Singing for Themselves Patricia Spence Rudden,2009-03-26 Singing for Themselves Essays on Women in Popular Music is a fresh look at a topic that has attracted increasing interest in recent years In this collection scholars from a number of disciplines look at various artists and movements and come to some new conclusions about the ways in which female artists have contributed to the past four decades of pop rock blues and punk From new looks at major artists Etta James Laura Nyro and Patti Smith to later figures Ferron Björk and Melissa Etheridge these chapters suggest new ways to view and hear music that is already part of our culture Essays on the Indigo Girls Dixie Chicks and Destiny's Child prove that the girl groups tradition is alive and well but with additional new dimensions and a three essay section on Joan Jett and the Riot Grrrls phenomenon sheds new light on their implications for feminist artistic expression The final piece an annotated bibliography of academic writing on women in rock helps make this collection a useful addition to the library of students of popular music while the solid research and accessibility of the text make this a good choice for the general reader as well as the seasoned scholar If you think that adoration of certain pop music is a guilty pleasure not worthy of higher intellectual aspirations then Singing For Themselves offers absolution It's far from trivial to ponder the Tao of Canadian singer Ferron the classical allusions of Laura Nyro's lyrics the postfeminist booty shaking of Destiny's Child or the historical milieu that turned Jamesetta Hawkins into blues great Etta James Reading these essays made me want to go right back to the music feeling wiser yes but also validated in the desire to go as deep as any song or singer can take me Michele Kort author of Soul Picnic The Music and Passion of Laura Nyro and senior editor at Ms magazine I've read Singing for Themselves Essays on Women in Popular Music and am happy to provide an endorsement Singing for Themselves is a consistently interesting collection of new essays on women and popular music The collection is all the more welcome for being so current It mixes essays on recent phenomena such as electronic punk group Le Tigre and the Dixie Chicks stirring of political controversy with new perspectives on canonical figures like Patti Smith or Etta James The essays gathered here are written with clear commitments but all are marked by care and scholarly rigour I found the interdisciplinary breadth of Singing for Themselves refreshing new avenues for research are opened up here and new theoretical paradigms are explored Will Straw PhD Acting Director McGill Institute for the Study of Canada Associate Professor Department of Art History and Communication Studies
