Writing in Austria presents a gathering of writers from several generations who have published a remarkable range of works in recent decades. The result is a diverse portrait of Jewish experience in Austria since the Second World War. Dagmar C. G. Lorenz has assembled an extraordinary roster of literary talents ranging from authors born in the early decades of this century to writers born after the Shoah. The volume maps a complex tradition of Jewish discourse marked by a profound awareness of the literary past by the failure of a long anticipated Austrian Jewish symbiosis and by the unparalleled tragedy of the Shoah. It is a modern tradition that has made an essential contribution to Austria's literary history while remaining in Lorenz's words distinct and unassimilated. Through her belief in the Almighty and her courage to face challenges, she manages to do something for her future husband Marvin Steinberg in the process. After she and Marvin partner with a group of Americans to build a dream city on the shore of the Mediterranean, they head for Yamit where they unwittingly become a part of Israel's history. After 1945, Jewish writing in German was almost unimaginable and then only in reference to the Shoah. Only in the 1980s, after a period of mourning, silence and processing of the trauma, did a new Jewish literature evolve in Germany and Austria. This volume focuses on the re-emergence of a lively Jewish cultural scene in the German-speaking countries and the various cultural forms of expression that have developed around it. Topics include current debates such as the emergence of a post-Waldheim Jewish discourse in Austria and Jewish responses to German unification and the Gulf wars. Other significant themes addressed are the memorialization of the Holocaust in Berlin and Vienna the uses of Kafka in contemporary German literature and the German and American Jewish dialogue as representative of both the history of exile and the globalization of postmodern civilization The volume is enhanced by contributions from some of the most significant representatives of German Jewish writing today such as Esther Dischereit Barbara Honigmann Jeanette Lander and Doron Rabinovici The result is a lively dialogue between European and North American scholars and writers that captures the complexity and dynamism of Jewish culture in Germany and Austria at the turn of the twenty first century Book Review Digest, 1999
