Conceptualism thwarting the conventional opposition between romantic inwardness and conceptual rationalism Having Been Said Lawrence Weiner, 2004 Lawrence Weiner's art uses language in reference to materials. Language itself is a material and at the same time a means of presentation of his work. Weiner evolved this approach in the context of the Conceptual art of the late 60s yet he does not see his own work as conceptual. The space he works within is the entire cultural context and his works are associated with various different media and forms of presentation: books, posters, videos, films, records, drawings, multiples, installations indoors and outdoors and more. Since his earliest days as a professional artist, Weiner has given written and verbal expression to questions concerning his work and its context. These utterances, statements, interviews, lectures and conference contributions have been collected together in this publication for the first time and ordered chronologically. Taken as a whole, they afford an insight both into a complex individual biography and into the wider development of art and culture and the challenge that this entails. Robert Mapplethorpe and the Classical Tradition Robert Mapplethorpe, Germano Celant, Arkadii Ippolitov, Karole P. Zamosc is an extraordinary treasure of late Renaissance architecture, singular in its urban conception, located near the Polish-Ukrainian border on route between Lublin and Lwów. The never destroyed city will host the works of contemporary artists from twelve European and six non-European countries amidst its traces of a once truly multicultural society: the former orthodox churches, the cathedral, the synagogue as well as the Armenian houses. Only few ideal cities were ever partially or completely built. In particular, the ideal city plans that were closely tied to societal utopias usually remained unrealized. Zamosc, conceived by Count Jan Zamoyski and built between 1580-1605 by Italian architect Bernardo Morando, is one of the rare existing examples of an ideal city. Today Zamosc is included in the UNESCO list of World Heritage. The artists working site specifically will react to the given architecture and insert their work in public spaces and buildings: hidden courtyards or squares. Lawrence Weiner enfolds the arcades at the main square with one of his word sculptures. Monika Sosnowska composed a fountain while Mirosław Balka's sculpture relates to wounds deeply cut during the second World War. Daniela Brahm, Colin Ardley, Kai Schiemenz determine squares and public spaces anew. Franka Hoernschemeyer reflects with her installation the clear gridding of the city's layout and Lucas Lenglet drafted a columbarium for one of the courtyards Les Schliesser sets up a museum for a fictive architect born in Zamosc Jakob Kolding investigates functional city planning with a poster project and Craigie Horsfield introduces a sound installation David Tremlett inserted pastel wall drawings into the cartouches of the Renaissance synagogue while the structural works of Katarzyna Jozefowicz and Pedro Cabrita Reis dialogue across its naves and Sol Lewitt inhabits its courtyard temporarily Tilman Wendlands installation in the historical museum will integrate documentation on ideal city plans of the moderns Le Corbusier Niemeyer and Hansen and Jaroslaw Flicinski will conceive a large wall painting for the academy in the gymnasium of which George Hadjimichalis will install his Workshop of Projects and Images in Crisis In the casemates of the fortress Zamosc the photo film and video works by Tarek Al Ghoussein Francis Alys Tacita Dean and Rula Halawani address the issues of geometry order defence systems resistance and alleged security In the historical academy building which today houses the towns high school in the Historical Museum and at the Zamosc City Gallery 20 artists will be showing their works relating to the major themes of the exhibition including memory and the grid The contemporary art works will engage in a challenging and substantial discourse with the historical city and the underlying invisible cities hidden beyond or masked by time and history All in short walking distance the exhibition will cover the entire city of Zamosc from June 18 2006 to August 22 2006 In September and October a freshly adapted version of the exhibition will be shown in the city of Potsdam which was mainly planned and built during Baroque times
