Patterns of Reflection Seyler, 2003-07 Biologically Inspired Cooperative Computing Yi Pan, Franz J. Rammig, Hartmut Schmeck, Mauricio Solar, 2006-11-24 In the world of information technology it is no longer the computer in the classical sense where the majority of IT applications is executed computing is everywhere More than 20 billion

processors have already been fabricated and the majority of them can be assumed to still be operational At the same time virtually every PC worldwide is connected via the Internet This combination of traditional and embedded computing creates an artifact of a complexity heterogeneity and volatility unmanageable by classical means Each of our technical artifacts with a built in processor can be seen as a Thing that Thinks a term introduced by MIT s Thinglab It can be expected that in the near future these billions of Things that Think will become an Internet of Things a term originating from ETH Zurich This means that we will be constantly surrounded by a virtual organism of Things that Think This organism needs novel adequate design evolution and management means which is also one of the core challenges addressed by the recent German priority research program on Organic Computing

Structure Analysis by Electron Diffraction B. K. Vainshtein, 2013-10-22

Structure Analysis by Electron Diffraction focuses on the theory and practice of studying the atomic structure of crystalline substances through electron diffraction The publication first offers information on diffraction methods in structure analysis and the geometrical theory of electron diffraction patterns Discussions focus on the fundamental concepts of the theory of scattering and structure analysis of crystals structure analysis by electron diffraction formation of spot electron diffraction patterns electron diffraction texture patterns and polycrystalline electron diffraction patterns The text then ponders on intensities of reflections including atomic scattering temperature factor structure amplitude experimental measurements of intensity and review of equations for intensities of reflections in electron diffraction patterns The manuscript examines the Fourier methods in electron diffraction and experimental electron diffraction structure investigations Topics include the determination of the structure of the hydrated chlorides of transition metals structures of carbides and nitrides of certain metals and semi conducting alloys electron diffraction investigation of clay minerals and possibilities inherent in structure analysis by electron diffraction The book is a helpful source of data for readers interested in structure analysis by electron diffraction
