Millard Meiss, American Art History, and Conservation Jennifer Cooke, 2020-09-28 A member of the art history generation from the golden age of the 1920s and 1930s Millard Meiss 1904 1975 developed a new and multi faceted methodological approach This book lays the foundation for a reassessment of this key figure in post war American and international art history The book analyses his work alongside that of contemporary art historians considering both those who influenced him and those who were receptive to his research Jennifer Cooke uses extensive archival material to give Meiss the critical consideration that his extensive and important art historical restoration and conservation work deserves This book will be of interest to scholars in art history historiography and heritage management and conservation Art Information and the Internet Lois Swan Jones, 2013-12-16 In the first book of its kind art information expert Lois Swan Jones discusses how to locate visual and textual information on the Internet and how to evaluate and supplement that information with material from other formats print sources CD ROMS documentary videos and microfiche sets to produce excellent research results The book is divided into three sections Basic Information Formats Types of Websites and How to Find Them and How to Use Web Information Jones discusses the strengths and limitations of Websites scholarly and basic information resources are noted and search strategies for finding pertinent Websites are included Art Information and the Internet also discusses research methodology for studying art historical styles artists working in various media individual works of art and non Western cultures as well as art education writing about art problems of copyright and issues concerning the buying and selling of art This title will be periodically updated The Sack of Rome, 1527 André Chastel, 2023-08-15 This richly illustrated study of the sack as a cultural and artistic phenomenon reveals the ambiguities of preceding events and the traumatic contrast between the flourishing world of art under Clement VII and the city as it existed after the troops of Emperor Charles V had looted Rome in 1527 Painting in Renaissance Siena, 1420-1500 Keith Christiansen, Laurence B. Kanter, Carl Brandon Strehlke, 1988 Catalog of an exhibition which opened at The Metropolitan Museum of Art on Dec 20 1988 This first comprehensive study in English devoted to Sienese painting to be published in four decades centers on the fifteenth century a fascinating but frequently neglected period when Sienese artists confronted the innovations of Renaissance painting in Florence Two introductory essays survey fifteenth century Sienese painting and individual entries examine 139 key works in exhaustive detail presenting new insights into long debated issues of interpretation and attribution and often utilizing previously unpublished material Most of the major paintings are reproduced in color and supplemented with illustrations of related comparative works Byzantine Art and Renaissance Europe Angeliki Lymberopoulou, Rembrandt Duits, 2016-12-05 Byzantine Art and Renaissance Europe discusses the cultural and artistic interaction between the Byzantine east and western Europe from the sack of Constantinople by the Fourth Crusade in 1204 to the flourishing of post Byzantine artistic workshops on Venetian Crete during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries and the formation of icon collections in Renaissance Italy The contributors examine the routes by which artistic interaction may have taken place and explore the reception of Byzantine art in western Europe analysing why artists and patrons were interested in ideas from the other side of the cultural and religious divide In the first chapter Lyn Rodley outlines the development of Byzantine art in the Palaiologan era and its relations with western culture Hans Bloemsmma then re assesses the influence of Byzantine art on early Italian painting from the point of view of changing demands regarding religious images in Italy In the first of two chapters on Venetian Crete Angeliki Lymberopoulou evaluates the impact of the Venetian presence on the production of fresco decorations in regional Byzantine churches on the island The next chapter by Diana Newall continues the exploration of Cretan art manufactured under the Venetians shifting the focus to the bi cultural society of the Cretan capital Candia and the rise of the post Byzantine icon Kim Woods then addresses the reception of Byzantine icons in western Europe in the late Middle Ages and their role as devotional objects in the Roman Catholic Church Finally Rembrandt Duits examines the status of Byzantine icons as collectors items in early Renaissance Italy The inventories of the Medici family and other collectors reveal an appreciation for icons among Italian patrons which suggests that received notions of Renaissance tastes may be in need of revision The book thus offers new perspectives and insights and re positions late and post Byzantine art in a broader European cultural context

Siena and the Virgin Diana Norman,1999-01-01 Celebrating the Virgin Mary as both an object of religious affection and a focus of civic pride artists of fourteenth century Siena established for their city a vibrant tradition that continued into the early decades of the next century Such celebratory portraits of the Virgin were also common in Siena s extensive subject territories the contado This richly illustrated book explores late medieval Sienese art how it was created commissioned and understood by the citizens of Siena Examining political economic and cultural relations between Siena and the contado Diana Norman offers a new understanding of Marian art and its political function as an expression of civic ideology Drawing on extensive unpublished archives Norman reconstructs the circumstances surrounding the commission of Marian art in the three most prestigious locations of fourteenth century Siena the cathedral the Palazzo Pubblico and the hospital of Santa Maria della Scala She analyzes similarly important commissions in the contado towns of Massa Marittima Montalcino and Montepulciano Casting new light on such topics as the original site for the reliquary tomb of Saint Cerbone patron saint of Massa Marittima and the identity of the patrons of the Marian frescoes in the rural hermitage of San Leonardo al Lago the author deepens our insight into the origins and meanings of Sienese art production of the late medieval period
