M25 Travelling Clockwise:

M25 Ray Hamilton, 2015-10-08 Have you ever wanted to know Which junction to take for Gibraltar How to save 35 040 a year on Dartford Crossing tolls How many assassins were buried within the concrete of the M25 at least one Why it is important that North Ockendon declares itself independent from Greater London at the earliest opportunity This indispensable biography of a road profiles the 117 miles of Britain's most infamous motorway from its controversial origins to its present day status as backdrop to the lives and commutes of millions Told with Ray Hamilton's trademark powers of observation and off the wall humour it is an eye opening account of the stuff you didn't know about the M25 including the action sightseeing or nature loving fun you can have coming off at any junction and a very different view of the stuff you did know M25 Travelling Clockwise Roy Phippen, 2004 In the footsteps of the phenomenally successful A272 An Ode to a Road comes the definitive and quirky guide to everyone's favorite motorway Ruined palaces restored piggeries secret bunkers and beautiful bridges are all a part of its history together with the people who live and work in them Roy will show you where you are driving under a cricket pitch or over a river where Pepys had a breakdown in his new carriage and where more than one Earl of Essex lost his head Nearly 200 color photographs including magnificent unpublished aerial views and oddities of all kinds together with specially drawn maps and diagrams make this the perfect book to have in any jam

Professor Stewart's Cabinet of Mathematical Curiosities Ian Stewart, 2010-09-03 School maths is not the interesting part The real fun is elsewhere Like a magpie Ian Stewart has collected the most enlightening entertaining and vexing curiosities of maths over the years Now the private collection is displayed in his cabinet There are some hidden gems of logic geometry and probability like how to extract a cherry from a cocktail glass harder than you think a pop up dodecahedron the real reason why you can't divide anything by zero and some tips for making money by proving the obvious Scattered among these are keys to unlocking the mysteries of Fermat's last theorem the Poincaré Conjecture chaos theory and the P NP problem for which a million dollar prize is on offer There are beguiling secrets about familiar names like Pythagoras or prime numbers as well as anecdotes about great mathematicians Pull out the drawers of the Professor's cabinet and who knows what could happen Drive Iain Borden, 2013-02-15 The open road it's a phrase that calls to mind a sense of freedom adventure and new possibilities that make driving one of our most liberating activities In Drive Iain Borden explores the way driving allows us to encounter landscapes and cities around the world He takes particular notice of how driving is portrayed in film from America to Europe to Asia and from Hollywood to the avant garde covering over a century of history and referencing hundreds of movies From the dusty landscapes of The Grapes of Wrath to the city streets of The Italian Job from the aesthetic delights of Rain Man and Traffic to the existential musings of Thelma and Louise and Vanishing Point from the freeway pleasures of Radio On and London Orbital to the high speed dangers of Crash Bullitt and C tait un Rendezvous this book shows how driving with different speeds cars roads and cities provides experiences and challenges beyond compare

Borden concludes that as an integral part of modern life car driving is something to be celebrated and even encouraged making Drive a timely riposte to anti car attitudes and those blind to the richness of life behind the wheel Project Reaper M.W. Fletcher,2016-05-25 What would a British Scientific Nobel prize winning Professor and the head of a South American Drugs Cartel have in common Professor Winston Alexander Hooke is the head of the Advanced Genetic Biotechnology AGB Research Centre that is the largest agricultural research centre in the United Kingdom Two years ago a government subcommittee had approached him to find a way to eradicate the opium poppy plant the Project became known as Project Reaper He succeeds and the results will be devastating to the opium plant Toledo Verdugo is the head of the Verdugo cartel in Bucaramanga Colombia His empire has thrived on the cultivation of the opium plant and selling the Heroine derived from it to whomever can afford it from him When Verdugo learns of this Project Reaper he is not going to allow anything to interfere with his business He hatches a plan and the consequences result in chaos and bloodshed on the streets and the skies above Britain As a result of this Max Storm Major Strayker and the Operational strike Command have once more to step up to the plate in an attempt to bring order to the chaos and retribution to people who have instigated it From the UK to the Maldives Washington USA and South America there will be no hiding from the OSC The OSC is Britain s first and last line of offence Landscape and Subjectivity in the Work of Patrick Keiller, W.G. Sebald, and Iain Sinclair David Anderson,2020-08-27 This book situates the film maker Patrick Keiller alongside the writers W G Sebald and Iain Sinclair as the three leading voices in English psychogeography offering new insights to key works including London The Rings of Saturn and Lights Out for the Territory Excavating social and political contexts while also providing plentiful close analysis it examines the cultivation of a distinctive affective mode or sensibility especially attuned to the cultural anxieties of the twentieth century s closing decades Landscape and Subjectivity explores motifs including essayism the reconciliation of creativity with market forces and the foregrounding of an often agonised or melancholic It asks whether the work can collectively be seen to constitute a critical theory of contemporary space and suggests that Keiller Sebald and Sinclair s contributions represent a highly significant moment in English culture s engagement with landscape environment and itself The book s analyses are fuelled by archival and topographical research and are responsive to various interdisciplinary contexts including the tradition of the English Journey the set of ideas associated with the spatial turn critical theory the so called heritage debate and more recent theorisation of the anthropocene Dialogism and Lyric Self-fashioning Jacob Blevins,2008-08 These essays engage multiple elements of dialogism including the convergence of masculine and feminine voices public and private discourses intertextuality and the voices of the past the dialogue between literature and art and the always present dialogue between speaker s and reader s BOOK JACKET Britain's Motorways Mark Chatterton,2022-08-15 We all use them but how much do you know about Britain s motorways Mark Chatterton offers a fascinating insight into these crucial roads Travel in Towns Martin J.H. Mogridge,1990-07-19 This book offers a new look at the theory of traffic congestion in the light of recent reassessments of the extensive surveys in London of traffic plans and speeds and in particular of journey speeds by all forms of transport The issues have been heatedly debated in professional journals and at professional meetings since the policy conclusions are profound and far reaching involving a redirection of transport policy away from road building and towards improvement of public transport systems

Sport, Difference and Belonging James Rosbrook-Thompson, 2013-01-03 This book combines historical and ethnographic components in examining the ideas about human variation subscribed to by coaches commentators and sportspeople themselves The book begins by interrogating the idea of the impulsive black sportsman and the impulsive black male more generally documenting how it came into being and gathered momentum throughout the course of British history Drawing on the work of Paul Gilroy and Ian Hacking the author then investigates whether such raciological ideas figure within the everyday behaviours of a group of young footballers Presenting an original ethnographic study undertaken at Oldfield United a semi professional football club situated in London he explores how raciological ideas and other notions of human variation shape the self understandings of the club's players and thereby influence the possibilities for action available to them In conceptualising the sense of feeling alien experienced by club personnel in relation to mainstream discourses of nationhood to politics to the basic functioning of the nation state and at bottom to the qualifications and requirements of British citizenship Sport Difference and Belonging challenges the ability of the cosmopolitan tradition to make sense of contemporary urban phenomena and seeks to develop the sociological concept of denizenship This book will be of interest to academics and students in the fields of sociology and social policy race and ethnic studies urban studies the ethnographic method and the sociology of sport It may also appeal to politicians policy makers and those working in the field of race relations

The Importance of Being Emma Juliet Archer, 2011-11-01 An ingenious contemporary twist on the classic romance Emma with characters Jane Austen herself would have loved Joanna Trollope True Emma Woodhouse crushed on her ridiculously sexy brother in law Mark Knightley when she was a clueless schoolgirl But with an MBA from Harvard and a burgeoning career as marketing director for the family food business she's become a self-assured young woman who is totally immune to the Knightley charms Besides the man of Emma's new dreams is television chef Flynn Churchill When Mark is hired as Emma's new company advisor he likes the idea of getting closer to the girl he once dismissed as a little sister Especially now that she's grown into a woman so irresistible not to mention obstinate exasperating and totally impervious when it comes to the rules of attraction and desire Emma only thinks her heart is set on Churchill Now it's up to Mark to reset Juliet Archer has reinvented Emma for a 21st century audience with breathtaking charm and verve Jane Austen's Regency World magazine Perfect for reading on a hot lazy afternoon Like a single piece of good chocolate it's a sweet treat that you won't regret later Austenblog

The Wicked Wit of England Geoff Tibballs, 2018-11-01 Nobody does irony or sarcasm like the English The Wicked Wit of England is a celebration of British humour featuring a collection of stories anecdotes quips and quotes that capture the various idiosyncrasies of the English character Road Atlas of the British Isles ,1990 Looking Good Dead Peter James,2011-12-13 Tom Bryce does what any decent person would do He picks up a CD left behind on the train seat next to him and attempts to return it to its owner But he soon becomes the sole witness to a vicious murder His young family is threatened with their lives if he goes to the police Supported by his wife Kellie he bravely makes a statement to the murder enquiry team headed by Detective Superintendent Roy Grace a man with demons of his own including his missing wife to contend with And from that moment the killing of the Bryce family becomes a mere formality and a grisly attraction Kellie and Tom s deaths have already been posted on the internet You can log on and see them on a website They are looking good dead Looking Good Dead is another chilling page turner in Peter James bestselling mystery series Skiing ,1982-12

The Early Anglo-Saxon Kingdoms of Southern Britain AD 450-650 Sue Harrington, Martin Welch, 2014-07-31 The Tribal Hidage attributed to the 7th century records the named groups and polities of early Anglo Saxon England and the taxation tribute due from their lands and surpluses Whilst providing some indication of relative wealth and its distribution rather little can be deduced from the Hidage concerning the underlying economic and social realities of the communities documented Sue Harrington and the late Martin Welch have adopted a new approach to these issues based on archaeological information from 12 000 burials and 28 000 objects of the period AD 450 650 The nature distribution and spatial relationships of settlement and burial evidence are examined over time against a background of the productive capabilities of the environment in which they are set the availability of raw materials evidence for metalworking and other industrial craft activities and communication and trade routes This has enabled the identification of central areas of wealth that influenced places around them Key within this period was the influence of the Franks who may have driven economic exploitation by building on the pre existing Roman infrastructure of the south east Frankish material culture was as widespread as that of the Kentish people whose wealth is evident in many well furnished graves but more nuanced approaches to wealth distribution are apparent further to the West perhaps due to ongoing interaction with communities who maintained an essentially Romano British way of life
