The Principles of New Ethics IV Wang Haiming, 2020-12-29 From Descartes to Spinoza Western philosophers have attempted to propose an axiomatic systemization of ethics. However, without consensus on the contents and objects of ethics, the system remains incomplete. This four-volume set presents a model that highlights a Chinese philosopher's insights into ethics after a 22-year study. Three essential components of ethics are examined: meta-ethics, normative ethics, and virtue ethics. In this volume, the author analyzes the relationship between people's sense of reputation, the political and economic status of a nation, and the observation of virtue ethics, and he argues that reputation can encourage people to conform to virtue ethics. In addition, a nation's political and economic status is closely connected to people's virtue ethics. That is, people will have higher virtue ethics when constitutional democracy, a market economy without government control, freedom of speech, and the moral system of liberalism and egalitarianism are established in a nation. This title is an essential read for students and scholars of ethics and philosophy in general.

Social Connectionism

Frank Van Overwalle, 2013-03-07. Many of our thoughts and decisions occur without us being conscious of them taking place. Connectionism attempts to reveal the internal hidden dynamics that drive the thoughts and actions of both individuals and groups. Connectionist modeling is a radically innovative approach to theorising in psychology and more recently in the field of social psychology. The connectionist perspective interprets human cognition as a dynamic and adaptive system that learns from its own direct experiences or through indirect communication from others. Social Connectionism offers an overview of the most recent theoretical developments of connectionist models in social psychology. The volume is divided into four sections, beginning with an introduction and overview of social connectionism. This is followed by chapters on causal attribution, person and group impression formation, and attitudes. Each chapter is followed by simulation exercises that can be carried out using the FIT simulation program; these guided exercises allow the reader to reproduce published results. Social

Social Life and Moral Judgment Antony Flew, 2017-12-02 In Social Life and Moral Judgment author and philosopher Antony Flew examines the social problems induced by the mature welfare state Welfare states make ever increasing financial demands on their citizenry yet the evidence clearly supports that such demands are not sustainable In this superlative collection of thematic essays Flew investigates and explains why this is so and calls for a return to individual responsibility The first essay establishes the philosophical basis for his argument Is Human Sociobiology Possible answers its titular question in the negative asserting that we are all members of a peculiar type of creature that can and therefore must be responsible for whatever choices between various courses of action or inaction that are open to us as individuals In other essays Flew shows how state welfare systems inevitably corrupt and demoralize their citizens by encouraging ever more people to apply for welfare entitlements and reducing the incentives to avoid or escape the conditions warranting those entitlements He investigates the origins of this new kind of welfare entitlement and shows how very different what politicians and public sector employees produce is from what these people claim to be producing Flew shows that the drive for social justice appears to require that the justly acquired income and wealth of all citizens should be progressively taxed away or supplemented by the state so that the eventual result is more though never perfect equality This objective he asserts must be radically distinguished from old fashioned without prefix or suffix justice It was this type of justice Adam Smith referred to when he famously said that it is a virtue of which the observance is not left to the freedom of our wills but which may be extorted by force Flew question the aims of those who would discredit wealth creators and wealth creating investment showing that these are the same people who prom
