Macroeconomic Interactions Between North And South:

Macroeconomic Interactions Between North and South David Currie, David Vines, 1988-08-26 This volume contains the proceedings of a September 1987 conference and focuses on the North South macroeconomic interactions

Macroeconomic Interactions Between the North and South David A. Currie, David Vines, Vitantonio Muscatelli, 1988

North-South Linkages and International Macroeconomic Policy David Vines, David Currie, 1995-09-21 Researchers have begun to apply economic techniques initially developed to analyse the industrialised countries to analyse North South interactions in the world economy This volume derived from a CEPR conference brings together theoretical and empirical papers on fiscal monetary and trade linkages between the North and South The papers use the advances in the use of the major macroeconomic models to simulate global and inter regional interactions and to analyse the implications for the South of macroeconomic developments in the North They also examine international policy questions in a genuinely global context and consider the design of policy packages for the Third World aid versus trade growth oriented adjustment in an empirical context This volume provides a useful overview of the flourishing research area relating to interactions between North and South and highlights areas where future research is needed North-south Macroeconomic Interactions Charles Chukwuma

Soludo, 1992 Economic Aspects of North-South Interaction Syed Mansoob Murshed, 1992 Economic Aspects of North South Interaction analyses the macroeconomic aspects of north south interaction The events of the past two decades underscore the ever growing macroeconomic interdependence between nations and blocs of nations North South interactions take place in a highly asymmetric manner The North wields the greater economic and bargaining power and may ignore the South in the formulation of its own macroeconomic policies which are governed by Northern and ultra Northern considerations These policies have spillover effects for the South and profoundly affect Southern income terms of trade and future growth prospects Uses macroeconomic models to analyze North South interaction Includes coverage of topical issues including debt crisis environment and protectionism Presents comparisons with eastern European problems A Decade after the Global Recession M. Ayhan Kose, Franziska Ohnsorge, 2021-03-19 This year marks the tenth anniversary of the 2009 global recession Most emerging market and developing economies weathered the global recession relatively well in part by using the sizable fiscal and monetary policy ammunition accumulated during prior years of strong growth However their growth prospects have weakened since then and many now have less policy space This study provides the first comprehensive stocktaking of the past decade from the perspective of emerging market and developing economies Many of these economies have now become more vulnerable to economic shocks The study discusses lessons from the global recession and policy options for these economies to strengthen growth and prepare for the possibility of another global downturn Dynamics of Uneven Development Lynn Mainwaring, 1990 All in all this is an excellent work on trade growth and especially international investment with a unified theme S M Murshed The Economic Journal This book is an impressive contribution to the literature on North South models of international economic relations and their implications for development Scott MacDonald The World Economy The challenge of providing a simple yet illuminating and integrated analysis of trade development and international capital flows is clearly a daunting one Lynn Mainwaring has nevertheless met that challenge well in this impressive book Ian Steedman University of Manchester UK This important new book critically examines the argument that structural asymmetries between the rich industrialised countries of the global north or centre and the poor largely primary producing countries of the south or periphery could be responsible for an unequal division of the gains from international trade and investment It explores this view by developing a model of Centre Periphery relations using building blocks provided by Sraffa Leontief Pasinetti Goodwin and others External Constraints on Macroeconomic Policy George Alogoskoufis, Lucas Papademos, Richard Portes, 1991 This book from the Centre for Economic Policy Research deals with the implications of the exchange rate regimes and capital flows of the 1990s for government macroeconomic policy making and EC policy co ordination The European Community after 1992 Silvio Borner, Herbert Grubel, 2016-07-27 The liberalization of trade and factor movements and the adoption of a common currency proposed for the EEC in 1992 have important implications for the rest of the world Nineteen experts from academia different countries and regions and international organizations analyze these implications theoretically and empirically In general the authors expect Europe 1992 to generate positive effects on trade and welfare although concerns are raised over possible inward looking policies by the Community For many small and distant countries the effects are shown likely to be insignificant in any case Macroeconomic Policies in an Interdependent World Mr. Paul R. Masson, Mr. Jacob A.

Frenkel, Mr. Ralph C. Bryant, Mr. David P. Currie, Mr. Richard Portes, 1989-06-15 Copublished with the Brookings Institution Washington D C and the Centre for Economic Policy Research London and edited by Ralph Bryant David Currie Jacob A Frenkel Paul Masson and Richard Portes this volume considers economic interdependence among well developed countries as well as between them and the developing regions of the world
