Nursing And Anthropology:

Anthropology and Nursing Pat Holden, Jenny Littlewood, 2015-07-03 Nursing has been described as the most natural female occupation of all embodying the so called feminine ideals of tenderness and caring Yet these ideals are juxtaposed with images of nurses as sex objects or as ruthlessly efficient harrieds How have these very different images been constructed And how do they relate to the reality of nursing the close contact with blood urine and faeces and the involvement with the rites of birth illness and death This book first published in 1991 explores the alternative ways different societies have developed to reconcile these contradictions Using contemporary historical and cross cultural case material the contributors trace the historical development of the role and investigate the expected qualities of nurses within different cultural settings such as India Uganda and Japan They look closely at the nurse as a social construct and demonstrate how the stereotypes relate to a particular society's notions of gender Designed primarily for anthropologists and sociologists interested in health illness and systems of health care this book challenges some of the myths of traditional nursing studies and provides an original perspective on doctor nurse patient relationships Nursing and Anthropology Madeleine M. Leininger, 1970

Anthropology of Nursing Karen Holland, 2019-09-09 This book aims to introduce nurses and other healthcare professionals to how anthropology can help them understand nursing as a profession and as a culture Drawing on key anthropological concepts the book facilitates the understanding and critical consideration of nursing practice as seen across a wide range of health care contexts and which impacts the delivery of appropriate care for service users Considering the fields in which nurses work the book argues that in order for nurses to optimize their roles as deliverers of patient care they must not only engage with the realities of the cultural world of the patient but also that of their own multi professional cultural environment The only book currently in the field on anthropology of nursing this book will be a valuable resource for nursing students at all academic levels especially where they can pursue specific modules in the subject as well as those other students pursuing medical anthropology courses As well as this it will be an essential text for those post graduate students who wish to consider alternative world views from anthropology and their application in nursing and healthcare in addition to their undertaking ethnographic research to explore nursing in all its fields of practice Reference Sources for Transcultural Health & Nursing Madeleine M. Leininger, 1984 Over 2300 entries to selected literature and films intended for health personnel particularly nurses References provide theoretical clinical and research information Covers Western and non Western cultures Most of the titles were derived from the field of anthropology Classified arrangement Entries give bibliographical information No index

Effect of Operational Variables on Nitrogen Transformations in Duckweed Stabilization Ponds Julia Rosa Caicedo

Bejarano, 2005-03-24 There is an urgent need to develop and improve low cost technologies for wastewater treatment Simultaneously treating wastewater and producing duckweed in a pond system is therefore an attractive solution contributing to both environmental protection and food production Duckweed has excellent qualities a high protein content a high growth rate and is an easy crop to handle The small plant turns nitrogen from wastewater into a food source This thesis reports on the effect of different operational variables like anaerobic pre treatment the combination of algae and duckweed ponds and pond depth Improved nitrogen removal was obtained through the combination of duckweed ponds with algae ponds Duckweed pond systems could be designed with shallow depth without affecting nitrogen removal efficiency This research is the result of the cooperative effort between the EIDENAR Univalle Cali Colombia and the UNESCO IHE Institute for Water Education in Delft the Netherlands
