Painting The Screen:

The Art and Science of the Church Screen in Medieval Europe Spike Bucklow, Richard Marks, Lucy Wrapson, 2017 Fresh examinations of one of the most important church furnishings of the middle ages The churches of medieval Europe contained richly carved and painted screens placed between the altar and the congregation they survive in particularly high numbers in England despite being partly dismantled during the Reformation While these screens divided lay from priestly jurisdiction it has also been argued that they served to unify architectural space This volume brings together the latest scholarship on the subject exploring in detail numerous aspects of the construction and painting of screens it aims in particular to unite perspectives from science and art history Examples are drawn from a wide geographical range from Scandinavia to Italy Spike Bucklow is Director of Research at the Hamilton Kerr Institute University of Cambridge Richard Marks is Emeritus Professor of the History of Art at the University of York and currently a member of the History of Art Department University of Cambridge Lucy Wrapson is Assistant to the Director at the Hamilton Kerr Institute University of Cambridge Contributors Paul Binski Spike Bucklow Donal Cooper David Griffith Hugh Harrison Jacqueline Jung Justin Kroesen Julian Luxford Richard Marks Ebbe Nyborg Eddie Sinclair Jeffrey West Lucy Wrapson

The Double Screen Wu Hung, 1996 In the first exploration of Chinese paintings as both material products and pictorial representations The Double Screen shows how the collaboration and tension between material form and image gives life to a painting A Chinese painting is often reduced to the image it bears its material form is dismissed its intimate connection with social activities and cultural conventions neglected A screen occupies a space and divides it supplies an ideal surface for painting and has been a favorite pictorial image in Chinese art since antiquity Wu Hung undertakes a comprehensive analysis of the screen which can be an object an art medium a pictorial motif or all three at once With its diverse roles the screen has provided Chinese painters with endless opportunities to reinvent their art The Double Screen provides a powerful non Western perspective on issues from portraiture and pictorial narrative to voyeurism masquerade and political rhetoric It will be invaluable to anyone interested in the history of art and Asian studies interested in the history of art and Asian studies as well as to students and specialists in the field Framing

Consciousness in Art Gregory Minissale, 2009 Framing Consciousness in Art examines how the conscious mind enacts and processes the frame that both surrounds the work of art yet is also shown as an element inside its space These frames in frames may be seen in works by Teniers Velazquez Vermeer Degas Rodin and Cartier Bresson and in the films of Alfred Hitchcock and Buñuel The book also deals with framing in a variety of cultural contexts Indian Chinese and African going beyond Euro American formalist and aesthetic concerns which dominate critical theories of the frame Bodycheck

, 2016-08-29 In ice hockey the term body check refers to a specific move to gain control It is a blow from body to body a dynamic clash of physical strength which will determine the course of the game In this book too the body is checked and there is physical confrontation Not in the hockey ring but on stage This book deals with the body in contemporary performing arts The focus is on exploring theoretical avenues and developing new concepts to grasp corporeal images more accurately This theoretical research is confronted with the voice of artists whose work explicitly deals with the body In depth interviews with a.o. Meg Stuart Wim Vandekeybus Romeo Castellucci Jérôme Bel reveal a very broad range of views on the representation of the body in today's performing arts The combination of these two voices the theoreticians and the artists shows that research by artists and cultural scientists is perfectly complementary Folklife Annual, 1985 Motion Picture Herald, 1925 List of Objects in the Art Division, South Kensington Museum, Acquired During the Year 1869, Arranged According to the Dates of Acquisition, 1870
