Madumo A Man Bewitched:

Madumo, a Man Bewitched Adam Ashforth, 2020-05-21 No one answered when I tapped at the back door of Madumo's home on Mphahlele Street a few days after my return to Soweto so I pushed the buckling red door in a screeching grind of metal over concrete and entered calling Hallo So begins this true story of witchcraft and friendship set against the turbulent backdrop of contemporary Soweto Adam Ashforth an Australian who has spent many years in the black township finds his longtime friend Madumo in dire circumstances his family has accused him of using witchcraft to kill his mother and has thrown him out on the street Convinced that his life is cursed Madumo seeks help among Soweto's bewildering array of healers and prophets An inyanga or traditional healer confirms that he has indeed been bewitched With Ashforth by his side skeptical yet supportive Madumo embarks upon a physically grueling treatment regimen that he follows religiously almost to the point of death despite his suspicion that it may be better to Westernize my mind and not think about witchcraft Ashforth's beautifully written at times poignant account of Madumo's struggle shows that the problem of witchcraft is not simply superstition but a complex response to spiritual insecurity in a troubling time of political and economic upheaval Post apartheid Soweto he discovers is suffering from a deluge of witchcraft Through Madumo's story Ashforth opens up a world that few have seen a deeply unsettling place where the question Do you believe in witchcraft is not a simple one at all The insights that emerge as Ashforth accompanies his friend on an odyssey through Soweto's supernatural perils have profound implications even for those of us who live in worlds without witches

Eight Faces of Revenge Vibha S. Chauhan, Lily Halpert Zamir, 2018-11-26 Is revenge an expression of rage pain strength frailty justice or sadism A complex emotion revenge defies simple definitions since it is infused with different social codes and ethics It is this intricate connection between the idea of revenge and its connections with history aesthetics socio political constructs racism and religion that this volume attempts to explore Moving across continents and cultures the book examines a wide range of emotional and geographical terrains like the law of karma gender violence epic narratives caste system and cinema in India the horror of the Holocaust and metaphysical revenge witchcraft in

Ghana South Africa and Namibia Greek mythology and sexual and emotional abuse of women by a Portuguese Brazilian slave holder Wild Religion David Chidester, 2012-04-23 This book examines South Africa's political journey of the late twentieth and early twenty first century in the context of religious diversity and the recent revitalization of indigenous religion and rituals Religion in Disputes F. von Benda-Beckmann, Keebet von Benda-Beckmann, M. Ramstedt, B. Turner, 2013-08-20 How are time honored tenets of faith different ritual sensibilities and newly emerging eschatological imaginaries articulated with other normative registers and moral susceptibilities in disputes This book examines such questions through cases in Europe the United States Israel Africa and South and Southeast Asia Ethnographic Sorcery Harry G. West, 2008-09-15 According to the people of the Mueda plateau in northern Mozambique sorcerers remake the world by asserting the authority of their own imaginative visions of it While conducting research among these Muedans anthropologist Harry G West made a revealing discovery for many of them West's efforts to elaborate an ethnographic vision of their world was itself a form of sorcery In Ethnographic Sorcery West explores the fascinating issues provoked by this equation A key theme of West's research into sorcery is that one sorcerer's claims can be challenged or reversed by other sorcerers After West's attempt to construct a metaphorical interpretation of Muedan assertions that the lions prowling their villages are fabricated by sorcerers is disputed by his Muedan research collaborators West realized that ethnography and sorcery indeed have much in common Rather than abandoning ethnography West draws inspiration from this connection arguing that anthropologists along with the people they study can scarcely avoid interpreting the world they inhabit and that we are all inescapably ethnographic sorcerers Dark Shamans Neil L. Whitehead, 2002-10-07 On the little known and darker side of shamanism there exists an ancient form of sorcery called kanaim a practice still observed among the Amerindians of the highlands of Guyana Venezuela and Brazil that involves the ritual stalking mutilation lingering death and consumption of human victims At once a memoir of cultural encounter and an ethnographic and historical investigation this book offers a sustained intimate look at kanaim its practitioners their victims and the reasons they give for their actions Neil L Whitehead tells of his own involvement with kanaim including an attempt to kill him with poison and relates the personal testimonies of kanaim shamans their potential victims and the victims families He then goes on to discuss the historical emergence of kanaim describing how in the face of successive modern colonizing forces missionaries rubber gatherers miners and development agencies the practice has become an assertion of native autonomy His analysis explores the ways in which kanaim mediates both national and international impacts on native peoples in the region and considers the significance of kanaim for current accounts of shamanism and religious belief and for theories of war and violence Kanaim appears here as part of the wider lexicon of rebellious terror and exotic horror alongside the cannibal vampire and zombie that haunts the western imagination Dark Shamans broadens discussions of violence and of the representation of primitive savagery by recasting both in the light of current debates on modernity and globalization Finding My Way Duncan Brown, 2023-12-01 This book reflects on

South African literature from the perspective of 2020 It emerges from Duncan Brown's experiences of three decades of working in this field of writing and scholarship It is a personal intellectual exploration and an engagement with the institutional history of literary studies in South Africa and elsewhere Finding My Way also attempts to find more creative engaging and intriguing modes of writing about literature and the humanities universally It seeks to recover a sense of the imaginative the literary and the affective not only as things to value in the literary texts we read but also as ways of understanding and reading texts as ways of writing criticism of registering how books make us feel as well as how they make us think Print edition not for sale in Sub Saharan Africa

Spearheading Debate Steven C. Dubin, 2012 As South Africa's democracy matures this book raises pertinent questions How does the state mediate between traditional tribal authority and constitutional law in matters such as initiation customs or the rights of women children and homosexuals What are the limitations on artistic freedom in a society where sensitivities over colonial and apartheid era representations are acute How does race open up discussions or close down dialogue and What are the parameters of freedom of speech when minorities fear that hateful language may trigger actual violence against them Examining disputes over South African art music media editorial cartoons history public memory and a variety of social practices the culture wars perspective is extended to new territory in this study demonstrating its cross cultural applicability and parsing critical debates within this vibrant society in formation
