National Identity and Educational Reform Elizabeth Anderson Worden, 2014-02-18 National identity in Moldova remains contested despite repeated attempts by governments historians and educators to cultivate a shared sense of national belonging through the development of history textbooks Concern over professional status and distrust of the government's motivations halted these reforms demonstrating that the success of such efforts greatly depends on teachers and citizens social memory and everyday lives This volume looks at educational reform and the struggle over national identity in the history classroom from the perspectives of five different groups elected politicians Ministry of Education officials textbook authors and historians teachers and students Each chapter explores the actors motivations and agendas regarding reform their role in promoting or obstructing the reform process and their opinions about the ensuing controversy Drawing on months of fieldwork and original research author Elizabeth Worden examines the importance of teachers and students in the success or failure of a reform initiative

Europe in the Classroom Simona Szakács, 2017-10-13 This book provides an unconventional account of post 1989 education reform in Romania By drawing on policy documentation interviews with key players qualitative data from everyday school contexts and extensive textbook analysis this groundbreaking study explores change within the Romanian education system as a process that institutionalises world culture through symbolic mediation of the concept Europe The book argues that the education system's structural and organisational evolution through time is decoupled from its self depiction by ultimately serving a nation building agenda It does so despite notable changes in the discourse reflecting increasingly transnational definitions of the mission of the school in the post 1989 era The book also suggests that the notions of nation and citizen institutionalised by the school are gradually being redefined as cosmopolitan matching post war patterns of post national affiliations on a worldwide level
