of compliment responses which are sensitive to the cooperation of multiple constraint systems This book discusses as well the conversational activity of telling stories and listening to stories The final chapter deals with an analysis of a dirty joke This book is a valuable resource for sociologists conversationalists linguists grammarians and anthropologists
