American Hybrid Poetics Amy Moorman Robbins, 2014-07-21 American Hybrid Poetics explores the ways in which hybrid poetics a playful mixing of disparate formal and aesthetic strategies have been the driving force in the work of a historically and culturally diverse group of women poets who are part of a robust tradition in contesting the dominant cultural order Amy Moorman Robbins examines the ways in which five poets Gertrude Stein Laura Mullen Alice Notley Harryette Mullen and Claudia Rankine use hybridity as an implicitly political strategy to interrupt mainstream American language literary genres and visual culture and expose the ways in which mass culture in the twentieth and twenty first centuries has had a powerfully standardizing impact on the collective American imagination By forcing encounters between incompatible traditions consumer culture with the avant garde low culture forms with experimental poetics prose poetry with linguistic subversiveness these poets bring together radically competing ideologies and highlight their implications for lived experience Robbins argues that it is precisely because these poets have mixed forms that their work has gone largely unnoticed by leading members and critics in experimental poetry circles

Free Trade Lars Magnusson, 1997 Trade is the dominant subject in nineteenth century economics During the course of the century Britain was transformed from a protectionist power to an open economy a change embodied by the repeal of the Corn Laws in 1846 This is reflected in the economic literature of the period with the qualified free trade advocacy of the early classical economists developing into more strident views of the Manchester School However throughout the period free trade did not go unchallenged and by the end of the century a fully developed protectionist position had emerged represented by for example the economic nationalism of Henry Carey in the United States and in the fair trade movement in Britain This volume is a collection of materials relating to the major nineteenth century debates about external trade It includes some extremely rare but representative pieces from less well known names The collection includes an original introduction by the editor and each of the individual pieces has been carefully retypeset The set includes material by James Mill Richard Cobden Robert Torrens John Ramsey McCulloch Friedrich List Henry Carey and M Frederick Bastiet Ohio Practical Farmer, 1893
