disagree? George Arthur Lehmann, 2014 Why do economists disagree Economists disagree because they are bounded by different research methodologies and certain methodological simplifications simplifications which we can first see in the writings of classical economists It is the aim of this writing to argue that the methodological simplifications which we find in the writings of classical economists are still a source of controversy as many contemporary economists still research in accordance with generic simplifications while other academics have progressed _is is why economists disagree with each other Freedom for Capital, Not People Matthias Schmelzer, 2025-06-24 The definitive history of neoliberal monetary

Climate Liberalism Jonathan H. Adler, 2023-01-31 Climate Liberalism examines the potential and limitations of classical liberal approaches to pollution control and climate change Some successful environmental strategies such as the use of catch shares for fisheries instream water rights and tradable emission permits draw heavily upon the classical liberal intellectual tradition and its emphasis on property rights and competitive markets This intellectual tradition has been less helpful to date in the development or design of climate change policies Climate Liberalism aims to help fill the gap in the academic literature examining the extent to which classical liberal principles including an emphasis on property rights decentralized authority and dynamic markets can inform the debate over climate change policies The contributors in this book approach the topic from a range of perspectives and represent multiple academic disciplines Chapters consider the role of property rights and common law legal systems in controlling pollution the extent to which competitive markets backed by legal rules encourage risk minimization and adaptation and how to identify the sorts of policy interventions that may help address climate change in ways that are consistent with liberal values

Man, Economy, and State with Power and Market Murray N. Rothbard, 2012-10-23 The era of modern economics emerged with the publication of Carl Menger's seminal work Principles of Economics in 1871 In this slim book Menger set forth the correct approach to theoretical research in economics and elaborated some of its immediate implications In particular Menger sought to identify the causal laws determining the prices that he observed being paid daily in actual markets

4 His stated goal was to formulate a realistic price theory that would provide an integrated explanation of the formation of market phenomena valid for all times and places

5 Menger's investigations led him to the discovery that all market prices wage rates rents and interest rates could ultimately be traced back to the choices and actions of consumers striving to satisfy their most important wants by economizing scarce means or economic goods Thus for Menger all prices rents wage and interest rates were the outcome of the value judgments of individual consumers who chose between concrete units of different goods according to their subjective values or marginal utilities to use the term coined by his student Friedrich Wieser With this insight was born modern economics

Austrian Economics in America Karen I. Vaughn, 1998-01-28 This book examines the development of the ideas of the new Austrian school from its beginnings in Vienna in the 1870s to the present It focuses primarily on showing how the coherent theme that emerges from the thought of Carl Menger Ludwig von Mises Friedrich Hayek Ludwig Lachmann Israel Kirzner and a variety of new younger Austrians is an examination of the implications of time and ignorance or processes and knowledge for economic theory Strategy Without Design Robert C. H. Chia, Robin Holt, 2009-10-08 A unique analysis of strategy in organizations that shows how successful strategies may result without planning or design

The Theory of Dynamic Efficiency Jesús Huerta de Soto, 2009 This book gathers a collection of multidisciplinary essays by Jess Huerta de Soto examining the dynamic processes of social cooperation which characterize the market with particular emphasis on the role of both entrepreneurship and institutions
