Multilingualism and Creativity Anatoliy V. Kharkhurin,2012-09-03 In this monograph Anatoliy V Kharkhurin presents the results of his empirical investigation into the impact of multilingual practice on an individual s creative potential Until now the relationship between these two activities has received little attention in the academic community The book makes an attempt to resuscitate this theme and provides a solid theoretical framework supported by contemporary empirical research conducted in a variety of geographic linguistic and sociocultural locations This study demonstrates that several factors such as the multilinguals age of language acquisition proficiency in these languages and experience with cultural settings in which these languages were acquired have a positive impact on selective attention and language mediated concept activation mechanisms Together these facilitate generative and innovative capacities of creative thinking This book will be of great interest not only to scholars in the fields of multilingualism and creativity but also to educators and all those interested in enhancing foreign language learning and fostering creativity

The plantation is a slave society a means and a system of usurpation of life energies and bodily productive capacities in the service of endless bankruptcy on the one hand and elite persuasions on the other The book argues in part that war or State organized violence is one of the most efficient means of the elite transfer the wreckage through war and destruction of ordinary livability opens up the human as organic compounds in the turning of human life into global plantation assets More importantly the book argues that this is possible only by means of certain ontological and epistemological deployments that make war on the human ecological inevitable and even acceptable This is where pedagogy comes in The temporal being the spatial being and the linguistic being of the human ecological are explored as three dimensions of captivity as well as the means of escape The book rejects the politics of power as inimical to the very becoming of the human and posits the politics of strength as a new possibility that breaks with the plantation system of organized violence and vampiric wealth production

Dreaming the Land Friedrich Schweitzer, International Academy of Practical Theology. Meeting, 2007 Dreaming the Land Theologies of Resistance and Hope is a theme that testifies to the contextual nature of practical theology This present volume contains a collection of essays with international contributions to practical theology In their original form these essays were presented at the seventh biennial conference of the International Academy of Practical Theology IAPT held at Brisbane Australia in June 2005 The dreaming and the land are both concepts central to the thinking of the aboriginal peoples of Australia The dreaming encompasses the creative and life giving forces which govern and express the lifeworld of these same people while the land is sacred space where the spirits of the ancestors of all human plant and animal life are represented The theme is the common thread in the first part of the book Here the search for Theologies of Resistance and Hope is related to experiences in the southern hemisphere to issues of the land as a concept for practical theology and to questions of human rights

Non-humans in Social Science Petr Gibas, Karolína Pauknerová, Marco Stella, 2012-04-01 Ideas of dead inert space non living machinelike reflexive controlled bodies and passive meaningless things are very modern At the very heart of the program of modernity resource exploitation and consumption is the idea that non humans have no agency they are simply resources to be manipulated and exploited at our will Mostly leaving aside the more and more evident ethical concerns of this worldview and this setting of the human non human boundary this volume attempts to explore what social sciences have to say about the relationship between the human and non human The intention of this book is to offer a non human perspective We realize that it is sometimes difficult to say whether the outcome of such a perspective would be just a shallow tendency to anthropomorphize or whether we could reach some of the previously unseen properties of non humans Being aware of the dangers this volume puts together different case studies that are more or less inspired by this non human perspective The aim is to explore what has been for a long time put aside and to provide new insights new revelations that can lead social science to undiscovered or hidden realms The outcome of this thrilling adventure can in the end be a discovery that the role of natural and social sciences or even more the character of the nature culture dichotomy would have to be re evaluated

Postcolonial Intellectuals in Europe Sandra

Ponzanesi,, Adriano José Habed,2018-08-31 Postcolonial intellectuals have engaged with and deeply impacted upon European society since the figure of the intellectual emerged at the beginning of the nineteenth century Yet a critical assessment and overview of their influential roles is long overdue particularly in the light of contemporary debates in Europe and beyond This book offers an innovative take on the role of intellectuals in Europe through a postcolonial lens and in doing so questions the very definition of public intellectual on the one hand and the meaning of such a thing as Europe on the other It does so not only by offering portraits of charismatic figures such as Stuart Hall Jacques Derrida Antonio Gramsci Frantz Fanon and Hannah Arendt among others but also by exploring their lasting legacies and the many dialogues they have generated The notion of the classic intellectual is further challenged by bringing to the fore artists writers and activists as well as social movements networks and new forms of mobilization and collective engagement that are part of the intellectual scene

New Democracy William J. Novak,2022-03-29 Conventional wisdom dates the origins of activist federal government to the New Deal William J Novak shows that the roots run deeper Tracing the gradual rise in demands for public service government from the Civil War through the Progressive Era he finds that attitudes about the role of the state changed long before FDR was in office

Complexity and the Human Experience Paul A. Youngman,Mirsad Hadzikadic,2014-05-22 Questions of values ontologies ethics aesthetics discourse origins language literature and meaning do not lend themselves readily or traditionally to equations probabilities and models However with the increased adoption of natural science tools in economics anthropology and political science to name only a few social scientific fields highlighted in this volume quantitative methods in the humanities are becoming more common The theory of complexity holds significant promise for better understanding social and human phenomena based on interactions among the participating agents whatever they may be a thought a person a conversation a sentence or an email Such systems can exhibit phase transitions feedback loops self organization and emergent properties These dynamic systems lend themselves naturally to the kind of analysis made possible by models and simulations developed with complex science tools This volume offers a tour of quantitative analyses models and simulations of humanities and social science phenomena that have been historically the purview of qualitative methods

Are the Lips a Grave? Lynne Huffer,2013-10-08 Lynne Huffer s ambitious inquiry redresses the rift between feminist and queer theory traversing the space of a new post moral sexual ethics that includes pleasure desire connection and betrayal She begins by balancing queer theorists politics of sexual freedoms with a moralizing feminist politics that views sexuality as harm Drawing on the best insights from both traditions she builds an ethics centered on eros following Michel Foucault s ethics as a practice of freedom and Luce Irigaray s lyrical articulation of an ethics of sexual difference Through this theoretical lens Huffer examines everyday experiences of ethical connection and failure connected to sex including queer sexual practices sodomy laws interracial love pornography and work life balance Her approach complicates sexual identities while challenging the epistemological foundations of subjectivity She rethinks ethics beyond good and evil without underestimating as some queer theorists have done the persistence of what Foucault calls the catastrophe of morality Elaborating a thinking feeling ethics of the other Huffer encourages contemporary intellectuals to reshape sexual morality from within defining an ethical space that is both poetically suggestive and politically relevant both conceptually daring and grounded in common sexual experience
