opening up of their economies and liberalisation of trade have confronted firms with largely innovation based competition and the attempt to reduce this impact are far from effective particularly in the face of the era of knowledge economy and sustainability requirements The work is articulated around three major themes the difficult path to S T capacity building the attempts to put up National Systems of Innovation NSI and the prospects for a more innovation driven growth at the territorial level notably through intermediate institutions and science and technology poles While pointing out the difficulties of building NSI the book examines how the context of an innovation driven competition put local firms especially SMEs in a difficult position It notes that universities which are prone to internal politics and rent seeking are not producing the necessary human capital The knowledge economy era challenges raise some hopes for better access to innovation and knowledge assets in the world while at the territorial level new innovation dynamics are taking place Based on extensive research and consultancy work done on the analysis of policies in the Maghreb the book also raises the issue of the neighborhood of the European Union and argues that unless Europe integrates the Maghreb in a real neighborhood Innovation System the prospects for innovation take off in the region are limited
