Individual Choice and Economic Growth George Bush, 1990 Preparing Today's Students for Tomorrow's Jobs in Metropolitan America Laura W. Perna, 2012-10-29 Education long the key to opportunity in the United States has become simply essential to earning a decent living By 2018 63 percent of all jobs will require at least some postsecondary education or training Teachers and civic leaders stress the value of study through high school and beyond but to an alarmingly large segment of America s population including a disproportionate number of ethnic and racial minorities higher education seems neither obtainable nor relevant Preparing Today s Students for Tomorrow s Jobs in Metropolitan America edited by Laura W Perna offers useful insights into how to bridge these gaps and provide urban workers with the educational qualifications and skills they need for real world jobs Preparing Today s Students for Tomorrow s Jobs in Metropolitan America probes more deeply than recent reports on the misalignment between workers training and employers requirements Written by researchers in education and urban policy this volume takes a comprehensive approach It informs our understanding of the measurement and definition of the learning required by employers It examines the roles that different educational sectors and providers play in workforce readiness It analyzes the institutional practices and public policies that promote the educational preparation of today s students for tomorrow s jobs The volume also sheds light on several recurring questions such as what is the right amount of education and what should be the relative emphasis on general versus specific or occupational education and training Ensuring that today s students have the education and training to meet future career demands is critical to the economic and social well being of individuals cities and the nation as a whole With recommendations for institutional leaders and public policymakers as well as future research this volume takes important steps toward realizing this goal Leadership in Independent Africa, Six Decades On Kofi Anani,2024-02-22 In this open access book Kofi Anani finds ways forward through the Blended Representation Principle BRP which stipulates that power be shared between leaders selected on the basis of Western democratic ideals and leaders chosen on the basis of traditional African norms and conventions Drawing on his research and professional experience Anani shows how incorporating the BRP into African leadership and governance thinking would encourage more voluntary public participation in politics guarantee transparency and accountability in decision making particularly when it comes to the use of public resources and ultimately encourage more public confidence in leaders Anani also provides concrete suggestions for how to achieve all this not through quick fixes but rather through educational campaigns directed at public officials and through new communities of learning and practice designed to champion the BRP in villages schools workplaces places of worship and other social organizations This book is a must read for all scholars and students of postcolonial governance and leadership and it is of keen interest to anyone concerned with how Western style state making might ultimately find a balance with other indigenous modes of social organization The ebook editions of this book are available open access under a CC BY NC ND 4 0 licence on bloomsburycollections.com Open access was funded by the Bloomsbury Open Collections Library Collective

14-18 - A New Vision for Secondary Education Kenneth Baker, 2013-01-24 Former Secretary of State for Education Kenneth Baker claims that secondary education has become a five year programme with a single narrow aim to prepare pupils for high stakes GCSE exams at 16 From 2015 all young people will be legally required to stay in education or training until they are 18 Kenneth Baker sees this as a historic opportunity to re think the aims and structure of English education He argues that the National Curriculum should extend only to the age of 14 and that there should be four distinct pathways from 14 18 to take account of young people s emerging interests talents and ambitions Liberal Arts Technical Sports and Creative Arts and Career All pathways will provide a broad education but each will have a distinctive character matched to the talents and ambitions of individual students In 14 18 A New Vision for Secondary Education Kenneth Baker builds a compelling case for reform with contributions from a range of educationalists who draw on the history of English education practice elsewhere in the world and their experiences An essential read for anyone interested in the future of secondary education
