Thoughts about Art Philip Gilbert Hamerton, 1871

Inexorable Modernity Hiroshi Nara, 2007-01-01 Beginning in the late Edo period the Japanese faced a rapidly and irreversibly changing world in which industrialization westernization and internationalization were exerting pressure upon an entrenched traditional culture The Japanese themselves felt threatened by Western powers with their sense of superiority and military might Yet the Japanese were more prepared to meet this challenge than was thought at the time and they used a variety of strategies to address the tension between modernity and tradition Inexorable Modernity illuminates our understanding of how Japan has dealt with modernity and of what mechanisms universal and local we can attribute to the mode of negotiation between tradition and modernity in three major forms of art theatre the visual arts and literature Dr Hiroshi Nara brings together a thoughtful collection of essays that demonstrate that traditional and modern approaches to life draw from one another and tradition whether real or created was sought out in order to find a way to live with the burden of modernity Inexorable Modernity is a valuable and enlightening read for those interested in Asian studies and history Book Drawing Futures Bob Sheil, Frédéric Migayrou, Luke Pearson, Laura Allen, 2016-11-11 jacket The Sketch ,1919 Drawing Futures brings together international designers and artists for speculations in contemporary drawing for art and architecture Despite numerous developments in technological manufacture and computational design that provide new grounds for designers the act of drawing still plays a central role as a vehicle for speculation There is a rich and long history of drawing tied to innovations in technology as well as to revolutions in our philosophical understanding of the world In reflection of a society now underpinned by computational networks and interfaces allowing hitherto unprecedented views of the world the changing status of the drawing and its representation as a political act demands a platform for reflection and innovation Drawing Futures will present a compendium of projects writings and interviews that critically reassess the act of drawing and where its future may lie Drawing Futures focuses on the discussion of how the field of drawing may expand synchronously alongside technological and computational developments The book coincides with an international conference of the same name taking place at The Bartlett School of Architecture UCL in November 2016 Bringing together practitioners from many creative fields the book discusses how drawing is changing in relation to new technologies for the production and dissemination of ideas The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1867 Bulletin of Photography .1914 The Magazine of Art Marion Harry Spielmann, 1891 Art-Union, 1878 Bulletin of Photography John Bartlett, Frank V. Chambers, Francis Stapleton Chambers, 1918
