Madison County Folklore:

Madison County Folklore Mary Kate Deatherage House, 2003* Madison Country Folklore Bonnie F. Bolinger, 1995-03-01 MADISON COUNTY FOLKLORE is a collection of beliefs sayings recipes stories ballads of the hill people of the Ozark Mountains This collection was made by Bonnie Fancher Bolinger Burr s sister as part of a fourth grade English assignment to her elementary students The students interviewed parents grandparents family friends to collect the material during the school years 1959 1961 Before Bonnie could compile the information into a book format she became very ill terminated her career as a rural school teacher Prior to her death her brother Burr promised to organize the materials into a readable form make it available to those students who had contributed to the project The book represents a fulfillment of that promise although it is twenty years late Most of these writings came from the British Isles were reinforced in the hills of Tennessee Kentucky later transported into the Ozark Mountains These beliefs sayings are recognizable by people in all walks of life throughout the United States because many people have ancestry tracking back to Appalachia The purpose of this book is to encourage young people to interview their elders preserve the cultural historical aspects of the past generations It is also a form of encouragement for the development of writing skills using current technologies to describe past events
