Early Modernity Christine Göttler,Mia Mochizuki,2025-10-01 Early modern views of nature and the earth upended the depiction of land Landscape emerged as a site of artistic exploration at a time when environments and ecologies were reshaped and transformed This volume historicizes the contingency of an ever changing elemental world reframing and reimagining landscape as a mediating space in the interplay between the natural and the artificial the real and the imaginary the internal and the external The lens of the unruly reveals the latent landscapes that undergirded their conception the elemental resources that resurfaced from the bowels of the earth the staged topographies that unsettled the boundaries between nature and technology and the fragile ecologies that undermined the status quo of human environs Landscape and Earth in Early Modernity Picturing Unruly Nature argues for an art history attentive to the vicissitudes of circumstance and attributes the regrouping of representation during a transitional age to the unquiet landscape *Rosenborg. Anna of Denmark Jemma Field,2020-06-11 Approaching the Stuart courts through the lens of the queen consort Anna of Denmark this study is underpinned by three key themes translating cultures female agency and the role of kinship networks and genealogical identity for early modern royal women Illustrated with a fascinating array of objects and artworks the book follows a trajectory that begins with Anna's exterior spaces before moving to the interior furnishings of her palaces the material adornment of the royal body an examination of Anna's visual persona and a discussion of Anna's performance of extraordinary rituals that follow her life cycle Underpinned by a wealth of new archival research the book provides a richer understanding of the breadth of Anna's interests and the meanings generated by her actions associations and possessions

The Deformation Susanna Berger, 2025-07-29 A fascinating account of the use and meaning of visual and spatial distortions in seventeenth century art and architecture During the Catholic Reformation patrons artists architects and viewers especially in Rome were strongly drawn to visual and spatial distortions or deformations works of art and architecture that were designed to be visually incomprehensible at least initially From Borromini's San Carlo alle Quattro Fontane in Rome to the attention grabbing prospettiva in the city's Palazzo Spada and the anamorphoses that define the corridors and walls of Minim and Jesuit buildings The Deformation explores what this intriguing phenomenon reveals about contemporary religious belief optics and the natural sciences as well as wider questions about attention and discernment Failing to conform to an established ideal deformations required a reformation to achieve that ideal Anamorphic deformations for example could only be reformed into clarity when viewed from a particular angle or through a special mirror Susanna Berger examines how deformations were experienced by beholders and how they were embraced or opposed by critics The book shows how deformations and related works whether altar tabernacles ephemeral religious architecture churches monumental sundials colonnades with accelerated perspective illusionistic frescoes turned ivories or painted anamorphoses focused observers attention on theological mysteries and the social power and sophistication of patrons The book's rich illustrations include two gatefolds and some anamorphic images that can be seen without distortion by using an included reflective insert as a mirror Looking at writings as well as visual works in multiple artistic media not typically considered in relation to each other The Deformation offers a new interpretation of deformation that highlights the delay between perception and discernment
