Seeing Things Mason Kamana Allred, 2023-02-14 In this theoretically rich work Mason Kamana Allred unearths the ways Mormons have employed a wide range of technologies to translate events beliefs anxieties and hopes into reproducible experiences that contribute to the growth of their religious systems of meaning Drawing on methods from cultural history media studies and religious studies Allred focuses specifically on technologies of vision that have shaped Mormonism as a culture of seeing These technologies he argues were as essential to the making of Mormonism as the humans who received interpreted and practiced their faith While Mormons' uses of television and the internet are recent examples of the tradition's use of visual technology Allred excavates older practices and technologies for negotiating the spirit such as panorama displays and magic lantern shows Fusing media theory with feminist new materialism he employs media archaeology to examine Mormons' ways of performing distinctions beholding as a way to engender radical visions and standardizing vision to effect assimilation Allred's analysis reveals Mormonism as always materially mediated and argues that religious history is likewise inherently entangled with media

Seeing Things Differently Janet Kuypers, 2005 Seeing Things as They Are Duncan B. Reyburn, 2016-08-19 The jovial journalist philosopher and theologian G K Chesterton felt that the world was almost always in permanent danger of being misjudged or even overlooked and so the pursuit of understanding insight and awareness was his perpetual preoccupation Being sensitive to the boundaries and possibilities of perception he was always encouraging his audience to find a clear view of things His belief was that it really is possible albeit in a limited way to see things as they are This book which marries Chesterton s unique perspective with the discipline of philosophical hermeneutics aims to outline what Chesterton can teach us about reading interpreting and participating in the drama of meaning as it unfolds before us in words and in the world Strictly speaking of course Chesterton is not a hermeneutic philosopher but his vast body of work involves important hermeneutic considerations In fact his unique interpretive approach seems to be the subtext and implicit fascination of all Chesterton scholarship to date and yet this book is the first to comprehensively focus on the issue By taking Chesterton back to his philosophical roots via his marginalia his approach to literary criticism his Platonist Thomist metaphysics and his Catholic theology this book explicitly and compellingly tackles the philosophical assumptions and goals that underpin his unique posture towards reality

Seeing Things at Night Heywood Broun, 2020-07-31 Reproduction of the original Seeing Things at Night by Heywood Broun

Seeing Things as They are John R. Searle, 2015 This book provides a comprehensive account of the intentionality of perceptual experience With special emphasis on vision Searle explains how the raw phenomenology of perception sets the content and the conditions of satisfaction of experience The central question concerns the relation between the subjective conscious perceptual field and the objective perceptual field Everything in the objective field is either perceived or can be perceived Nothing in the subjective field is perceived nor can be perceived precisely because the events in the subjective field consist of the perceivings whether veridical or not of the events in the objective field Searle begins by criticizing the classical theories of perception and identifies a single fallacy what he calls the Bad Argument as the source of nearly all of the confusions in the history of the philosophy of perception He next justifies the claim that perceptual experiences have presentational intentionality and shows how this justifies the direct realism of his account In the central theoretical chapters he shows how it is possible that the raw phenomenology must necessarily determine certain form of intentionality Searle introduces in detail the distinction between different levels of perception from the basic level to the higher levels and shows the internal relation between the features of the experience and the states of affairs presented by the experience The account applies not just to language possessing human beings but to infants and conscious animals He also discusses how the account relates to certain traditional puzzles about spectrum inversion color and size constancy and the brain in the vat thought experiments In the final chapters he explains and refutes Disjunctivist theories of perception explains the role of unconscious perception and concludes by discussing traditional problems of perception such as skepticism

Predicting Results Pat Hanna,2015-12-04 Ever wonder what makes a psychic tick Or what goes on in the mind of someone who can foretell the future Wonder no more Read on This biography of five working psychics will open your eyes if not your mind to their esoteric inexplicable world Citizenship, Education and Violence Waghid Yusef,2013-12-30 The focus of this book is to offer a humane rocesponse to dealing with violence An interpretive analysis is presented in order to think differently about violence in schools and about how a citizenship education of becoming can deal with the unpredictable consequences of violence in its own potentiality It seems to the authors that given the confident onslaught of violence there is nothing left to do but to offer insight into the nature of violence itself and by so doing to search for unexplored ways of humane response and being The authors are not pretending to hold a magic wand that will sanctify schools into the safe zones that they ought to be and as which they should serve in any society This would be both presumptuous and misleading What one is looking and hoping for however is a renewed engagement a slight tilting of the perspective so that something other than how we have always responded to violence perhaps will emerge The authors are confident that such a deconstructive approach to violence in schools through the lens of a reconsidered view of citizenship education can assist them and others to wrestle with its potential for destruction that can be changed into options for co belonging of a non violent if not peaceful kind Ignorance Andrew Bennett,2013-07-19 Andrew Bennett argues in this fascinating book that ignorance is part of the narrative and poetic force of literature and is an important aspect of its thematic focus ignorance is what literary texts are about He sees that the dominant conception of literature since the Romantic period involves an often unacknowledged engagement with the experience of not knowing From Wordsworth and Keats to George Eliot and Charles Dickens from Henry James to Joseph Conrad from Elizabeth Bowen to Philip Roth and Seamus Heaney writers have been fascinated and compelled by the question of ignorance including their own Bennett argues that there is a politics and ethics as well as a poetics of ignorance literature s agnoiology its acknowledgement of the limits of what we know both of ourselves and of others engages with the possibility of democracy and the ethical and allows us to begin to conceive of what it might mean to be human This exciting approach to literary theory will be of interest to lecturers and students of literary theory and criticism Ending the Epidemic of Child Abuse Robert Anthony,2009-07-20 Designed to change anyone s life you cannot read this book and walk away unchanged Ending the Epidemic of Child Abuse is an all encompassing guide for survivors that will help you learn to thrive not just survive Anyone can read this book to learn how to help survivors of child abuse across the globe and it all starts by changing one life at a time This book covers all the information required to become totally psychologically healthy In this book I start by explaining the critical first steps needed for healing and I end up explaining how to use all the tools I mention in a way to end the suffering that is due to child abuse This book is timeless the information will be just as valuable and applicable 20 years from now as it is today Every survivor can benefit from the knowledge it contains The Big Picture Matthew

Seeing Things Oliver Postgate, 2009-11-05 Oliver Postgate's death in December 2008 was greeted with great sadness For over forty years his name was synonymous with the best in children's television Bagpuss The Clangers Ivor the Engine The Pogles Noggin the Nog Pingwings Oliver wrote and narrated the stories while Peter Firmin illustrated the characters and made the puppets Their classic films are still loved by viewers of all ages In this delicious autobiography Oliver Postgate describes how he came to create his stories and characters developing innovative techniques of animation and puppetry alongside his friend and co producer Peter Firmin Amazingly almost all of Oliver's films were made in a cowshed in Kent on a budget of next to nothing But the path to film making was far from conventional or even planned Oliver Postgate was the grandson of George Lansbury leader of the Labour Party in the 1920s and his father was Raymond Postgate who became famous as the founder and author of The Good Food Guide Oliver followed in neither's footsteps Before his first TV production Alexander the Mouse in 1958 he had already been a war evacuee a conscientious objector a farm labourer a relief worker in post war Germany an artist an actor and an inventor The story of Oliver Postgate's extraordinary and adventurous life and the wonderful characters who populated it both real and imagined is witty charming beautifully remembered and beautifully told The Concept of Mind Gilbert Ryle,1984 This now classic work challenges what Ryle calls philosophy's official theory the Cartesian myth of the separation of mind and matter Ryle's linguistic analysis remaps the conceptual geography of mind not so much solving traditional philosophical problems as dissolving them into the mere consequences of misguided language His plain language and essentially simple purpose put him in the tradition of Locke Berkeley Mill and Russell philosophers whose best work like Ryle's has become a part of our general literature

Buddhism and Intelligent Technology Peter D. Hershock,2021-01-28 Machine learning big data and AI are reshaping the human experience and forcing us to develop a new ethical intelligence Peter Hershock offers a new way to think about attention personal presence and ethics as intelligent technology shatters previously foundational certainties and opens entirely new spaces of opportunity Rather than turning exclusively to cognitive science and contemporary ethical theories Hershock shows how classical Confucian and Socratic philosophies help to make visible what a history of choices about remaking ourselves through control biased technology has rendered invisible But it is in Buddhist thought and practice that Hershock finds the tools for valuing and training our attention resisting the colonization of consciousness and engendering a more equitable and diversity enhancing human technology world relationship Focusing on who we need to be present as to avoid a future in which machines prevent us from either making or learning from our own mistakes Hershock offers a constructive response to the unprecedented perils of intelligent technology and seamlessly blends ancient and contemporary philosophies to envision how to realize its equally unprecedented promises
