The Oceanic Feeling J.M Masson, 2012-12-06 By way of a personal note I can reveal to the reader that I was led to Sanskrit by an exposure to Indian philosophy while still a child These early mystical interests gave way in the university to scholarly pursuits and through reading the works of Franklin Edgerton Louis Renou and Etienne Lamotte I was introduced to the scientific study of the past to philology and the academic study of an ancient literature In this period I wrote a number of books on Sanskrit aesthetics concentrating on the sophisticated Indian notions of suggestion This work has culminated in a three volume study of the Dhvanyaloka and the Dhvanyalokalocana for the Harvard Oriental Series Eventually I found that I wanted to broaden my concern with India to learn what was at the universal core of my studies and what could be of interest to everyone In reading Indian literature I came across so many bizarre tales and ideas that seemed incomprehensible and removed from the concerns of everyday life that I became troubled Vedantic ideas of the world as a dream for example to which I had been particularly partial seemed grandiose and megalomaniac I turned away with increasing scepticism from what I felt to be the hysterical outpourings of mystical and religious fanaticism Le Guide Musical, 1905 Piaget Before Piaget Fernando Vidal, 1994 In his detailed account of Jean Piaget's childhood and adolescence Neuchâtel Vidal reveals a little known Piaget a youth whose struggle to reconcile science and faith adds a new dimension to our understanding of the great psychologist's life thought and work Books and Library Notes Mississippi State University, 1964 The French Review James Frederick Mason, Hélène Harvitt, 1970 The Living Age, 1922
