Pathophysiology Of Severe Ischemic Myocardial Injury:

Pathophysiology of Severe Ischemic Myocardial Injury H.M. Piper, 2012-12-06 In industrialized countries ischemic heart disease is by far the most common organ specific cause of death The thrombotic occlusion of a coronary artery which had previously been severely altered by atherosclerosis is the most frequent cause of ischemic deterioration of myocardial tissue i e myocardial infarction Death of the human individual occurs when myocardial ischemia causes a critical impairment of cardiac pump function The failure of a heart with an ischemic area may be due to the amount and location of contractile tissue becoming paralyzed or even necrotic or to arrhythmias provoked by the ischemic condition or by a combination of both factors Considerable progress has been made in the development of antiarrhythmic therapy Effective tools have been developed to reperfuse ischemic myocardial tissue as soon as the patient reaches hospital However therapeutical principles for the ischemic reperfused myocardium which would specifically interfere with the state of injury of the ischemic tissue at the onset of reperfusion and avoid the apparent hazards of the reperfusion process itself have yet to be established But not only approved therapeutical concepts are lacking the pathophysiology of myocardial cell injury in progressive ischemia and under reperfusion is in itself only partly understood Pathophysiology of Severe Ischemic Myocardial Injury H M

Ischemia-reperfusion in cardiac surgery Hans Michael Piper, C.J. Preusse, 2012-12-06 In open heart surgery protection of the myocardium against injury by ischemia reperfusion is an issue of utmost clinical interest The knowledge on the causal mechanisms of myocardial injury in ischemia reperfusion has greatly progressed in recent years both to clinical and experimental research This book provides a critical and comprehensive overview on the current discussion of myocardial protection in cardiac experimental research and surgery Leading groups from Europe the U S and Japan have contributed reviews of their special fields On the basic science side major topics discussed are the mechanisms of stunning and lethal reperfusion injury the role of the endothelium and leukocyte activation in postischemic myocardial dysfunction and the differences between the adult and neonatal myocardium On the clinical side the major concepts and procedures for cardioplegic myocardial protection their rationales application and respective merits are discussed In a third part of the book possible approaches for the monitoring of myocardial injury during ischemia and reperfusion are evaluated with particular attention to their intraoperative use This book brings together the scientific discussions on ischemia reperfusion in experimental cardiology and cardiac surgery a task needed for a long time It is of general interest for clinicians as well as research workers and students in the cardiac field      New Aspects in the Treatment of Failing Heart Hisakazu
