Visuality and Virtuality Whitney Davis, 2022-06-14 A provocative and challenging new conceptual framework for the study of images This book builds on the groundbreaking theoretical framework established in Whitney Davis s acclaimed previous book A General Theory of Visual Culture in which he shows how certain culturally constituted aspects of artifacts and pictures are visible to informed viewers Here Davis uses revealing archaeological and historical case studies to further develop his theory presenting an exacting new account of the interaction that occurs when a viewer looks at a picture Davis argues that pictoriality the depiction intended by its maker to be seen emerges at a particular standpoint in space and time Reconstruction of this standpoint is the first step of the art historian s craft Because standpoints are inherently mutable and mobile pictoriality constantly shifts in form and possible meaning To capture this complexity Davis develops new concepts of radical pictorial ambiguity including bivisibility the fact that pictures can always be seen in ways other than intended pictorial naturalism and the behavior of pictures under changing angles of view He then applies these concepts to four cases Paleolithic cave painting ancient Egyptian tomb decoration classical Greek architectural sculpture with a focus on the Parthenon frieze and Renaissance perspective as invented by Brunelleschi A profound new theory of the work of both makers and viewers by one of the discipline s most esteemed and engaged thinkers Visuality and Virtuality is essential reading for art historians architects archaeologists and philosophers of art and visual theory

A New History of Western Art Koenraad Jonckheere, 2022-10-15 A radical re examination of 2 500 years of European art deconstructing and demystifying its long history from ancient to present How has art evolved from the pursuit of the ideal human form to a black square on a white canvas Why is a banana duct taped to a wall worth more on the art market than a beautiful seventeenth century landscape By taking art for what it actually is a piece of stone or wood a sheet of paper with some lines drawn on it a painted canvas this lively and accessible account shows how seemingly meaningless objects can be transformed into celebrated works of art Breaking with conventional notions of artistic genius Koenraad Jonckheere explores how stories and emotions give meaning to objects and why changing historical circumstances result in such shifting opinions over time Tracing its story from ancient times to present A New History of Western Art reframes the evolution of European art and radically reshapes our understanding of art history Published in association with Hannibal Books

Crisis and Creativity in Performing Arts Training Robert Lewis, Soseh Yekanians, 2024-10-08 This book comprises of key articles from the 2023 AusAct The Australian Actor Training Conference that addresses innovative and fresh discussions post COVID on how the Performing Arts can come out of these times of crisis and maintain their survival Each chapter looks at a different aspect of the performing arts and discusses our programs and the unique and significant role acting and performance teachers have in our education sector and their clear contribution to the international creative economies

Practice as Research in the Arts (and Beyond) Robin Nelson, 2022-05-19 This project addresses the contexts of Practice as Research and how to undertake it This second iteration updates thinking and practices but sustains a direct and clear approach on how to become a practitioner researcher New features include an extension of range beyond the arts and a case for intra disciplinarity in Practice Research as an influence in the formation of the future university A comparison is made between Artistic Research and Practice Research recognizing that research through practices with being doing knowing is central to both Acknowledging the current crisis in legitimation a broad view is taken of how things might be known by an onto epistemology for the twenty first century foregrounding the bodymind but sustaining rationality and community by way of Other other dialogic exchange Perspectives from around the world in Part II offset the more Eurocentric emphasis in Part I

Embodiment and Disembodiment in Live Art Ke Shi, 2019-12-06 Liveness is a pivotal issue for performance theorists and artists As live art covers both embodiment and disembodiment many scholars have emphasized the former and interpreted the latter as the opposite side of liveness In this book the author demonstrates that disembodiment is also an inextricable part of liveness and presence in performance from both practical and theoretical perspectives By applying phenomenological theory to live performance the author investigates the possible realisation of aesthetic dynamics in live art via re engagement with the notions of embodiment especially in the sense provided by philosophers such as Gabriel Marcel and Morris Merleau Ponty Creative practices from leading performance artists such as Franko B Ron Athey Manuel Vason and others as well as experimental ensembles such as Goat Island La Pocha Nostra Forced Entertainment and the New Youth are discussed offering a new perspective to re frame human human relationships such as the one between actor and spectator and collaborations in live genres In addition the author presents a new interpretation model for the human material in live genres helping to bridge the aesthetic gaps between performance art and experimental theatre and providing an ecological paradigm for performance art experimental theatre and live art Body of Christ Incarnate for You Adam

Pryor, 2016-10-19 Incarnation has always been an important concept within Christian theology For centuries theologians have wrestled with how best to conceptualize the vexing problem of what it means that Jesus the Christ is fully God and fully human In this book Adam Pryor explores how the incarnation has intersected corresponding issues well beyond the familiar question of how any one person might have two natures Beginning by identifying four critical themes that have historically shaped the development of this doctrine Pryor goes on to offer a constructive account of the incarnation His account seeks out the continued meaning of this doctrine given the increasing complexity that characterizes our understanding of human bodies bodies that can no longer be understood as the locus of distinct subjects separated from the world of objects with the skin as an impenetrable boundary between the two Making use of contemporary phenomenologies of the flesh and the erotic Pryor develops an understanding of the incarnation that seeks to go beyond classical issues presented by two natures christologies Incarnation in guises as various as Jesus the Christ cyborg bodies and sacramental practices becomes a way that God is diffused into the world transforming how we are to be with one another

The Artist-Philosopher in the Age of Addiction George Smith,2025-03-17 George Smith argues that modern humanity suffers from a late stage pre fatal addiction to scientific technological thinking Like most pre fatal addictions this one will most likely result in one of three ways misery extinction or human transformation The question remains wherein lies the third way According to Smith mankind s chronic and as yet undiagnosed sickness originates in early Western metaphysics and has long been thoroughly globalized It explains unstoppable extractionism and its relentlessly increasing by product carbon dioxide It also explains today s ever increasing rate of species extinction and the increasingly likely collapse of the biosphere Citing climate change tolerance and denial as symptomatic of pre fatal addiction Smith turns his analysis to Heidegger s question concerning technology and shows that even Heidegger had become hooked on scientific technological thinking Surrendering to his disease Heidegger steps back into meditative thought This in turn opens Heidegger to an East West mode of scientific poetic consciousness the thinking of artist philosophers such as Laozi Hlderlin and Rachel Carson For Heidegger this way of thinking lays the path to mankind s transformative emancipation from an otherwise inescapable catastrophe The book will be of interest to scholars of the arts and culture histories of consciousness and climate studies

Poetic Inquiry: Unearthing the Rhizomatic Array

Between Art and Research Adam Vincent,2022-08-02 This book identifies and describes facets of poetic inquiry a research method methodology tool that uses poetry in the research process information gathering analysis and or dissemination Specifically this book explores how and why it is in use provides revelations around its unparalleled function s in research and presents an exemplification of a close reading approach trialled in the study framed in the book that can draw further knowledge from the products of poetic inquiry studies Poetic inquiry studies are somewhat established and their findings are being published in academic journals and books however poetic inquiry is currently undertheorized and noticeably missing from notable research methods textbooks and publications that discuss the merits of arts based research This may have the negative result of knowledge being lost or overlooked that could hold answers to previously unanswered questions that exist across the disciplines In response to this problem this book drawing from the doctoral research study therein highlights poetic inquiry's theoretical underpinnings and pragmatic uses in research and scholarship that can be adopted and adapted by new and established scholars. This is done using the tenets of poetic inquiry as a frame and includes in-depth literature review and an exploration of the findings of interview with four notable poetic inquiry scholars in education in Canada. Detailed profiles for each participant have been created to analyze and emphasize their distinctive poetics and approaches to scholarship. Lastly, this book considers ways that poetic inquiry can inform teaching practices as poetry is seen to permeate the participants' lives and influence their approaches to teaching at the post-secondary level. This book is written for both early career and well-established scholars who have an interest in exploring ways that poetic inquiry which marries art and epistemology can enhance their research and teaching practices.

Advancing Student Experience in the Art and Design Curriculum William Platz, 2025-10-03

Advancing Student Experience in the Art and Design Curriculum Project Based Learning will renew the critical attention paid to projects in the art and design curriculum and rigorously consider impacts on student experience. How exactly do we conceive of projects in the context of a post-secondary creative arts curriculum? Each chapter in this book confronts the project as a specific potent and transformative site of learning with vast engagement potential for the contemporary student. What unites the project-based learning methods in this book is an emphasis on the motivated and purposeful activities of the learners that result in tangible making and doing. Craft-based learning practice, based learning, experimental learning, design, culturally informed practices, and reconsideration of obsolete learning mechanisms all coalesce in this text and evidence the innovativeness and abiding power of project-based learning. Each author in this book describes a diverse experience of learning that serves as an exemplar of project-based learning and illuminates the histories, theories, and dynamics of the method for teachers, learning designers, educational theorists, and interdisciplinarians.

Arts-Based Research, Autoethnography, and Music Education miroslav pavle manovski, 2014-07-03

Arts Based Research Autoethnography and Music Education Singing Through a Culture of Marginalization invites readers into miroslav pavle manovski's journey into quest of how he found his voice literally and figuratively by reflecting and storying from his fluid identity and roles as an artist, singer, learner, music teacher, researcher, while empowering others to find their own voice. This book is also an arts-based autoethnographic rendering of the author's experience being tormented, harassed, and called gay as a means to negatively target and marginalize him. Further, this work contributes to the literature of those mercilessly harassed for perceived effeminate characteristics and to the canon of ways we may be able to rescue ourselves to positively transform from prior wreckage a part of our lives. It makes significant contributions to the literature on qualitative inquiry, arts-based research, autoethnography, music education, and vocal pedagogy as a means of re-presenting a rich tapestry of life experience. While this text can be read entirely for pleasure or personal growth, it will make an outstanding springboard for conversation in courses across the disciplines that deal with teacher education, music education, gender, and sexual identity, orientation, intimacy, relationships, and relational communication prejudice bullying and more This award winning book will additionally be of great value in courses on autoethnography life writing narrative inquiry arts based research and music education Of all the recent examples of textual experiments in the social sciences that aim to create a dialectical intertwining of the autobiographical and the theoretical this book is among the very best Manovski s work is at once artful poignant bravely self revelatory while simultaneously informed by the scholarship of an impressive array of academics from diverse academic fields What awaits the reader is nothing less than a full fledged educational experience that dazzles the mind and stirs the heart as it opens up the future Tom Barone Emeritus Professor Arizona State University Society & Culture Undergraduate Research Forum SCURF,2014-06-05 Society Culture Undergraduate Research Forum of Sonoma State University has published its 6th volume of undergraduate research work The theme of this year s issue is Imprints Humanity s Footprint on Time and Space Language Arts in Asia Christina DeCoursey,2012-01-17 This volume is the first of a series contributing to the academic study of Language Arts as an English language teaching paradigm Language Arts has been widely used in native English speaking countries including Australia and New Zealand Its recent adoption into the second language teaching curriculum in Hong Kong as well as similar initiatives within secondary and tertiary education in mainland China enhances its interest to scholars studying second language teaching and learning in Asian contexts This book offers many papers and discussions of interest to teachers language professionals scholars and administrators Its chapters explore current topics in Language Arts research including trends in the rapprochement of stylistics and linguistics teaching approaches and learning outcomes At the same time they offer diverse theoretical and methodological approaches of interest to the practitioner and policy maker as well as the researcher The value of this volume lies particularly in strengthening the theoretical and methodological foundations of Language Arts The use of literature and the arts in humanist education has a long history within Europe being traditionally appreciated for its ability to transform leaders instill finer sensibilities and question social ills In its postcolonial incarnations as the traditional subject areas were informed by critical and linguistic theories language arts subject areas were less often used as they were understood to offer opportunities to analyse their functions as apology for leaders coopting the young and pacifying dissent but less often used to teach second language skills Language Arts curricula arising since the 1980s have increasingly embraced authentic voices styles and genres Contemporary Language Arts curricula use literature to teach reading based and communication skills in conjunction with critical and creative thinking The movement of English language education beyond native English shores has placed Language Arts into a World Englishes frame and therefore its curricula have included the teaching ethics civics and intercultural sensitivity The explosion of media and digital communications of the 1990s led to the adoption of media literacy as a crucial Language Arts skill As digital innovations continue to impact the teaching of English Language Arts has adopted multiliteracies These developments are represented in the papers included in this volume Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts Douglas Fisher,Diane Lapp,2017-11-06
