C. Buckland,K. F. Hartley,Valery Rigby,2017-06-30 Rossington Bridge lies next to the Roman road between Doncaster and Lincoln Excavations between 1956 1961 discovered eight pottery kilns a site of considerable significance The kilns and material from the waster heaps excavated lie on a site with at least fifteen other unexcavated kilns and ancillary structures lying either side of the Roman road The bulk of the finds clearly belong to the main period of activity on the site during the mid 2nd century when the mortarium potter Sarrius and his associates were involved in the production of mortaria parisian

The Battle of the Books Joseph M. Levine,2018-07-05 Joseph M Levine provides a witty and erudite account of one of the most celebrated chapters in English cultural history the acrimonious quarrel between the ancients and the moderns which Jonathan Swift dubbed the Battle of the Books The dispute that amused and excited the English world of letters from 1690 until the 1730s was Levine shows an installment in the long standing debate about the relationship of classical learning to modern life Levine argues that the debate was fundamentally a quarrel about the rival claims of history and literature concerning the proper way to understand the authors of the past He skillfully examines how both sides wrote their own brands of history The moderns led by Richard Bentley proposed that the modern inventions of classical scholarship and archaeology gave them a superior insight into the past the ancients marshaled by Jonathan Swift and Alexander Pope held out for a more direct imitation of antiquity and opposed the new scholarship with all the force of their satire and invective Levine demonstrates that the ancients and the moderns influenced each other in powerful ways and had much more in common than they knew Chronicling a critical episode in the development of modem scholarship The Battle of the Books illuminates the roots of present day controversies about the role of the classics in the curriculum and the place of the humanities in education Principles and Practice of Plumbing Samuel Stevens Hellyer,1898 Guide to Research in

Classical Art and Mythology Frances Dodds Van Keuren,1991 Learning to use the research tools to unravel the intricate terminology of classification of antiquities is a formidable task Van Keuren s work aims to enable students both to use these tools and to devise projects for their own research After a major reference is presented handbooks and monographs are successively identified in ways that suggest patterns of information These patterns will allow students to formulate hypotheses to undertake original research With use of the library collection original questions can be asked and answered
