The Patient's Guide to Preventing Medical Errors

A bright yellow line representing an ECG (heart rate) is drawn across the bottom of the cover. It starts on the left, has several peaks and valleys of varying heights, and then continues as a straight line towards the right, ending just before the author's name.
