

The background of the cover is a photograph of a cave interior. The cave walls are made of layered, reddish-brown rock. In the center, a group of people and horses are walking away from the viewer towards a bright opening at the end of the cave. The floor is dark and reflective, mirroring the scene above. The overall atmosphere is one of exploration and discovery.

Sutherland, 2008-04-15 Textbooks on the principles of conservation biology abound Yet how does one put this theoretical knowledge into practice The aim of The Conservation Handbook is to provide clear guidance on the implementation of conservation techniques The wide range of methods described include those for ecological research monitoring planning education habitat management and combining conservation with development Nineteen case studies illustrate how the methods have been applied The book will be of interest to conservation biology students and practicing conservationists worldwide For each copy of the book sold another copy will be sent free to a practicing conservationist outside Western Europe North America Australia New Zealand and Japan Foreword by E O Wilson Concise practical guide packed full of ideas methods and advice Provides solutions for the main conservation problems most commonly encountered 18 global case studies illustrate the application of techniques The Conservation Handbook Donations Project this book is being sent free to those practising conservationists outside Western Europe North America Australia New Zealand and Japan who are otherwise unlikely to obtain a copy These copies are provided at cost price by Blackwell Science the publisher and paid for with the author's royalties Each book sold means another one will be donated Expedition Planners' Handbook and Directory, 1988 The Green Travel Guide Greg Neale, 2019-03-12 This book suggests ways in which we can enjoy our holidays and our travel even more by becoming green travellers It also suggests different types of green holidays and encourages some of the better examples of good environmental practice in holidaymaking around the world Conducting Research in Conservation Helen Newing, 2010-10-18 This is the first textbook on social science research methods for use in the expanding and increasingly multidisciplinary field of environmental conservation It is divided into five useful sections and illustrated throughout with practical examples of conservation related research from different parts of the world Europe the Americas Africa Asia Australia and different ecosystems forests grasslands desert marine and riverine systems as well as farmland and home gardens It will be an invaluable tool in the training of the next generation of conservation professionals

Tropical Rain Forest: A Wider Perspective F.B. Goldsmith, 2012-12-06 The international perspective for this book is the unprecedented level of concern over deforestation recognized by the meeting of world leaders at the 1992 Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro and culminating in the appointment of the Intergovernmental Panel on Forests IPF under the auspices of the UN Commission on Sustainable Development The wide range of issues covered by the authors in this volume reflects the breadth of the international debate from national policies and activist campaigning through economic and social objectives to the sustainable management of forest and soil resources Since the conservation campaigns of the 1980s the focus of international concern has widened from tropical rain forests to all forest formations in all regions with increased recognition of global values and common responsibilities However while forest cover in some temperate countries is increasing irrational deforestation at historically unprecedented levels of damage to biodiversity and to other environmental values remains most acute in tropical countries where the need to use the natural resources for sustainable development is greatest and the capability weakest While accepting the urgency of the situation and the need for greater coherence of action at a global level the 1997 report of the IPF to the UN Commission emphasized the powers and responsibilities of national governments and the importance of National Forest Programmes but with the fuller participation of local communities and with enhanced access to international assistance
