Resident Duty Hours Institute of Medicine, Committee on Optimizing Graduate Medical Trainee (Resident) Hours and Work Schedules to Improve Patient Safety, 2009-05-27 Medical residents in hospitals are often required to be on duty for long hours In 2003 the organization overseeing graduate medical education adopted common program requirements to restrict resident workweeks including limits to an average of 80 hours over 4 weeks and the longest consecutive period of work to 30 hours in order to protect patients and residents from unsafe conditions resulting from excessive fatigue Resident Duty Hours provides a timely examination of how those requirements were implemented and their impact on safety education and the training institutions. An in depth review of the evidence on sleep and human performance indicated a need to increase opportunities for sleep during residency training to prevent acute and chronic sleep deprivation and minimize the risk of fatigue related errors. In addition to recommending opportunities for on duty sleep during long duty periods and breaks for sleep of appropriate lengths between work periods the committee also recommends enhancements of supervision appropriate workload and changes in the work environment to improve conditions for safety and learning. All residents medical educators those involved with academic training institutions specialty societies professional groups and consumer patient safety organizations will find this book useful to advocate for an improved culture of safety.

Effect of Operational Variables on Nitrogen Transformations in Duckweed Stabilization Ponds Julia Rosa Caicedo Bejarano, 2005-03-24 There is an urgent need to develop and improve low cost technologies for wastewater treatment Simultaneously treating wastewater and producing duckweed in a pond system is therefore an attractive solution contributing to both environmental protection and food production Duckweed has excellent qualities a high protein content a high growth rate and is an easy crop to handle The small plant turns nitrogen from wastewater into a food source This thesis reports on the effect of different operational variables like anaerobic pre treatment the combination of algae and duckweed ponds and pond depth Improved nitrogen removal was obtained through the combination of duckweed ponds with algae ponds Duckweed pond systems could be designed with shallow depth without affecting nitrogen removal efficiency This research is the result of the cooperative effort between the EIDENAR Univalle Cali Colombia and the UNESCO IHE Institute for Water Education in Delft the Netherlands
