Parents Matter? Robert A. LeVine, Sarah LeVine, 2016-09-06 When it comes to parenting more isn't always better but it is always more tiring. In Japan a boy sleeps in his parents' bed until age ten but still shows independence in all other areas of his life. In rural India toilet training begins one month after infants are born and is accomplished with little fanfare. In Paris parents limit the amount of agency they give their toddlers. In America parents grant them ever more choices, independence, and attention. Given our approach to parenting is it any surprise that American parents are too frequently exhausted? Over the course of nearly fifty years Robert and Sarah LeVine have conducted a groundbreaking worldwide study of how families work. They have consistently found that children can be happy and healthy in a wide variety of conditions, not just the effort-intensive, cautious environment so many American parents drive themselves crazy trying to create. While there is always another news article or scientific fad proclaiming the importance of some factor or other, it's easy to miss the bigger picture that children are smarter, more resilient, and more independent than we give them credit for. Do Parents Matter? is an eye-opening look at the world of human nurture, one with profound lessons for the way we think about our families. World Yearbook of Education 2009 Marilyn Flear, Mariane Hedegaard, Jonathan Tudge, 2012-04-05 The World Yearbook of Education 2009: Childhood Studies and the Impact of Globalization Policies and Practices at Global and Local Levels examines the concept of childhood and childhood development and learning from educational, sociological, and psychological perspectives. This contributed volume seeks to explicitly provide a series of windows into the construction of childhood around the world as a means to conceptualizing and more sharply defining the emerging field of global and local childhood studies. At the global level there has been increasing discontent with how children have been reified and measured. Prevailing Eurocentric and North American notions of childhood and development across the North-South boundaries show vast differences in how childhood is constructed and how development is theorized. The World Yearbook of Education 2009 volume provides comprehensive research from Asia-Pacific, the Americas, the African region, and European communities and is presented with a special focus on education. It examines childhood from birth to twelve years of age across institutional contexts and within both poor majority and rich minority countries. Cultural historical theory has been used as the framework for investigating and providing insights into how childhood is theorized, politicized, enacted, and lived across these communities. A range of theoretical orientations informs this book, including cultural historical theory, ecological theory, and cross-cultural research. The World Yearbook of Education 2009 volume is organized into 3 sections. Section 1 Examines the global construction of childhood development and learning. Section 2 Discusses the local conditions and global imperatives that arise from a broadly based analysis of the studies presented within this section. Section 3 Draws upon cultural historical theory and ecological theory and brings together the themes explored throughout the preceding two sections

The World Yearbook of Education 2009 volume seeks to make visible the cultural historical construction of childhood and development across the north south regions and scrutinizes the policy imperatives that have maintained the global colonization of families Anthropology and Child Development Robert A. LeVine, Rebecca S. New, 2008-02-11 This unprecedented collection of articles is an introduction to the study of cultural variations in childhood across the world and to the theoretical frameworks for investigating and interpreting them Presents a history of cross cultural approaches to child development Recent articles examine diverse contexts of childhood in ecological semiotic and sociolinguistic terms Includes ethnographic studies of childhood in the Pacific Africa Latin America East Asia Europe and North America Illuminates the process through which people become the bearers of culturally historically specific identities Serves as an ideal text for anthropology courses focusing on childhood as well as classes on development psychology

The Middle East Gary S. Gregg, 2005-07-21 The first comprehensive summary of psychological studies of Arab Muslim societies this book examines psychological development through the life span describing how traditional patterns appear to be changing in both modernizing and underdeveloping sectors of Middle Eastern societies It provides a scholarly account of the region s cultural psychology and also offers insight into the daily lives of parents children and families as they struggle behind and sometimes in the headlines to modernize while conserving valued traditions Polygamous Families in Contemporary Society Irwin Altman, Joseph Ginat, 1996-07-26 This groundbreaking book examines marital relationships in contemporary Mormon polygamous families The Psychology of Cultural Experience Carmella C. Moore, Holly F. Mathews, 2001-09-06 The essays in this volume first published in 2001 focus upon the relationship of individual experience to culture and chart a research agenda for psychological anthropology in the twenty first century Drawing upon fieldwork in diverse cultural settings the authors use a range of contemporary perspectives in the field including person centred ethnography activity theory attachment theory and cultural schema theory to describe the ways in which people think feel remember and solve problems Fascinating insights emerge from these fine grained accounts of personal experience The research demonstrates that it is possible to identify cross cultural universals in psychological development and mental states and that individual psychology is not determined solely by unique cultural patterns

Conflict and Accommodation in Western Kenya Robert M. Maxon, 1989 The Gusii people of Kenya Africa were the last major Kenyan ethnic group to be conquered by the British This is an account of their experience under colonial control and a portrayal of their strong and steadfast resistance Illustrated with maps and tables

Child Care in Context Michael E. Lamb, Kathleen J. Sternberg, Carl-Philip Hwang, Anders G. Broberg, 2014-01-02 Child care is an integral part of the web of influences and experiences that shape children s development Utilizing an interdisciplinary approach that covers both historic and economic contexts this unique book characterizes child care in 18 countries on five continents Specific historical roots and the current social contexts of child care are delineated in industrialized as well as in developing countries To increase the depth of crosscultural analysis and integration commentators from countries and disciplines other than the authors comment on the issues raised in each chapter Girl Cases Brett L. Shadle, 2006-08-30 Beginning in the late 1930s a crisis in colonial Gusiiland developed over traditional marriage customs Couples eloped wives deserted husbands fathers forced daughters into marriage and desperate men abducted women as wives Existing historiography focuses on women who either fled their rural homes to escape a new dual patriarchy African men backed by colonial officials or surrendered themselves to this new power Girl Cases Marriage and Colonialism in Gusiiland Kenya 1890 1970 takes a new approach to the study of Gusii marriage customs and shows that Gusii women stayed in their homes to fight over the nature of marriage Gusii women and their lovers remained committed to traditional bridewealth marriage but they raised deeper questions over the relations between men and women During this time of social upheaval thousands of marriage disputes flowed into local African courts By examining court transcripts Girl Cases sheds light on the dialogue that developed surrounding the nature of marriage Should parental rights to arrange a marriage outweigh women s rights to choose their husbands Could violence by abductors create a legitimate union Men and women debated these and other issues in the courtroom and Brett L Shadle s analysis of the transcripts provides a valuable addition to African social history Going to School in Sub-Saharan

Transformations Helen Schwartzman, 2012-12-06 Writing a book about play leads to wondering In writing this book I wondered first if it would be taken seriously and then if it might be too serious Eventually I realized that these concerns were cast in terms of the major dichotomy that I wished to question that is the very pervasive and very inaccurate division that Western cultures make between play and seriousness or play and work fantasy and reality and so forth The study of play provides researchers with a special arena for re thinking this opposition and in this book an attempt is made to do this by reviewing and evaluating studies of children's transformations their play in relation to the history of anthropologists transformations their theories While studying play I have wondered in the company of many individuals I would first like to thank my husband John Schwartzman for acting as both my strongest supporter and as an anthropological colleague my severest critic His sense of nonsense is always novel as well as instructive I am also very grateful to Linda Barbera Stein for her Sherlock Holmes style help in locating obscure references checking and cross checking information and patience and persistence in the face of what at times appeared to be bibliographic chaos I also owe special thanks to my teachers of anthropology Paul J Bohannon Johannes Fabian Edward T Hall and Roy Wagner whose various orientations have directly and indirectly influenced the approach presented in this book The Making of Psychological Anthropology George D.
