The First Sourcebook on Asian Research in Mathematics Education - 2 Volumes Bharath Sriraman, Jinfa Cai, Kyeonghwa Lee, Lianghuo Fan, Yoshinori Shimizu, Chap Sam Lim, K. Subramaniam, 2015-08-01 Mathematics and Science education have both grown in fertile directions in different geographic regions Yet the mainstream discourse in international handbooks does not lend voice to developments in

cognition curriculum teacher development assessment policy and implementation of mathematics and science in many countries Paradoxically in spite of advances in information technology and the flat earth syndrome old distinctions and biases between different groups of researcher s persist In addition limited accessibility to conferences and journals also contribute to this problem The International Sourcebooks in Mathematics and Science Education focus on under represented regions of the world and provides a platform for researchers to showcase their research and development in areas within mathematics and science education The First Sourcebook on Asian Research in Mathematics Education China Korea Singapore Japan Malaysia and India provides the first synthesized treatment of mathematics education that has both developed and is now prominently emerging in the Asian and South Asian world The book is organized in sections coordinated by leaders in mathematics education in these countries and editorial teams for each country affiliated with them The purpose of unique sourcebook is to both consolidate and survey the established body of research in these countries with findings that have influenced ongoing research agendas and informed practices in Europe North America and other countries in addition to serving as a platform to showcase existing research that has shaped teacher education curricula and policy in these Asian countries The book will serve as a standard reference for mathematics education researchers policy makers practitioners and students both in and outside Asia and complement the Nordic and NCTM perspectives

Secondary Analysis of the TIMSS Data David F. Robitaille,Albert E. Beaton,2005-12-19 Researchers who participate in IEA studies have a unique opportunity to work collaboratively with their counterparts from many different countries and disciplinary backgrounds over a period of several years on questions of shared academic interest Once the data for a given study have been collected and the first round of international reports published however opportunities for that kind of collaboration tend to be much less frequent A major strength of IEA studies compared to other large scale international studies is that they are classroom based thereby making it possible for researchers and policy makers to investigate linkages between students achievement and a wide range of variables Those variables could be related to instructional practices to students and teachers background and attitudes to school organizational patterns or to opportunity to learn to name a few The research questions that TIMSS was designed to address make it clear that these kinds of relational multi variate analyses were among the major goals of the project The international reports of the TIMSS 95 results that were published by the International Study Center at Boston College between 1996 and 1999 were intended to provide comprehensive coverage of the basic findings of the study They were not intended to provide in depth analyses of research and policy issues instead their main purpose was to make the basic findings of the study widely available in a timely manner This they certainly did
