Danaro and Fred Mackey had cheered for the club; then you go against them. "Go on, I don't want your support."

Fred and Lou fell between the two groups and therefore had to face this problem of divided allegiance. Doc's position on the corner was so definitely established that no one even considered the possibility of his choosing to bowl for the Community Club against the Nortons.

This was the only match between the two teams that ever took place. The corner boys were satisfied with their victory, and the club did not seek a return match. Tony Cardio objected to the way in which the Nortons had tried to upset the concentration of his team and said it was no fun to bowl against such poor sports. There were, however, clashes with individual members of the club. One night in November, Doc, Frank Boelli, Joe Dodge, and I were bowling when Chick Morelli and Lou Danaro came in together. We agreed to have two three-man teams, and Chick and Doc chose sides. Chick chose Lou and me. The match was fairly even at first, but Doc put his team far ahead with a brilliant third string. Toward the end of this string, Chick was sitting next to Joe Dodge and mumbling to him. "You're aousy, you're aousy. You're a no good bowler."

Representation In Ethnography:

Approaches to Ethnography Colin Jerolmack, Shamus Khan, 2017-10-23 No ethnographer can record and analyze everything that she encounters in the field We must make choices about what to look at and how to look at it which means privileging some aspects of social life while bracketing others Approaches to Ethnography enumerates the key analytic strategies which Jerolmack and Khan call approaches that ethnographers deploy to tame the buzzing confusion of the social world The book identifies eight approaches that typify ethnography which it groups and compares along four axes 1 Micro organizational and macro 2 people and places and mechanisms 3 dispositions and situations and 4 reflexivity Each approach it is shown enables the illumination of a distinct dimension of the social world Every chapter is written by a seasoned ethnographer who enumerates one of the approaches and reflects on how that approach shapes their field site selection observations and analysis Taken as a whole the chapters show how these approaches which operate more like sensitizing devices than theoretical mandates can play a greater role in guiding the kinds of questions that get asked and answered in the field than whether one adopts an inductive or deductive stance toward theory Engaging accessible and often inspiring Approaches to Ethnography offers a practical and novel way to teach evaluate and conceptualize ethnographic research

Representation in Ethnography John Van Maanen, 1995-01-18 Contributing to the self analysis of a discipline that no longer claims to describe cultures objectively nine essays explore the representational challenges facing ethnography from such perspectives as fieldnotes description narrative humor acknowledgements relationships to other forms of writing and presenting ethnographic work in media bes Working Images Ana Isabel Alfonso, Laszlo Kurti, Sarah Pink, 2004-08-02 Visual methods such as drawing painting video photography and hypermedia offer increasingly accessible and popular resources for ethnographic research In Working Images prominent visual anthropologists and artists explore how old and new visual media can be integrated into contemporary forms of research and representation Drawing upon projects undertaken both at home in their native countries and abroad in locations such as Ethiopia and Venezuela the book's contributors demonstrate how visual methods are used in the field and how these methods can produce and communicate knowledge about our own and other cultures As well as focusing on key issues such as ethics and the relationship between word and image they emphasize the huge range of visual methods currently opening up new possibilities for field research from cartoons and graphic art to new media such as digital video and online technologies Representation in Ethnography Michael H. Agar, 1995 Doing Visual Ethnography Sarah Pink, 2001-05 This text explores the use and potential of photography video and electronic media in ethnographic and social research The book has a reflexive approach to the theoretical methodological practical and ethical issues for using media The Ethnographic Self Amanda Coffey, 1999-03-10 What are the relationships between the self and fieldwork How do personal emotional and identity issues impact upon working in the field This book argues that ethnographers and others involved in fieldwork should be aware of how fieldwork research and ethnographic writing construct reproduce and implicate selves relationships and personal identities All too often research methods texts remain relatively silent about the ways in which fieldwork affects us and we affect the field The book attempts to synthesize accounts of the personal experience of ethnography In doing so the author makes sense of the process of fieldwork research as a set of practical intellectual and emotional accomplishments The book is thematically arranged and illustrated with a wide range of empirical material an instructor site Chiefs, Scribes, and Ethnographers James Howe, 2010-01-01 The Kuna of Panama today one of the best known indigenous peoples of Latin America moved over the course of the twentieth century from orality and isolation towards literacy and an active engagement with the nation and the world Recognizing the fascination their culture has held for many outsiders Kuna intellectuals and villagers have collaborated actively with foreign anthropologists to counter anti Indian prejudice with positive accounts of their people thus becoming the agents as well as subjects of ethnography One team of chiefs and secretaries in particular independently produced a series of historical and cultural texts later published in Sweden that today still constitute the foundation of Kuna ethnography As a study of the political uses of literacy of western representation and indigenous counter representation and of the ambivalent inter cultural dialogue at the heart of ethnography Chiefs Scribes and Ethnographers addresses key issues in contemporary anthropology It is the story of an extended ethnographic encounter one involving hundreds of active participants on both sides and continuing today

Postmodern Representations Richard Harvey Brown, 1995 Doing Visual Ethnography Sarah Pink, 2006-11-15 Those already proficient in ethnographic methods will find Doing Visual Ethnography a foray into what should be an increasingly normative terrain and what is certainly a much needed addition to the literature They will be challenged to simultaneously take on new methodological conceits and their application beyond traditional boundaries Library Information Science Research Following on from the success of Doing Visual Ethnography this fully revised and updated second edition explores the use and potential of photography video and hypermedia in ethnographic and social research It offers a reflexive approach to theoretical methodological practical and ethical issues of using these media now that they are increasingly being incorporated into field research Sarah Pink adopts the viewpoint that visual research methods should be rooted in a critical understanding of local and academic visual cultures the visual media and technologies being used and the ethical issues they raise The book demonstrates that these new challenges that shape ethnographic knowledge can be met by understanding the reflexivity and experience through which visual and ethnographic materials are produced and interpreted New to the Second Edition General updating of figures terminology and literature to bring the book up to date with recent innovations in theory practice and technology Annotated reading lists added to each chapter to guide the reader to further literature Completely rewritten chapter on digital technology to ensure the text is in line with the latest developments in technology and methodological thinking Drawing from her own experiences of using photography video and hypermedia in research as well as the work of others the author follows the research process from project design planning and implementing and practising fieldwork to analysis and representation suggesting how visual images and technologies can be combined to form an integrated process throughout the different stages of research The Second Edition of Doing Visual Ethnography is an excellent resource for students of sociology anthropology cultural studies media studies and those doing ethnographic and qualitative research It also provides valuable reading for researchers and postgraduates The Ethnographic Self

Amanda Coffey, 1999-05-10 What are the relationships between the self and fieldwork How do personal emotional and identity issues impact on fieldwork The Ethnographic Self argues that ethnographers and others involved in research in the field should be aware of how fieldwork affects the researcher and how the researcher affects the field Coffey synthesizes accounts of the personal experience of ethnography and aims to make sense of the process of fieldwork research as a set of practical intellectual and emotional accomplishments The book is thematically arranged and illustrated with a wide range of empirical material The author examines the ethnographic presence in the field and the implications of this in and beyond fieldwork exploring issues such as the creation of the ethnographic self and the embodiment and sexualization of the field and self The Ethnographic Self will be of interest to anyone working in the area of qualitative research but especially for sociologists and educational and health researchers BOOK JACKET Exploring Cultural Dynamics and Tensions Within Service-Learning Trae Stewart, Nicole Webster, 2011-09-01 Service learning is an exciting pedagogy and field of study offering insight into how academic study and community engagement blend to create social change In its most traditional conceptualization servicelearning activities typically manifest within communities where outside individuals address a need Service learning is purported to have a transforming effect on individual student perspectives by providing students the opportunity to interact with people and enter into situations that allow students to test their predisposition towards others However the literature on the impact of service learning on participants acceptance of diversity and development of open mindedness reports mixed outcomes The purpose of this book is to explore cultural tensions and dynamics within the field of service learning It is not meant to be an exhaustive review of the interplay between culture and service learning but rather a starting point for an ongoing conversation about how this complex topic impacts the field In 18 chapters educators students and administrators investigate the cultural values of service learning itself and the tensions created when this is at odds with the values of others within K 12 and higher education in the United States and abroad Authors include community organization representatives researchers directors of offices of community engagement university administrators junior and senior faculty and former service learning undergraduate students Submissions reflect a range of genres including theoretical conceptual pieces position papers case studies and other traditional academic essays challenging how students and community members are affected by the cultural tensions within service learning engagement Encyclopedia of Communication Theory Stephen W. Littlejohn, Karen A. Foss, 2009-08-18 With more than 300 entries these two volumes provide a one stop source for a comprehensive overview of communication theory offering current descriptions of theories as well as the background issues and concepts that comprise these theories This is the first resource to summarize in one place the diversity of theory in the communication field Key Themes Applications and Contexts Critical Orientations Cultural Orientations Cybernetic and Systems Orientations Feminist Orientations Group and Organizational Concepts Information Media and Communication Technology International and Global Concepts Interpersonal Concepts Non Western Orientations

Cultural Studies and Discourse Analysis Chris Barker, Dariusz Galasinski, 2001-08-09 This text shows that critical discourse analysis is able to provide the analytic context skills and tools by which we can study how language constructs constitutes and shapes the social world Identity, Diaspora and Return in American Literature Maria Antònia

Oliver-Rotger, 2014-09-19 This volume combines literary analysis and theoretical approaches to mobility diasporic identities and the construction of space to explore the different ways in which the notion of return shapes contemporary ethnic writing such as fiction ethnography memoir and film Through a wide variety of ethnic experiences ranging from the Transatlantic Asian American Latino and Caribbean alongside their corresponding forms of displacement political exile war trauma and economic migration the essays in this collection connect the intimate experience of the returning subject to multiple locations historical experiences inter subjective relations and cultural interactions They challenge the idea of the narrative of return as a journey back to the untouched roots and home that the ethnic subject left behind Their diacritical approach combines on the one hand a sensitivity to the context and structural elements of modern diaspora and on the other an analysis of the individual psychological processes inherent to the experience of displacement and return such as nostalgia memory and belonging In the narratives of return analyzed in this volume space and identity are never static or easily definable rather they are in process and subject to change as they are always entangled in the historical and inter subjective relations ensuing from displacement and mobility This book will interest students and scholars who wish to further explore the role of American literature within current debates on globalization migration and ethnicity
