Narreme In The Medieval Romance Epic:

The Narreme in the Medieval Romance Epic Eugene Dorfman, 1969-12-15 In this study Professor Dorfman applies the methods of modern linguistics to literary analysis Literature may be described as the structured use of language the modern linguistic analyzes language in a search for the minimal units of sound and form phoneme and morpheme and determines the combinations by which they can communicate meaning The author here searches for a minimal structural unit in the literary narrative analogous to the phoneme and the morpheme in language structure Based on a detailed analysis of the Roland and the Cid and twelve additional Romance narratives Professor Dorfman's argument is that the structure of the medieval Romance epics may be analyzed into functional units which he calls narremes He divides a narrative into two types of structure the superstructure and the substructure A narrative by definition is a series of incidents All the incidents in the narrative taken as written form the superstructure Analysis however shows that many of the incidents may be abstracted from the narrative without deflecting the story line On the other hand other incidents reveal themselves as organically linked with each other so they cannot be omitted without destroying the story line These selected incidents are the narremes which make up the substructure of the narrative This method of analysis produces so interesting and surprising results results which make an important advance in research in linguistics and Romance literature Eugene Dorfman as an orthodox structuralist has focused strictly on the formal descriptions of the narratives but his analysis leads into the great traditional problems of literary history and in particular poses anew the problem of the origins of the epic Rezension zu: Eugene

Raymond Poisson a contemporary of Molière was the leading comic actor with the troupe of the Hôtel de Bourgogne and later at the Comédie Française during the first five years of its existence He popularized one of the French stage's best loved stock characters the impudent servant Crispin while finding time to supply his troupe with short comedies in which he himself starred This study is thoroughly documented and reflects the author's detailed knowledge of and interest in the period It establishes Poisson's place in theatrical history and illuminates a whole tradition in French theatre in the seventeenth century The Battle of Kulikovo Refought Kati M.J. Parppei, 2017-01-05 The battle of Kulikovo fought between

Muscovite and Tatar troops in 1380 has been considered as a crucial turning point in the national history of Russia In The Battle of Kulikovo Refought Kati Parppei examines the layers of contemporary meanings attached to the event from the Middle Ages to the present following the formation and establishment of the collective images and perceptions concerning the battle By utilizing a diverse set of sources she shows that the present image of the medieval battle was created in retrospect from the 15th century onwards by interpolating interpreting and simplifying The narrative themes emphasizing internal unity have been applicable to practically any political situation over the centuries especially to ones involving external threat

Cohesion in English M.A.K. Halliday,Ruqaiya Hasan,2014-01-14 Cohesion in English is concerned with a relatively neglected part of the linguistic system its resources for text construction the range of meanings that are specifically associated with relating what is being spoken or written to its semantic environment A principal component of these resources is cohesion This book studies the cohesion that arises from semantic relations between sentences Reference from one to the other repetition of word meanings the conjunctive force of but so then and the like are considered Further it describes a method for analysing and coding sentences which is applied to specimen texts Linguistics in North America, 1 William Bright,2019-04-15 No detailed description available for Linguistics in North America 1 Bulletin bibliographique de la Société internationale arthurienne International Arthurian Society,1977

The Narrative Imagination Armine Avakian Kotin,2014-07-15 Philippe de Vigneulles 1471 1528 cloth merchant and hosier from the city of Metz wrote a collection of comic short stories which he called Cent Nouvelles ou contes joyeux The work constitutes an important step in the development of the nouvelle form in France In an extended explication Ms Kotin analyzes the tales for the modern reader historically generically structurally and in terms of their human significance Inscribed in a tradition of short narrative forms in late medieval and early Renaissance France these tales remake or recast traditional narrative patterns into new forms Philippe de Vigneulles s tales constitute a recit of human life supported by the sympathetic presence of the author and his beloved city of Metz

Pragmatic Markers in English Laurel J. Brinton,2010-12-14 The future of English linguistics as envisaged by the editors of Topics in English Linguistics lies in empirical studies which integrate work in English linguistics into general and theoretical linguistics on the one hand and comparative linguistics on the other The TiEL series features volumes that present interesting new data and analyses and above all fresh approaches that contribute to the overall aim of the series which is to further outstanding research in English linguistics

Shakespeare's Grammatical Style Dolores M. Burton,2014-11-06 Shakespeare s Grammatical Style is the first full scale systematic study using an examination of Shakespeare s syntax as a key to the interpretation of his work Dolores M Burton presents information on the application of linguistic and statistical techniques to the description and analysis of style and she has applied the insights and techniques of the major schools of linguistic inquiry including those of London and Prague Just as studies of imagery and vocabulary have aided interpretations of the plays so an examination of the grammatical features of Shakespeare s language indicates that they too perform a poetic and dramatic function For example noun modifiers like possessives and definite articles yield insights into a speaker's point of view or subtly aid in defining the fictional world of the plays With respect to stylistic development Shakespeare's handling of word order moved from a concentration of dislocated sentences and clause constituents to greater emphasis on varied and frequent permutations in nominal and verbal phrases A computer generated concordance of function words facilitated the study of syntactic features which included an examination of formal aspects of diction nominal group structure the function and frequency of relative clauses and the classification of sentences by mood and type Several problems associated with quantitative and linguistic studies of a full length literary work are discussed and exemplified Style itself is defined mathematically as a propositional function $S \rightarrow A$ and from this definition stylistic parameters are derived by correlating critical notions like fictional world point of view and characterization with differences in the syntax of the two plays

From Paragraphs to Plots Matthew Clark, 2024-09-25 The novel has often been characterized as the art form without a form Although there may not be any rules for how to write a novel as Matthew Clark shows in his new work of practical analysis a good novel is as carefully formed as a good poem From Paragraphs to Plots uncovers large compositional features of narrative construction thereby excavating elements that constitute the architecture of the novel Clark begins by discussing the segmentation of narratives from the paragraph level up to the whole novel with case studies of the composition of Jane Austen's Emma and Virginia Woolf's Mrs Dalloway The next chapter explores an important though often neglected feature of narrative architecture called ring composition a particular kind of repetition where the beginning and the end of a text are the same or similar From there Clark analyzes in detail two novels Ford Madox Ford's The Good Soldier and Joseph Heller's Catch 22 identifying the repetitions inversions links and fragmented narrations that comprise each narrative The book's second half focuses on simple and complex plot forms Examining iterations of simple forms plots that begin with a specific initiating event and proceed in an essentially regular chronological progression from beginning to middle to end Clark outlines several common beginnings Arrival Departure Meeting Need Birth Death and endings Departures Returns Marriages Need Satisfied Death along with a short account of less common ways to begin a novel Subsequent discussions examine devices used in complex plot forms such as Beginning with the Ending Second Chapter Retrospects Ghosts from the Past Multiple Retrospects One Day Novels One Year Novels Mirror Plots Simultaneous Narration Unnatural Chronology and Non Narrative Elements The final chapter draws together the preceding discussions with a detailed case study of a recent novel Viet Thanh Nguyen's Pulitzer Prize winning The Sympathizer By analyzing common practices of narrative construction From Paragraphs to Plots identifies sources of beauty and meaning in literature approaching the aesthetic and the thematic as simultaneous and inextricable
