Lovers Discourse Fragments:

A Lover's Discourse Roland Barthes, 2002 May be the most detailed painstaking anatomy of desire that we are ever likely to see or need again An ecstatic celebration of love and language Washington Post The language we use when we are in love is not a language we speak It is a language addressed to ourselves and to our imaginary beloved It is a language of solitude of mythology of what Barthes calls an image repertoire Reviving the notion of the amorous subject beyond psychological or clinical enterprises Barthes A Lover's Discourse is a book for everyone who has ever been in love or indeed thought themselves to be immune to its power A Lover's Discourse Roland Barthes, 1979-06-01 Barthes's most popular and unusual performance as a writer is A Lover's Discourse a writing out of the discourse of love This language primarily the complaints and reflections of the lover when alone not exchanges of a lover with his or her partner is unfashionable Thought it is spoken by millions of people diffused in our popular romances and television programs as well as in serious literature there is no institution that explores maintains modifies judges repeats and otherwise assumes responsibility for this discourse Writing out the figures of a neglected discourse Barthes surprises us in A Lover's Discourse by making love in its most absurd and sentimental forms an object of interest Jonathan Culler Fragments D'un Discours Amoureux. English . a Lover's Discourse : Fragments Roland Barthes, 1979 A Lover's Discourse Professor Roland Barthes, 2010-07 Traditional Chinese edition of A Lover's Discourse Fragments A study of the heart and the discourses that occur when a lover is on his or her own apart from the other person Special Issue: Roland Barthes' Fragments of a Lover's Discourse Patrick Ffrench, Timothy Mathews, 2023 The intertextuality of Roland Barthes's "The Lover's Discourse" in Jeffrey Eugenides novel "The Marriage Plot" Olena Brandes, 2022-08-31 Seminar paper from the year 2021 in the subject Literature Comparative Literature grade 1.7 University of Göttingen language English abstract The aim of this paper is to explore the different intertextual links between the two literary works While the main character Madeleine deconstructs Barthes's deconstruction of love in her term paper and applies it to her own life the narrator deconstructs Madeleine's love life and this paper should deconstruct the narration's deconstruction of the relationship If the concept of love is to be seen as an architectural building consisting of a foundation roofs walls floors stairs openings standing in a specific location and having a personal interior design it can be disassembled into its individual parts Even though most buildings are different and fewest are identical they all share the same basic elements they are built of The French philosopher Roland Barthes breaks down the concept of love into its fragments in his work A Lover's Discourse 1977 34 years later the American novelist Jeffrey Eugenides publishes a romance novel The Marriage Plot 2011 where Barthes's fragments are a reference point to the narrator Some of these fragments are direct quotes but most remain unsaid lying under the surface Finding all fragments would go beyond the constraints of this paper Thus the focus should be on only a few fragments In particular focusing on the most prominent main character's perspective while the plot contains two more discourses on love from the main character's love interests Paralyse John Culbert, 2010-01-01 Modernity has long been equated with motion travel and change from Marx's critical diagnoses of economic instability to the Futurists glorification of speed Likewise metaphors of travel serve widely in discussions of empire cultural contact translation and globalization from Deleuze's nomadology to James Clifford's traveling cultures John Culbert in contrast argues that the key texts of modernity and postmodernity may be approached through figures and narratives of paralysis motion is no more defining of modern travel than fixations resistance and impasse concepts and figures of travel he posits must be rethought in this more static light Focusing on the French and Francophone context in which paralyzed travel is a persistent motif Culbert also offers new insights into French critical theory and its often paradoxical figures of mobility from Blanchot's pas au del and Barthes's dérive to Derrida's aporias and Glissant's diversions Here we see that paralysis is not merely the failure of transport but rather the condition in which travel by coming to a crisis calls into question both mobility and stasis in the language of desire and the order of knowledge Paralyse provides a close analysis of the rhetoric of empire and the economy of tourism precisely at their points of breakdown which in turn enables a deconstruction of master narratives of exploration conquest and exoticism A reassessment of key authors of French modernity from Nerval and Gautier to Fromentin Paulhan Beckett Leiris and Boudjedra Paralyse also constitutes a new theoretical intervention in debates on travel translation ethics and postcoloniality Encounters with the Other Martin Calder, 2021-12-28 Encounters with the Other brings together a range of eighteenth century texts in which the exploration of lingua incognita figures as a prominent topos Drawing mostly on a corpus of French texts but also including a number of works in English Martin Calder attempts to realign well known texts with more canonically marginalized works The originality of the perspectives offered by this book lies in the comparative reading of works not previously conjoined Encounters with otherness are marked by a transgression of the limits of language occurring when language becomes alien or unfamiliar Alterity may take various forms a foreign language a familiar language marked by the traits of foreignness something unrecognizable as language or even one's own language breaking down as in madness Unfamiliar language may be produced by a foreigner by a child who cannot yet speak in extreme cases by something unrecognizably human in all cases by an agency somehow marked by difference Narratives of encounters with otherness have written into them narratives of the discovery of the self Implicitly informed by the reading techniques associated with literary theory Encounters with the Other offers an insightful commentary on issues surrounding colonialism cultural difference gender and the importance of language to identity Martin Calder's work challenges certain Eurocentric notions and exposes the problematic links between Enlightenment rationality and colonial expansion This book is of interest both to undergraduate students and to academic researchers and to a more general readership concerned with understanding the relationship between Europe the West and a wider world Universal (In the Realm of the Sensible) Dorothea Olkowski, 2007-03-02 The Universal In the realm of the sensible Beyond Continental Philosophy proposes a radical new philosophical system that moves from ontology to ethics Dorothea Olkowski develops the concept of an ontological unconscious a connection arising from our sensible relation to the world that conditions encounters with the environment and with others This fundamental ontology rethinks the space time relations opened by Irigaray s notion of the interval Bergson s recollection Merleau Ponty s idea of the flesh and Deleuze s plane of immanence Writing in an original style inspired by literature and the arts Olkowski locates a realm of the senses a field of vulnerability felt as pleasures and pains This presents an aesthetic sense of something universal to all human kind as well as to the organic and inorganic world In addition to this proposal for a wider ontology the relation between traditional ontologies and politics is examined as a means of opening politics beyond a no exit or limit cycle Instead a multiplicity of self organized emergent perspectives emerges eliminating the need for the connections conjunctions and disjunctions of the Kantian paradigm at work in contemporary continental philosophy This is a timely controversial and important book that will contribute enormously to the study of Deleuze and Continental Philosophy Discourses of Desire Linda S. Kauffman,1988 Kauffman looks at a neglected genre the love letter written by literary heroines Tracing the development of the genre from Ovid to the twentieth century novel she explores the important implications of these amatory discourses for an understanding of fictive representation in general Literature, Art and the Pursuit of Decay in

Twentieth-Century France Timothy Mathews,2006-01-19 Mathews examines work by writers and painters working in France in the twentieth century Interculturality in Fragments Fred Dervin,2022-10-28 This book continues the author s long term reflections over 20 years of scholarship and experience in intercultural communication education around the fascinating and yet contestable notion of interculturality in education As an unstable and polysemic notion interculturality deserves to be opened up again and again and there is a need to engage with it continuously observing critiquing and problematizing its complexities This book urges researchers students and interculturalists to take the time to think carefully and deeply about interculturality and to find inspiration beyond the dominating Western ideological world of intercultural research and education This book starts from short fragments written by the author for himself over a period of one year In these short statements and notes about interculturality the author reflects creatively on the questions he had in mind at the time of writing and offers some temporary answers which in turn are questioned and revised Over the 1000 fragments that the author wrote he selected about 100 for which he wrote commentaries referring to and reviewing current research and debates on interculturality in the process One of the specificities of the book is to be highly multidisciplinary to help us get used to looking for inspiration in other fields of research and creativity The fragments can be read randomly the reader may open the book at any page and pick any fragment The author suggests reading each individual fragment first and then the accompanying explanatory texts While reading them the reader is also invited to reflect on any potential addition to what the author wrote anything they might disagree with anything they would have wanted to discuss with the author Questions have been added at the end of each chapter for readers to reflect on and to enrich their own criticality and reflexivity The book serves as continuous guidance for engaging with interculturality Mind the Ghost Sonja Stojanovic,2023-01-16 Spectrality disrupts and fissures our conceptions of time unmaking and complicating binaries such as life and death presence and absence the visible and the invisible and literality and metaphor A contribution to current conversations in memory studies and spectrality studies Mind the Ghost is an experiment in reading ghosts otherwise It explores through contemporary fiction in French sites of textual haunting that take the form of names lists objects photographs and stains The book turns to Jacques Derrida and Hélène Cixous to rethink what constitutes and functions as a ghost proposing that this figure solicits readers investment in mnemonic practices Considering the memories and legacies of violence that have marked the greater part of the twentieth century in Algeria Bosnia Croatia France and Rwanda this book traces absences disappearances and reappearances textual omissions and untimely irruptions to posit literature's power to both remember and communicate beyond the bounds of chronological time Through close readings of recent fiction by Kaouther Adimi Jakuta Alikavazovic Gaïl Faye Jérôme Ferrari Patrick Modiano Lydie Salvayre Leïla Sebbar and Cécile Wajsbrot Mind the Ghost articulates the mechanisms through which readers themselves become haunted Dialectical Readings Stephen N. Dunning,2010-11-01

Love's Litany Kevin Kopelson,1994 This is an extensive analysis of the relation of erotic philosophy to homosexuality in the modern period The book focuses on homoerotic mis appropriations and subversions of homoerotic conceptions of romantic love in texts by eight authors Oscar Wilde André Gide Ronald Firbank Virginia Woolf Gertrude Stein Marguerite Yourcenar Mary Renault and Roland Barthes In doing so the author both positions these authors as experimental and influential erotic theorists and protests against the critical undervaluation of love as opposed to desire in the construction of sexuality as we know it Teaching Postdramatic Theatre Glenn D'Cruz,2018-04-06 This book explores the concept and vocabulary of postdramatic theatre from a pedagogical perspective It identifies some of the major anxieties and paradoxes generated by teaching postdramatic theatre through practice with reference to the aesthetic cultural and institutional pressures that shape teaching practices It also presents a series of case studies that identify the pedagogical fault lines that expose the power relations inherent in teaching with a focus on the higher education sector as opposed to actor training institutions It uses auto ethnography performance analysis and critical theory to assist university teachers involved in directing theatre productions to deepen their understanding of the concept of postdramatic theatre Primal Scenes Ned Lukacher,1986

Primal Scenes is concerned with those elements in the thought of Freud and Heidegger which make us continue to regard them as our contemporaries It seeks to reassert their radical potential which the author believes has been minimized as critics celebrate the radicality of Lacan Derrida and others Angelic Echoes Ralph William Sarkonak,2000-01-01 In this study Ralph Sarkonak examines many aspects of Guibert's life and production the connection between his books and his photography his complex relationship with Roland Barthes and with his friend and mentor Michel Foucault The Visible and the Revealed Jean-Luc Marion,2009-08-25 In The Visible and the Revealed Jean-Luc Marion brings together his most significant papers dealing with the relationship between philosophy and theology Covering the ground from some of his earliest writings on this topic to very recent reflections they are particularly useful for understanding the progression of Marion's thought on such topics as the saturated phenomenon and the possibility of something like Christian Philosophy The book contains his seminal pieces on the saturated phenomenon and on the gift although the essays also explore more recent developments of his thought on these topics Several chapters explicitly explore the boundary line between philosophy and theology or their mutual enrichment and influence In one of the final pieces The Banality of Saturation Marion considers some of the most recent objections brought against his notion of the saturated phenomenon and responds to them in detail suggesting that saturated phenomena are neither as rare nor as inflexible as often assumed The work contains two chapters not previously available in English and brings together several other pieces previously translated but now difficult to find For readers interested in the relation between the two disciplines this is indispensable reading The Ballad in American Popular Music David Metzger, 2017-09-21 The first book to explore the ballad's history and emotional appeal surveying seventy years of the genre in modern America
