The Sensual God Aviad M. Kleinberg, 2015-09-08 In the Old Testament God wrestles with a man and loses In the Talmud God wriggles his toes to make thunder and takes human form to shave the king of Assyria In the New Testament God is made flesh and dwells among humans For religious thinkers trained in Greek philosophy and its deep distaste for matter sacred scripture can be distressing A philosophically respectable God should be untainted by sensuality yet the God of sacred texts is often embarrassingly sensual Setting experts' minds at ease was neither easy nor simple and often faith and logic were stretched to their limits Focusing on examples from both Christian and Jewish sources from the Bible to sources from the Late Middle Ages Aviad Kleinberg examines the way Christian and Jewish philosophers exegetes and theologians attempted to reconcile God's supposed ineffability with numerous biblical and postbiblical accounts of seeing hearing smelling touching and even tasting the almighty The conceptual entanglements ensnaring religious thinkers and the strange ingenious solutions they used to extricate themselves tell us something profound about human needs and divine attributes about faith hope and cognitive dissonance

Scents & Sensibility Catherine Maxwell, 2017 Explores Victorian literature through scent and perfume presenting an extensive range of well known and unfamiliar texts in intriguing and imaginative new ways that make us re-think literature's relation with the senses A selection of poems essays and fiction exploring these texts with reference to both the little known cultural history of perfume use and the appreciation of natural fragrance in Victorian Britain It shows how scent and perfume are used to convey not merely moods and atmospheres but the nuances of the aesthete or decadent s carefully cultivated identity personality or sensibility

Sensual and Sensory Experiences in the Middle Ages Carme Muntaner Alsina,Delfi I. Nieto-Isabel,David Carrillo Rangel,2018-06-11 Where was the line between pleasure and irritation in the sensory overload caused by the sounds colours and smells of a medieval market How could pain and suffering be relieved by hoping for and desiring to experience an intimate almost familiar contact with Christ This volume shows the different aspects of sensory experiences that medieval people conveyed through documents literary accounts and religious practices The unifying theme here is how pleasure pain desire and fear appear in different sometimes conflicting combinations and settings from the private space of the monastic cell to the shared hustle of the market The geographic focus of this volume is Mediterranean Europe although it also touches on other Western contexts The combination of different points of view here provides an original contribution to the study of sensory experiences in the Middle Ages
