Assemblages of Qafzeh Cave Erella Hovers,2009-06-09 This book presents the first comprehensive description of the lithic assemblages from Qafzeh Cave one of only two Middle Paleolithic sites in the Levant that has yielded multiple burials of early anatomically modern Homo sapiens AMHs The record from this region raises the question of possible long term temporal overlap between early AMHs and Neanderthals For this reason Qafzeh has long been one of the pivotal sites in debates on the origins of AMHs and in attempts to compare and contrast the two species adaptations and behavior Although the hominin fossils from the site were published years ago until now the associated archaeological assemblages were incompletely described often leading to conflicting interpretations This monograph includes a thorough technological analysis of the lithic assemblages incorporated in their geological and sedimentological contexts This description serves as a springboard for regional comparisons as well as a more general discussion about Middle Paleolithic behavior which is relevant to important and as yet unresolved questions on the origins of modern behavior patterns The volume includes a wide ranging and up to date bibliography that provides the middle range for discussing the ecological context and behavioral complexity of the Middle Paleolithic period and ends with some thought provoking conclusions about the dynamic human interactions that existed in the region during this time Neandertals and Modern Humans in Western Asia Takeru Akazawa,Kenichi Aoki,Ofer Bar-Yosef,2005-12-27 In this fascinating volume the Middle Paleolithic archaeology of the Middle East is brought to the current debate on the origins of modern humans These collected papers gather the most up to date archaeological discoveries of Western Asia a region that is often overshadowed by African or European findings but the only region in the world where both Neandertal and early modern human fossils have been found The collection includes reports on such well known cave sites as Kebara Hayonim and Qafzeh among others The information and interpretations available here are a must for any serious researcher or student of anthropology or human evolution Dynamics of Learning in Neanderthals and Modern Humans Volume 1 Takeru Akazawa,Yoshihiro Nishiaki,Kenichi Aoki,2013-12-16 This volume presents the first of two proceedings from the International Conference on the Replacement of Neanderthals by Modern Humans which took place in Tokyo in November 2012 Focussing on a highly innovative working hypothesis called the learning hypothesis which attempts to explain the replacement as a result of differences in the learning abilities of these two hominid populations the conference served as the latest multidisciplinary discussion forum on this intriguing Palaeoanthropological issue The present volume reports on outcomes of the conference in three major sections Part 1 provides an archaeological overview of the processes of replacement assimilation of Neanderthals by modern humans Part 2 consists of archaeological and ethnographic case studies exploring evidence of learning behaviours in prehistoric and modern hunter gatherer societies Part 3 presents a collection of papers that directly contributes to the definition validation and testing of the learning hypothesis in terms of population biology and evolutionary theory A total of 18 papers in this volume make available to readers unique cultural perspectives on mechanisms of the replacement assimilation of Neanderthals by modern humans and suggested relationships between these mechanisms and different learning strategies

Paleolithic Site of Douara Cave and Paleogeography of Palmyra Basin in Syria Takeru Akazawa,Yutaka Sakaguchi,1987 Recent Progress of Natural Sciences in Japan ,1983

The Middle Paleolithic Harold L. Dibble,Paul Mellars,2003-01-14 Papers originally presented at a symposium on the Middle Paleolithic of Europe and the Near East organized as part of the annual meeting of the Society for American Archaeology in the spring of 1989 Paleolithic archaeology has entered a period in which new interpretations based on new finds and revised ideas concerning previously known material are competing with traditional interpretations There is an urgent need for continued dialogue among Paleolithic scholars exemplified by these papers Symposium Series IV University Museum Monograph 78 1984 Excavations ,1987 Climate and Cultural Change in Prehistoric Europe and the Near East Peter F. Biehl,Olivier P. Nieuwenhuyse,2016-11-23 The subject of climate change could hardly be more timely In Climate and Cultural Change in Prehistoric Europe and the Near East an interdisciplinary group of contributors examine climate change through the lens of new archaeological and paleo environmental data over the course of more than 10 000 years from the Near East to Europe Key climatic and other events are contextualized with cultural changes and transitions for which the authors discuss when how and if changes in climate and environment caused people to adapt move or perish More than this publication of crucial archaeological and paleo environmental data however the volume seeks to understand the social political and economic significance of climate change as it was manifested in various ways around the Old World Contrary to perceptions of threatening global warming in our popular media and in contrast to grim images of collapse presented in some archaeological discussions of past climate change this book rejects outright societal collapse as a likely outcome Yet this does not keep the authors from considering climate change as a potential factor in explaining culture change by adopting a critical stance with regard to the long standing practice of equating synchronicity with causality and explicitly considering alternative explanations

Stone Tools in Transition: From Hunter-Gatherers to Farming Societies in the Near East Borrell, Ferran,Ibáñez, Juan José,Molist, Miquel,2013 This volume compiles the papers presented at the seventh edition of the Conference on PPN Chipped and Ground Stone Industries of the Fertile Crescent held in Barcelona from 14 to 17 February 2012 This series of conferences workshops started nineteen years ago the first meeting was organised in Berlin in 1993 and is devoted to the study of the lithic record in the Pre Pottery Neolithic of the Near East and neighbouring regions The seventh of these conferences was organised by the Instituci Mil i Fontanals Consejo Superior de Investigaciones Cientificas and the Prehistory Department Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona This volume includes a total number of 36 articles covering a wide range of topics and disciplines related to lithic studies in the Levant over a long chronological time span from the final stages of the Epipalaeolithic Natufian to the Halaf period The publication of the conference proceedings is thus an interesting synthesis of the current state of lithic studies on the Pre Pottery Neolithic of the Near East and consolidates this specific series of conferences as a key tool to maintain and stimulate the vitality of high quality research into the Near Eastern lithic record

The Archaeology of Animal Bones Terence Patrick O'Connor, Terry O'Connor (Archaeologist), 2000 The author provides a focused overview of the field emphasizing how bones are used to study past human animal interactions

Beyond the Fertile Crescent: Late Palaeolithic and Neolithic Communities of the Jordanian Steppe. The Azraq Basin Project Andrew Garrard, Brian Byrd, 2013-11-01 The natural arc of resource rich land which forms the Fertile Crescent of South West Asia is regarded as the earliest centre of village based farming in the world and has been the focus of much of our understanding of the transition from Epipalaeolithic hunter gathers to Neolithic farmers Beyond the Fertile Crescent is the first volume of the Azraq Project a large scale archaeological and palaeoenvironmental survey and excavation project undertaken between 1982 and 1989 in the ecologically diverse sub region of the Azraq Basin in north central Jordan an area rich in Palaeolithic and Neolithic archaeology Beginning with an overview to the Project aims a detailed analysis of past and present environments and land use and the history of excavation in the Basin Beyond the Fertile Crescent explores the geology stratigraphy and dating of the Late Palaeolithic sites and provides a detailed description of the technology and typology of the lithic assemblages from the sites These are then compared with those from the wider Levant in order to explore possible links between technological traditions and social groups in order to understand the evidence for settlement strategies across the region

The Paleolithic Prehistory of the Zagros-Taurus Deborah Olszewski, 1993-01-29 Situated between Europe Asia and the Levantine corridor to Africa the Zagros Taurus region has enormous potential for the study of human adaptation and population movement during the Pleistocene While archaeological work was done in this area 40 years ago much of it remains unpublished The political situation restricts research by archaeologists This volume includes new data and major syntheses of the Paleolithic prehistory of the region with reports of key sites and industries By filling a major gap in our understanding of this area it represents an essential reference for Near Eastern and Paleolithic specialists University Museum Symposium Series V

Projectile Technology Heidi Knecht, 2013-06-29 Artifacts linked to projectile technologies traditionally have provided the foundations for time space systematics and cultural historic frameworks in archaeological research having to do with foragers With the shift in archae ological research objectives to processual interpretations projectile technologies continue to receive marked attention but with an emphasis on the implications of variability in such areas as design function and material as they relate to the broader questions of human adaptation. The reason that this particular domain of foraging technology persists as an important focus of research I think comes in three parts. A projectile technology was a crucial part of most foragers' strategies for survival; it was functionally specific and it generally was fabricated from durable materials likely to be detected archaeologically. Being fundamental to meat acquisition and the principal source of calories, projectile technologies were typically afforded greater time investment, formal modification and elaboration of attributes than others. Moreover, such technologies tend to display greater standardization because of constraints on size, morphology and weight that are inherent to the delivery system. The elaboration of attributes and standardization of form gives projectile technologies time and space sensitivity that is greater than most other foraging technologies. And such sensitivity is immensely valuable in archaeological research.
