Paul Valéry And The Voice Of Desire Legenda S:

Paul Valéry and the Voice of Desire Kirsteen H. R. Anderson, 2000 The concept of voice was of central importance to Valéry It was representative of the most intimate aspects of the self the means by which we achieve consciousness and affirm meaning the knowledge of a lost unity and the desire to recapture it Interweaving analysis of Valéry's poetry and prose with wider critical concerns Kirsteen Anderson shows that voice is central not only to the study of Valéry's writing but also to a range of issues in contemporary critical enquiry notably autobiography psychoanalysis and feminism Twentieth-Century French Poetry Hugues Azérad, Peter Collier, 2010-05-20 Modern French poetry is unique in the boldness and creativity of its experiments in form and genre from classical verse to vers libre from calligrammes to prose poems and poésies sonores This anthology includes 32 poems by French and francophone poets each followed by an accessibly written detailed commentary The different approaches adopted in the close readings by specialists in their field reflect the major trends in current literary criticism and theory A foreword by one of France's foremost poets Yves Bonnefoy a general introduction and an afterword provide a helpful theoretical framework for the study of modern poetry An extensive bibliography concise biographies of the poets and a glossary of literary terms are included Students of French and of comparative literature will gain a deeper understanding of the development of French verse and of the artistic movements especially in the visual arts which have shaped twentieth century French poetry Modernism and Style B. Hutchinson, 2011-09-01 Modernism is fundamentally determined by its relationship to its own notions of style oscillating between the poles of pure style and purely style this traces the stylistic self conceptualization of modernism from Schopenhauer and Flaubert in the 1850s through Nietzsche and the symbolists in the 1880s to the high modernists of the 1920s Reading Media Theory Brett Mills, David M. Barlow, 2014-06-11 What does the Frankfurt School have to say about the creative industries Does the spread of Google prove we now live in an information society How is Madonna an example of postmodernism How new is new media Does the power of Facebook mean we're all media makers now This groundbreaking volume part reader part textbook helps you to engage thoroughly with some of the major voices that have come to define the landscape of theory in media studies from the public sphere to postmodernism from mass communication theory to media effects from production to reception and beyond But much more than this by providing assistance and questions directly alongside the readings it crucially helps you develop the skills necessary to become a critical informed and analytical reader Each reading is supported on the facing page by author annotations which provide comments dissect the arguments explain key ideas and terminology make references to other relevant material and pose questions that emerge from the text Key features Opening chapters What is theory and What is reading bring alive the importance of both as key parts of media scholarship Pre reading substantial Introductory sections set each text and its author in context and show the relevance of the reading to contemporary culture Post reading Reflection sections summarise each reading's key points and suggests further areas to explore and think about 4 types of annotations help you engage with the reading context content structure and writing style as well as questions to provoke further thought Split into 4 sections Reading theory Key thinkers and schools Approaches and Media Theory in context New to the second edition New chapters on New Media and Audiences as Producers Reading Media Theory will assist you in developing close reading and analytic skills It will also increase your ability to outline key theories and debates assess different case studies critically link theoretical approaches to a particular historical context and to structure and present an argument As such it will be essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students of media studies cultural studies communication studies the sociology of the media popular culture and other related subjects      Colourworks Susan Harrow, 2020-12-10

How do modern writers write colour How do today's readers respond to the invitation to think colour as they read poetry and art writing and explore paintings To what extent can critical thought on colour in visual media illuminate the textual life of colour These are some of the lines of enquiry pursued in this bold new study of modern poetry and art writing in French where colour Susan Harrow argues is integral to the exploration of ethics ekphrasis objects bodies landscape and interiority The question of colour in a variety of disciplines and media has provoked debate from Aristotle to Goethe and from Baudelaire to Derek Jarman If the past twenty years have witnessed a colour turn in contemporary cultural studies and screen research colour values in literary and textual media are often elided or simply overlooked Colourworks tackles this lacuna in the study of modern poetry and art writing in French revealing the integral role of colour in the work of three iconic French writers in the modern tradition Stéphane Mallarmé Paul Valéry and Yves Bonnefoy This book spans the broad modern period from the 1860s to the early twentieth century in taking an exploratory approach to the visibility of the verbal medium through an adventurous reading of text and image Harrow uncovers how colour moves and morphs in texts as it challenges the traditionalist containments of chromatic symbolism Beyond its primary area of investigation in modern poetry and art writing in French this richly colour illustrated study has significant interdisciplinary implications conceptual methodological and practical for the study of visibility in humanities research from literature studies to material and visual culture studies      Essays in French Literature, 2002      Edmond Jabès Steven Jaron, 2003 The Jewish writer Edmond Jabès born in Cairo in 1912 wrote explicitly from the perspective of exile once he arrived in France after the Suez crisis However in this book Steven Jaron argues that exile was a predominant theme in Jabès work even before he left Egypt

Naturalism Redressed Hannah Thompson, 2004 References to clothing in the nineteenth century naturalist novel have traditionally been read merely as examples of descriptive detail Thompson in her groundbreaking study on Zola rescues clothing from the margins of representation and draws on a wide range of twentieth century feminist and queer theory to demonstrate that clothing troubles such binary pairs as masculine and feminine normal and perverse natural and artificial that lie at the foundations of Zolaian naturalism The author's investment in the signifying power of clothing in the Rougon Macquart is such that the novels can no longer be read as unproblematic illustrations of literary naturalism in fact its intensity demands that Zola's relationship to literature and his descriptions of Second Empire society be reassessed

Reading Media Theory David Maxwell Barlow, Brett Mills, 2009 This unique part reader part textbook brings core primary media theory readings to the student whilst assisting them with reading understanding decoding and deconstructing the material The dual functionality of the book helps students to familiarise themselves with core texts and develop the necessary critical reading skills and confidence required to engage with the subject The text is annotated throughout and explores context content structure and writing style in order to bring theory to life for the reader The book is split into four sections namely Reading theory Key thinkers and schools Approaches and Media Theory in context This structure is adopted in order to encourage students to familiarise themselves with the material and the progressive pedagogical apparatus guides them to approach it gradually whilst developing their skill set The provision of questions to provoke further thought helps to encourage the student to read more widely around the subject and engage with core concepts of both theory and learning Ultimately the text acts as a how to read handbook for media theory and is structured so that students can learn the literature as well as learning how to approach it

Eugenio Montale Éanna Ó Ceallacháin, 2001 This is an examination of the change in emphasis in the poetry of Eugenio Montale in the post war period from high flown sentiments of a lyrical poet to ironic social commentator It places his body of work in its historical and ideological context and explores the poetic texts in detail
