solve our toughest social problems either relying on violence and aggression or submitting to endless negotiation and compromise are fundamentally flawed This is because the seemingly contradictory drives behind these approaches power the desire to achieve one s purpose and love the urge to unite with others are actually complementary As Dr Martin Luther King Jr put it Power without love is reckless and abusive and love without power is sentimental and anemic But how do you combine them For the last twenty years Adam Kahane of Reos Partners and the University of Oxford has worked around the world on many tough and vital challenges food security health care economic development judicial reform peacemaking climate change In this extraordinary book he draws on this experience to delve deeply into the dual natures of both power and love exploring their subtle and intricate interplay With disarming honesty Kahane relates how through trial and error he has learned to balance them and offers practical guidance for how others can learn that balance as well The Littoral

Australia find themselves continually under siege Why do many interventions fail to produce what was hoped for Why is it that when there have been many positive developments at some deep level nothing seems to have changed Will the Uluru Statement from the Heart ensure the future security of the First Peoples in Australia By developing strands from Christian theology Liberating the Will of Australia answers these questions in a way that gets to the heart of the problem It is shown that the way that the First Peoples were treated by the first European in comers became an indelible part of what Australia currently is This explains why harm is often done even when good is intended and why some problems are too complex to solve But that does not mean that we need to be stuck in the past through deep repentance by the Subsequent Peoples much more than an apology we can take hold of the work of God to bring new things out of what is broken Ultimately this is profoundly hopeful Although focusing on Australia the theological tools developed can be applied in other colonial and post colonial contexts The Different aspects of Islamic culture Ali, Abdulrahim,Thiam, Iba Der,Talib, Yusof A.,2016-10-17

Empire, Colony, Genocide A. Dirk Moses,2008-06-01 In 1944 Raphael Lemkin coined the term genocide to describe a foreign occupation that destroyed or permanently crippled a subject population In this tradition Empire Colony Genocide embeds genocide in the epochal geopolitical transformations of the past 500 years the European colonization of the globe the rise and fall of the continental land empires violent decolonization and the formation of nation states It thereby challenges the customary focus on twentieth century mass crimes and shows that genocide and ethnic cleansing have been intrinsic to imperial expansion The complexity of the colonial encounter is reflected in the contrast between the insurgent identities and genocidal strategies that subaltern peoples sometimes developed to expel the occupiers and those local elites and creole groups that the occupiers sought to co opt Presenting case studies on the Americas Australia Africa Asia the Ottoman Empire Imperial Russia and the Nazi Third Reich leading authorities examine the colonial dimension of the genocide concept as well as the imperial systems and discourses that enabled conquest Empire Colony Genocide is a world history of genocide that highlights what Lemkin called the role of the human group and its tribulations Post-Imperial Perspectives on

Law's Anthropology Paul Burke,2011-11-01 Anthropologists have been appearing as key expert witnesses in native title claims for over 20 years Until now however there has been no theoretically informed detailed investigation of how the expert testimony of anthropologists is formed and how it is received by judges This book examines the structure and habitus of both the field of anthropology and the juridical field and how they have interacted in four cases including the original hearing in the Mabo case The analysis of background material has been supplemented by interviews with the key protagonists in each case This allows the reader a unique insider s perspective of the courtroom drama that unfolds in each case The book asks given the available ethnographic research how will the anthropologist reconstruct it in a way that is relevant to the legal doctrine of native title when that doctrine gives a wide leeway for interpretation on the critical questions

Made to Matter Fiona Probyn-Rapsey,2013 Most members of the Stolen Generations had white fathers or grandfathers Who were these white men This book analyses the stories of white fathers men who were positioned as key players in the plans to assimilate Aboriginal people by breeding out the colour The plan to breed out the colour ascribed enormous power to white sperm and white paternity to elevate uplift and disperse Aboriginality in whiteness to blank out to aid cultural forgetting The policy was a cruel failure not least because it conflated skin colour with culture and assumed that Aboriginal women and their children would acquiesce to produce future whites It also assumed that white men would comply as ready appendages administering whiteness through marriage or white sperm This book attempts to put textual flesh on the bodies of these white fathers and in doing so builds on and complicates the view of white fathers in this history and the histories of whiteness to which they are biopolitically related
