The Cinema of Francesco Rosi Gaetana Marrone, 2020 Francesco Rosi is one of the great realist artists of post war Italian indeed post war world cinema In this book author Gaetana Marrone explores the rich visual language in which the Neapolitan filmmaker expresses the cultural icons that constitute his style and images Over the years Rosi has offered us films that trace an intricate path between the real and the fictive the factual and the imagined His films show an extraordinarily consistent formal balance while representing historical events as social emblems that examine shape and reflect the national self They rely on a labyrinthine narrative structure in which the sense of an enigma replaces the unidirectional path leading ineluctably to a designated end and solution Rosi's logical investigations are conducted by an omniscient eye and translated into a cinematic approach that embraces the details of material reality with the panoramic perspective of a dispassionate observer This book offers intertextual analyses within such fields as history politics literature and photography along with production information gleaned from Rosi's personal archives and interviews It examines Rosi's creative use of film as document and as spectacle It is also a study of the specific cinematic techniques that characterize Rosi's work and that visually compositionally express his vision of history and the elusive truth of past and present social and political realities

Fear of Freedom Carlo Levi, 2008 Carlo Levi was a painter writer and antifascist Italian from a Jewish family and his political activism forced him into exile for most of the Second World War While in exile he wrote Christ Stopped at Eboli a memoir and Fear of Freedom a philosophical meditation on humanity's flight from moral and spiritual autonomy and our resulting loss of self and creativity Brooding on what surely appeared to be the decline if not the fall of Europe Levi locates the human abdication of responsibility in organized religion and its ability to turn the sacred into the sacrificial In doing so he references the entire intellectual and cultural estate of Western civilization from the Bible and Greek mythology to Sigmund Freud and Carl Jung This edition features newly published pieces of Levi's artwork and publication of the work It also includes an introduction that discusses Levi's life and enduring legacy Fear of Freedom not only addresses a specific moment in history and a universal timeless condition but it is also a powerful indictment of our
