Pacific 2010 Women And Employment In Solomon Islands Women And Employment In Solomon Islands:

Pacific 2010 Marion Wybourn Ward,1995 One of the monographs in a series which reports on the National Centre for Development Studies project Pacific 2010 Examines the status of women in the Solomon Islands and outlines measures underway to address women s subordination Issues such as women and education employment unemployment self employment and work in subsistence agriculture are examined The author argues that while women make a significant contribution to the growth and development of the economy in the Solomon Islands sweeping changes are necessary at all levels of government to address the status of women Includes six tables of figures and a list of references The author is a consultant who has carried out a number of studies concerning the advancement of women in developing and developed countries and has worked in most South Pacific countries

Social Policies in Solomon Islands and Vanuatu Biman C. Prasad,Paul Kausimae,2012 Solomon Islands and Vanuatu are two small states that have struggled to develop successful social policies since independence This study traces their social histories and examines factors that have hindered progress Future development requires a move away from traditional social structures and a focus on political stability and economic growth

Women and Business in the Pacific Vijaya Nagarajan,2018-08-01 This book provides a current and comprehensive analysis of the context in which Pacific women engage in the private sector as well as a detailed list of strategies to increase their participation in business Drawing on research and data from seven Pacific countries it offers a diversity of innovative and pragmatic ways to empower women and enhance their economic opportunities Jointly undertaken by the Asian Development Bank s Pacific Private Sector Development Initiative and the Government of Australia this study is valuable for anyone seeking to support Pacific women and contribute to entrepreneurship business development and private sector growth

Transformations of Gender in Melanesia Martha Macintyre,Ceridwen Spark,2017-02-06 Despite the plethora of research on gender and the many projects designed to improve their status in the Pacific region women continue to be disadvantaged and marginalised in social economic and political spheres How are we to understand this and what does it mean for researchers policy makers and development practitioners This book examines these questions partly by looking back but also by continuing the effort to explain and understand gender inequities in the Pacific through reference to the concept of societies in transition The contributors discuss emerging masculinities and femininities in the Pacific in order to chart the development of these in their contexts Exploring how contemporary Pacific identities are shaped by local contexts and traditions they focus on how these are remade through interaction with global ideas images and practices including new forms of Christianity and economic transformations Grounded in recent original research in both the villages and towns of Melanesia the collection engages with the study of gender in Melanesia as well as scholarship on global modernities This collection is a welcome addition to the study of gender in Melanesia Collectively the essays present complex locally contextualised and regionally situated case studies of gender transformation occurring alongside in many instances the re codification of hegemonic gendered norms and practices Gender is not understood as simply code for women in this volume rather the majority of chapters incorporate men and masculinities in their analysis of gender relations and dynamics A highlight of the collection is the attention paid to how the politics of tradition and of modernity are expressed through morally loaded concepts of the good or bad woman or man and vice versa Kalissa Alexeyeff University of Melbourne

Pacific Forest Judith Bennett,2021-10-25 This book addresses the contending views of the uses of Solomon Island forest Ranging from an examination of the interaction between the first settlers and their forest the book goes on to analyse the attitudes of the British administrators planters and missionaries The colonial government sought to protect the resource but neglected to consider the wishes of the forest s inhabitants in planning for its future economic use The independent governments failed to protect the dwindling forest on customary land in the face of accelerating demands from their own people and of Asian based logging companies while non governmental organisations and aid donors have tried to invoke a more conservative regime of forest use

Household Vulnerability and Resilience to Economic Shocks Simon Feeny,2016-07-22 Focusing on the vulnerability and resilience to economic shocks at the household level this book draws on extensive research activities carried out in two Melanesia countries the Solomon Islands and Vanuatu In particular it identifies the household impacts of the recent food fuel and economic crises The contributors also examine resilience by identifying how households responded to these recent economic events in order to cope with their impacts Findings indicate that households are vulnerable to a range of shocks and often struggle to cope with their impacts Shocks are making it harder for households to meet their basic needs Households in Melanesia are facing increasing demands for money in particular for school fees basic foodstuffs and customary obligations Concurrently there are limited domestic opportunities for formal employment Traditional social support networks are strong and are an important form of resilience However there is evidence that they are disintegrating Of particular focus are the gendered impacts Women are found to bear a disproportionate share of the burden in adjusting to household shocks The authors highlight key areas in which public policy and development programmes can reduce household vulnerability and increase their resilience to future economic shocks Solomon Islands: Western Province situation analysis , Aquatic agricultural systems AAS are places where farming and fishing in freshwater and or coastal ecosystems contribute significantly to household income and food security Globally the livelihoods of many poor and vulnerable people are dependent on these systems In recognition of the importance of AAS the CGIAR Research Program CRP is undertaking a new generation of global agricultural research programs on key issues affecting global food security and rural development The overall goal of the research program is to improve the well being of people dependent on these systems Solomon Islands is one of five priority countries in the AAS program led by WorldFish In Solomon Islands the AAS program operates in the Malaita Hub Malaita Province and the Western Hub Western Province This program and its scoping activities are summarized in this report Women's Economic Empowerment in the Pacific Region Asian Development Bank,2023-05-01 Micro small and medium sized enterprises MSMEs play a significant role in economic development in Pacific island countries and offer pathways to women s leadership and economic empowerment This report explores the state of knowledge on women s economic empowerment in the region focusing on women s entrepreneurship and MSMEs owned by women Drawing on over 200 published papers and studies and 11 quantitative datasets it analyzes drivers of and barriers to women s economic empowerment It looks at business ownership formalization and expansion violence against women and girls and the effects of the COVID 19 pandemic The report provides recommendations for research policy and programming Economics Division Working Papers ,1996

Pacific Islands Guestworkers in Australia Kirstie Petrou,John Connell,2022-12-01 This is the first book to examine the contemporary seasonal migration of Pacific islanders to Australia through the Seasonal Worker Programme SWP It reflects on this new age of guestwork from a broad social economic political and cultural perspective in both source countries and destinations In so doing it offers a critical perspective on different phases of managed labour migration from nineteenth century practices of blackbirding to the present day This book examines why and how guestworker policies and programmes have developed and the impact this has had in Australia and for the people villages and islands of the sending states It particularly focuses on Vanuatu the main source of labour and draws upon studies based in Australia Vanuatu and other Pacific Island countries The book therefore traces new patterns of migration with intriguing economic and social consequences that are restructuring parts of rural and regional Australia in response to labour demands from agriculture and evolving regional geopolitics The Remaking of Social Contracts Gita Sen, Marina Durano, 2014-09-11 Development

Alternatives with Women for a New Era DAWN argues that social contracts must be recreated if they are to fulfil the promise of human rights In The Remaking of Social Contracts leading thinkers and activists address a wide range of concerns global economic governance militarism ecological tipping points the nation state movement building sexuality and reproduction and religious fundamentalism These themes are of wide ranging importance for the survival and well being of us all and reflect the many dimensions and inter connectedness of our lives Using feminist lenses the book puts forward a holistic and radical understanding of the synergies tensions and contradictions between social movements and global regional and local power structures and processes and it points to other alternatives and possibilities for this fierce new world Continuing Reforms to Stimulate Private Sector Investment Asian Development Bank, 2016-04-01 A business environment that supports private sector led growth is the key to long term sustainable poverty reduction This has been recognized by successive Solomon Islands governments who have implemented fundamental reforms that have modernized the environment for doing business in the country with some far reaching reforms This private sector assessment PSA analyzes the reforms to date and suggests further policy actions and priorities in the areas of business law reform promoting economic opportunities for women infrastructure state owned enterprises the tax system and the financial system The policy recommendations in the PSA provide the basis for discussions between the Government of Solomon Islands the private sector and other stakeholders regarding future reform priorities that will contribute to the country s resources being used most productively This PSA was produced by the Pacific Private Sector Development Initiative a regional technical assistance facility cofinanced by the Asian Development Bank ADB the Government of Australia and the Government of New Zealand Gender and Identity around the World Chuck Stewart, 2020-11-09 This book provides an indispensable resource for high school and college students interested in the history and current status of gender identity formation and maintenance and how it impacts LGBTQ rights throughout the world Gender and Identity around the World explores a variety of gender and LGBTQ experiences and issues in countries from all the world s regions Guided by more than 50 recognized academic experts readers will examine how gender and LGBTQ identities are developed fought for perceived and policed in countries as diverse as France Brazil Russia Jordan Iraq and China Each chapter opens with a general introduction to a country or group of countries and flows into a discussion of gender and identity in terms of culture education family life health and wellness law work and activism in that region of the world A section on contemporary issues specific to the country or group of countries follows this discussion
