Medieval Death Paul Binski, 1996 In this richly illustrated volume Paul Binski provides an absorbing account of the social theological and cultural issues involved in death and dying in Europe from the end of the Roman Empire to the early sixteenth century He draws on textual archaeological and art historical sources to examine pagan and Christian attitudes toward the dead the aesthetics of death and the body burial ritual and mortuary practice Illustrated throughout with fascinating and sometimes disturbing images Binski's account weaves together close readings of a variety of medieval thinkers He discusses the impact of the Black Death on late medieval art and examines the development of the medieval tomb showing the changing attitudes toward the commemoration of the dead between late antiquity and the late Middle Ages In one chapter Binski analyzes macabre themes in art and literature including the Dance of Death which reflect the medieval obsession with notions of humility penitence and the dangers of bodily corruption In another he studies the progress of the soul after death through the powerful descriptions of Heaven Hell and Purgatory in Dante and other writers and through portrayals of the Last Judgment and the Apocalypse in sculpture and large scale painting
