Clinical Environmental Health and Toxic Exposures John Burke Sullivan,Gary R. Krieger,2001 Now in its revised and updated Second Edition this volume is the most comprehensive and authoritative text in the rapidly evolving field of environmental toxicology The book provides the objective information that health professionals need to prevent environmental health problems plan for emergencies and evaluate toxic exposures in patients Coverage includes safety regulatory and legal issues clinical toxicology of specific organ systems emergency medical response to hazardous materials releases and hazards of specific industries and locations Nearly half of the book examines all known toxins and environmental health hazards A Brandon Hill recommended title Tobacco Arlene Hirschfelder,2010-06-02 This book offers a comprehensive introduction to historic and contemporary efforts to regulate tobacco and reduce the staggering number of people who die from using tobacco products With calls for greater government regulation of tobacco culminating in the historic June 2009 passage of federal antismoking legislation Tobacco could not be more timely It is the most authoritative and accessible volume available on the evolution of tobacco consumption as well as efforts to protect consumers from its dangers Tobacco focuses on five key issues tobacco excise taxation and health policy the often misleading advertising of cigarettes and low tar nicotine alternatives the role of the Food and Drug Administration in regulating tobacco education and prevention efforts aimed at children and teens and environmental tobacco health risks including second hand smoke It is an eye opening introduction to the entire history of efforts to regulate tobacco from its beginnings in the Progressive Era of the early 20th century to recent efforts to uncover suppressed medical reports ban smoking ads and get smoking out of the movies Life-Course Smoking Behavior Dean R. Lillard,Rebekka Christopoulou,2015-05-26 Despite efforts to curb tobacco use global tobacco addiction remains as strong as ever Smoking rates are declining very slowly in advanced countries and they are increasing in the developing world Yet researchers still do not fully understand what drives smoking decisions Life Course Smoking Behavior presents smoking trajectories of different generations of women and men from ten of the world s most visible countries with nation specific representative samples spanning more than eighty years of recent history To inspire hypotheses on the determinants of smoking behavior the authors place these data in economic political social and cultural contexts which differ greatly both across countries at a particular time and over time in a given country Though significant research has been conducted on smoking statistics and tobacco control policies most descriptions of smoking behavior rely on cross sectional snapshot data that do not track individuals habits throughout their lifespan Lillard and Christopoulou s work is a unique and necessary text in its comparative life course approach making it a long overdue complement to the existing literature

Life-course Smoking Behavior Dean Reginald Lillard,Rebekka Christopoulou,2015 This resource presents smoking trajectories of different generations of women and men from ten of the world s most visible countries with nation specific representative samples spanning more than eighty years of recent history To inspire hypotheses on the determinants of smoking behaviour the authors place these data in economic political social and cultural contexts which differ greatly both across countries at a particular time and over time in a given country

Tobacco Harold V. Cordry,2001-11-20 Tobacco addresses the many interrelated controversies surrounding the historical and current use of tobacco and presents a clear objective and thorough treatment of this contentious public health and legal issue The American Indians valued tobacco as a wonder drug When Rodrigo de Jerez who accompanied Christopher Columbus on his maiden voyage of 1492 returned to Spain with tobacco he was accused of associating with Satan and imprisoned when his compatriots saw smoke coming out of his nose This book covers everything from the history of tobacco to health and social issues such as targeting children Biographical sketches of key personalities associated with tobacco range from Thomas Edison who refused to hire anybody who smoked cigarettes to Jean Nicot the French Ambassador to Portugal in the mid 1500s from whose name the word nicotine is derived This title takes the reader through the myriad of issues that make up the tobacco debate in a clear and unbiased way

Language in the Judicial Process Judith N. Levi,Anne Graffam Walker,2013-11-11 Legal realism is a powerful jurisprudential tradition which urges attention to sodal conditions and predicts their influence in the legal process The rela tively recent sodal sdence in the law phenomenon in which sodal research is increasingly relied on to dedde court cases is a direct result of realistic jurisprudence which accords much significance in law to empirical reports about sodal behavior The empirical research used by courts has not how ever commonly dealt with language as an influential variable This volume of essays coedited by Judith N Levi and Anne Graffam Walker will likely change that situation Language in the Judicial Process is a superb collection of original work which fits well into the realist tradition and by focusing on language as a key variable it establishes a new and provocative perspective on the legal process The perspective it offers and the data it presents make this volume a valuable source of information both for judges and lawyers who may be chiefly concemed with practice and for legal scholars and sodal sdentists who do basic research about law
